CHILLIN' IN THE COURTYARD. Students came back to school to find a new courtyard in which they could relax. Freshmen Audrey Trotria and Teskeka Monroe and Sophomore Comnisha Adam enjoy taking a break and talking to each other after lunch. "I like to talk and visit with boys after I eat my lunch," said Monroe.

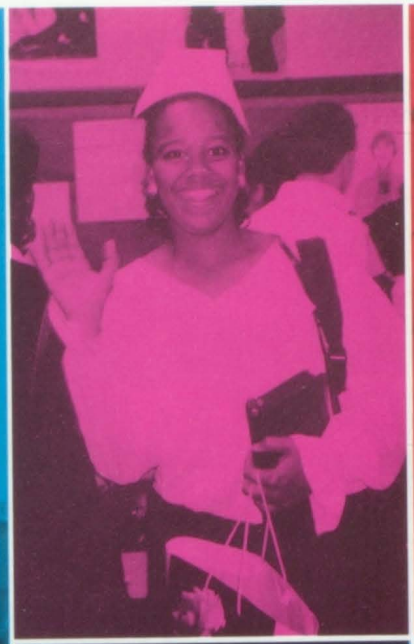
Now...

Back To Reality



Freshmen showed up, a little scared, a little excited, not knowing what to expect. Sophomores were ready to tackle the new year, just glad not to be Freshmen any more. Juniors knew the year wasn't going to be easy, especially those who had AP American History. Seniors: they were finally in charge, nothing stood between them and college... except graduation.

Everyone showed up with expectations, plans, and hopes for the 1994-95 year, then REALITY kicked in.

BIG FUN! The library is a happening place to hang out after school. These students spend all there free time reading Shakespeare, Longfellow, and volumes on ancient history. Sophomore Tina Hopkins said, "I love to spend my free time studying. It's very important to me."

Student Life
Reality Check

OPEN WIDE! Juniors Sabra Scoggin, Sarah Devan, and Cade Childers spent their freetime after school at McDonald's. "We don't have anything better to do after school," said Scoggin, "and I sure wouldn't spend my free time studying."

Reality Check!

1. E.I.P. was cancelled.
2. A gourmet restaurant opened in the cafeteria.
3. The school was commended for the best disciplinary record in Caddo Parish.
4. The administration drafted and enacted a flawless management plan for the students.
5. Couches were provided in the halls so students could make out between classes.

1. When would Ms. Fitzgerald give her ninety-nine percent speech?
2. Only if Sloppy Joes are considered fine cuisine.
3. There were as many security guards as teachers.
4. They could not even figure out where we should wait for the bell in the morning.
5. Who needs couches when there are beanbags in the English classes?

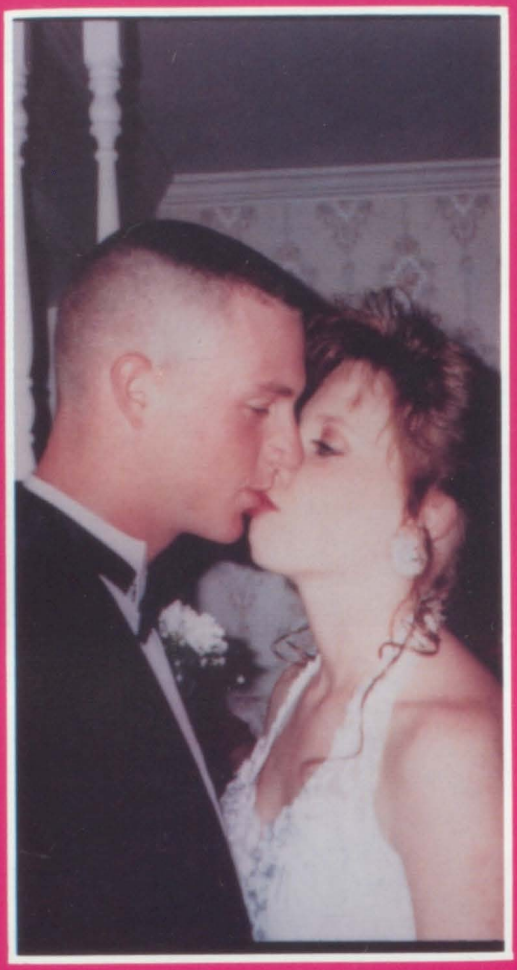
OVERWHELMED WITH ASTONISHMENT! Junior Karren Foster receives her nobility awards. "I was honored to be voted Prom Princess. I just could not believe it!"

PUCKER UP! After a good night kiss, Junior Shalane Johnson and date Jeremy Sikes say their good- byes.



To Hold On to the Night

STUDENTS DREAM OF THAT PERFECT PROM DATE

Imagine yourself engaged in a romantic candle light dinner, your favorite love tune played softly in the background, and the prom date of your dreams. Would that not be the perfect prom date?

As students, deck-out in the finest-of-the-finest, strolled into the LSUS Plantation room for the 1994 Junior/Senior prom, they all hoped that they could "Hold on to the Night" forever.

Junior Katie McIntyre remembered going out to eat, taking pictures, and then going to a party afterwards. She said, "My perfect prom date would be flying to New Orleans for dinner after we finish the normal prom thing. And although my prom night was not the prom of my dreams, it was still fun."

"My perfect prom date would be my fiancee and I driving up to Delware and getting married," Senior Shelta Coburn remarked.

Not everyone had such an extravagant idea of a perfect prom night. Senior Jimmy Metoyer spent prom night dancing the night away with his two dates. Sounds like the perfect night? Yet Jimmy said his perfect prom date is "After prom, my date and I would have a romantic night one-on-one."

> The perfect Prom would be if we had a better D.J. - Chris Rogers, junior

No matter how A student decide to spend their prom night, whether it's with friends or just with that special person, make prom night the most perfect night possible because the chance will never come again!

Top 5 JOB MISCONCEPTIONS

5. Camp Counselor- You can sing "Kumbayah" as much as you want, make daisy chains, and fingerpaint til your hands give out.

Reality- You'll get a shower once a week, live in fear of poison ivy, and wake up covered in toothpaste and shaving cream every morning.

4. Hamel's Ride Operator- You are the center of attention and you get to ride the Log Ride free.

Reality- You get to scrape gum out of the roller coaster seats, find out how hot 98 degrees really gets while trying to calm kids who have lost their moms.

3. Host/Hostess- You get to wear nice clothes, get discounts on food, and ask smoking or nonsmoking til your heart's content.

Reality- By quitting time you can't feel your legs, a smile is permently plastered to your face, and the person on the next shift is at least one hour late.

2. Ice Cream Truck Driver- You get to ride around in an air-conditioned truck and eat leftover Blue Bell all day.

Reality- You'll get a flat tire on I-20 and gain 15 pounds by the end of the summer.

1. Water Town Lifeguard- You get to tan all day while staring at hot babes and you can slide down the Bonzai anytime.

Reality- You peel all summer from a horrible sunburn, barely make minimum wage, and you are a babysitter for over 500 screaming kids a day.

WOULD YOU LIKE FRIES WITH THAT? Junior Farrah Thompson enjoys her job at McDonald's. "I like working their because I like meeting the boys," commented Thompson.

WHAT A JOB! Senior Logan Sledge worked as a stockboy for Victoria's Secret at Mall St. Vincent. "It was an educational experience. I really just wanted the discount," Sledge commented.

Money to Burn
WHATCHA DO WITH THE GREEN?

School let out and summer began, some students laid back and relaxed while others hurried through gridlock traffic to make it to work on time.

After working at Brookshires this summer, Senior Chuck McBee commented, "The worst thing about having a summer job is that it takes up a lot of your social time."

> I needed the money to fix my jeep. - John McConnell, junior

While money was enough motivation for most students to work, Senior Kelvin Whitaker had other reasons. Whitaker says, "The reason I worked at Brookshires was to enhance my marketing skills for Byrd's D.E. program."

If one looked around Shreveport, he would find classmates working almost anywhere. Junior, Micheal Tooke felt that he had the perfect summer job working with Green Machine Music Systems. He says,"The only thing I didn't like was loading the equipment at two in the morning after doing a show."

Another popular place to work was Eastridge Swim Club where Hannah Carter worked as a lifeguard. Carter says,"I enjoyed working there because I met a lot of new people but some of the members were hard to satisfy."

-Haley Smith

FUN IN THE SUN! Over 20 students from Byrd enjoyed their summer working at Water Town. "Working at Water Town was fun because I got paid and got a tan," Senior Julie Gilley explained.

Save the Best For Last

MILITARY BALL ENDS CADETS' YEAR

SMILE! Happy faces were easy to find on anyone at Military Ball. "This was my first Mlitary Ball and I was excited to find out what it was like," said Freshman Corporal Katie Wardle.

One of the best-planned and best-attended events on campus is the Military Ball, which is the highlight of the year for the JROTC cadets and their dates.

Most students do not realize all of the time and preparation put into Military Ball. "You have to collect money, schedule the date, find a D.J., and find a hotel; the list of things to do goes on," said SGT. Raymond Martino who was head of the Military Ball.

On May 6, 1994 over 400 cadets and their dates came to the Holiday Inn downtown for the annual Military Ball.

Sam Woolford, junior, said, "I thought it was thoroughly entertaining and extremely well organized."

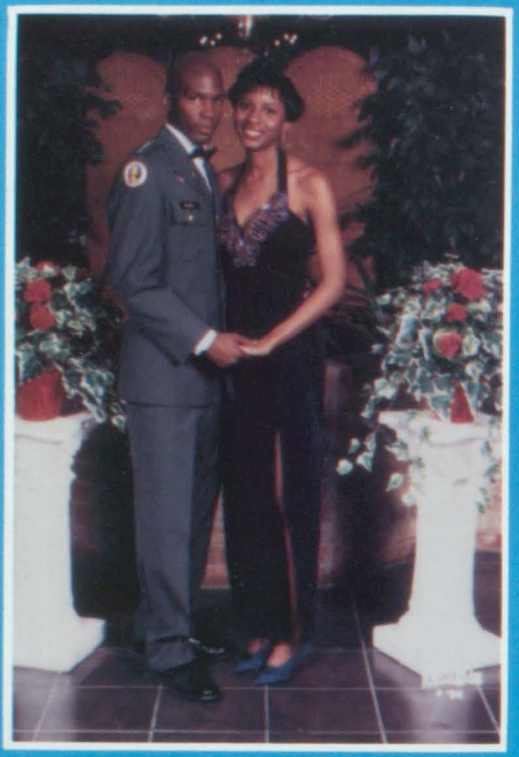
"This was my second time attending the Military Ball," said Sophomore Nichol Rolle. "I was ecstatic! The attendance was numerous and the setting was beautiful."

> The formal part was boring.
> -SSC Crystal Hawhins, junior

Freshman Delena Wright said, "I liked the way everyone dressed up. After the formal part came the dancing and everyone let it loose."

Junior Robert Crosby was looking forward to, "Just having a good time because this is my last social event for high school."

- Heather Johnston



HOLD THAT POSE. Pictures seem as though they take forever. "Pictures went fast this year. Once he got us positioned, it was 'Smile', click," said Sophomore SSG. Danyele Singleton. "'Smile again', click."

IS IT SAFE TO EAT? One of the highlights of Military Ball was the formal dinner. "They could have at least served us decent food," said Sophomore SSG. Shawn Singleton of the Chicken Marsala dinner

YOU'RE A WINNER! Each year door prizes are given to the cadets to make the night full of suprises! "My prize was a watch. It was nice, nothing cheap," said Sophomore SSG. Matt Latz PRESENT SABERS! Walking under the sabers was an exclusive event only Seniors participated in. "Your arm gets tired by the time this part of the ceremony is over,"said Sophomore SSG. Aaron Mulvey.

3. "To get something with my birthstone on it."

2. "Because something that costs a lot of money looks good on my finger!"

1. "To show how much I love Byrd."

DECA'D OUT IN BYRD'S FINEST. Seniors from Mrs. Stinson's fourth hour recall getting their rings. "When I put on my ring, I finally felt like I was a true senior," said Brad Pickett, a DECA student.

RUINING IT FOR EVERYONE. Though this is "The Moment" that all juniors wait for at the ring ceremony, Stephane Modz's mind drifted elsewhere. "The only think I remember is that I messed up the slide show," said Modz.

The Golden Years

CHOOSING THE RIGHT RING BEARER

Ring ceremony can be one of the most memorable times for a junior getting his or her ring. The person who gives the ring to the junior often helps to make it even more so. In that instance, it can make the search for the right person very difficult.

There are many factors that go into choosing the perfect person. David Nadeau chose his mother. "I love her. She got me through high school. Without her, I would never have gotten through [it]," said Nadeau.

Melissa Milam chose to follow her family's tradition. "My dad gave my sister her ring. My mom gave my brother his ring and my sister is one of my best friends, so I wanted her to give me mine," Milam said.

It was an easy way to get 300 bucks from my parents. Robert Gill, senior

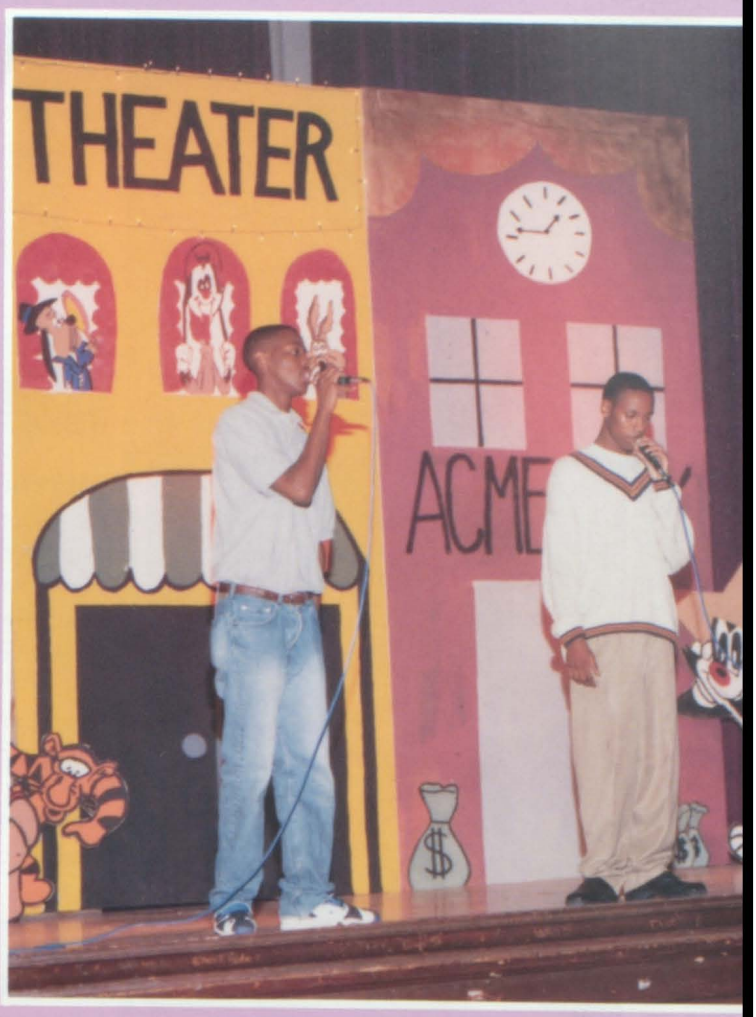
In case of a last minute cancellation, juniors should always have a stand-in present. If his Dad could not have come, Potter Adams would have chosen his brother. "He's always been my best friend," said Adams.

Some back-up plans are not quite as well thought out as others. Nadeau would have chosen his brother, but he was at college. Milam chose her best friend, Erin, from Houston as a stand-in. Fortunately for them, their first choice came through.

Ring ceremony, in the end, becomes that memorable moment; no matter who gives the junior their ring. Milam said, "It means a lot to get your senior ring, so you want the person who gives it to you to mean a lot to you."

- Lang Wardlaw

RING OF CHANGE. Jenny Bison stands triumphantly with friends Ryan Cush, Rachel Tennison and Ryan Zebot. "The ceremony meant more to me than the ring itself because seeing us all together getting our rings reminded me that this was our last year," said Bison.



JUST A SWINGIN'. A group of four talented young men make up the group Ego Swing. Their Boyz II Men sound provided some of the entertainment in the 1994 Miss Byrd "Toon Town" pageant.

4. You get to walk with an attitude.

3. You get to dress up and show off.

2. You get to meet interesting people.

1. You get to be a cartoon character.

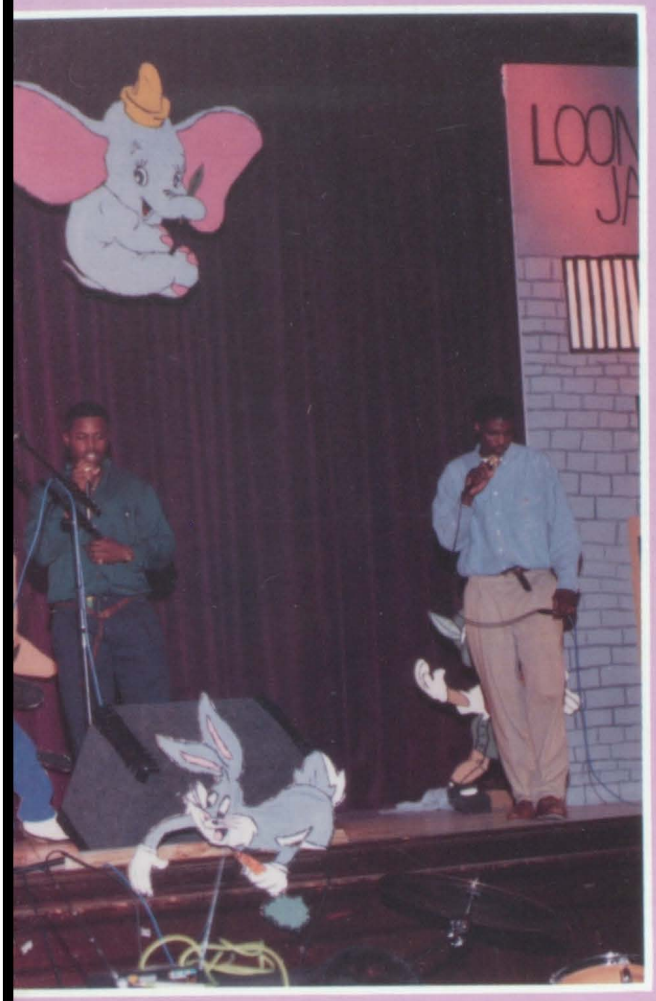
WHAT'S UP DOC? Junior Danielle Brooks was Jessica Rabbit from the hit movie Who Framed Roger Rabbit? "In the pageant, I was very nervous, but all the Gusher Staff members and teachers make you feel so much more comfortable," said Brooks.



A Break From Reality

Cartooned Contestants Line Up For The Title Of Miss Byrd

Whether it was a Mad Hatter or Raggedy Ann, cartoons were the focal point of the 1994 Miss Byrd Pageant. Costumed contestants were lined up in order to go on stage and explain their costume to the judges.

Many contestants commented that the costumes were their favorite part of the pageant. "It was fun getting to dress up like a cartoon character in front of a crowd of people," said Sophomore Angelique Lasseigne.

> It was an educational expierience. It helped me overcome my nervousness. -Nicole Rolle, sophomore

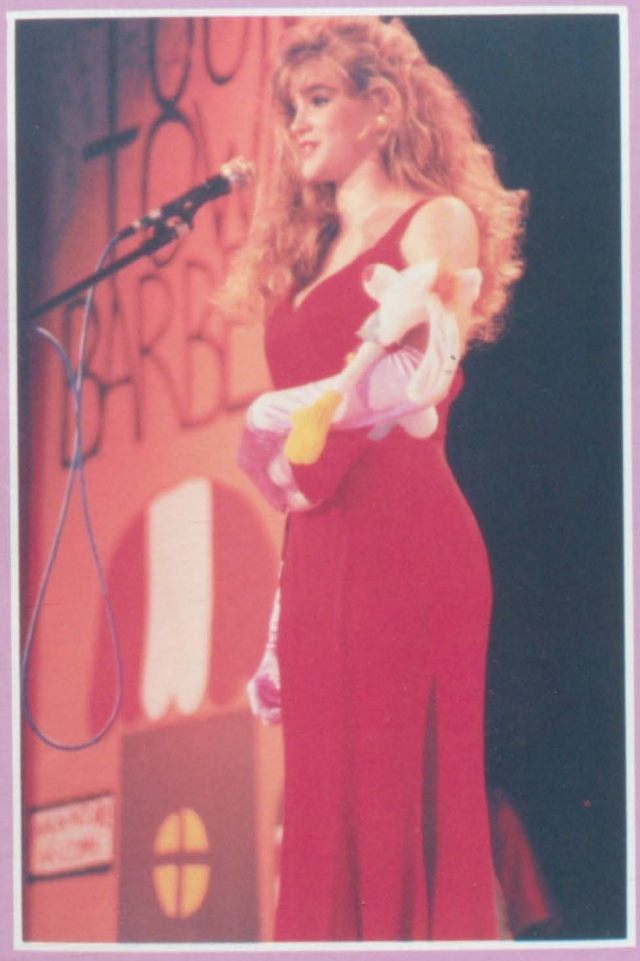
However, not all contestants agree on their favorite part of the pageant. "I liked the evening gowns because I like to get dressed up," said Sophomore Kendra Feazel.

This pageant is not based solely on beauty, however. There is the long process of choosing the judges and the judges interviewing each contestant individually for five minutes. The costumes and poise count for points as well. After all the judging has been done, a separate person tallies up each judge's score in order to find the winners.

Miss Byrd 1994, Junior Takiae Ball, commented on her cartooned experience as being "exciting, because I love acting and my Mama always said I was good at putting on a show."

So, as you can see, the Miss Byrd Pageant is just as much hard work offstage as it is onstage.

-Craig Seals



WAITING FOR A STAR TO FALL... Contestants lined up for their costumes to be judged. Sleeping Beauty Leslie Creason said, "I was nervous but it was a fun experience, and I'm glad I did it."

Camp Out
A BREAK FROM THE SUMMER

SUMMER FRIENDS ON A RELAXING CRUISE. Senior Chuck Simpson and Junior Laura Head ride on a boat in New Orleans with a friend from King's Highway Christian Church in June. "We went to New Orleans with my church group and tore a house down for the 'Habitat for Humanity' project. It burned down last December and the family was poor so we helped them start over again," states Head.

Summer camps have become a new tradition in the past years. Some have become known for the exciting times, new friends and others for boring classes. Either way they have brought a head start to the new school year's classes and projects.

Students often go to camp not expecting what is to follow and discover things they will never again forget. "I wish I brought more shaving cream to camp because even though I didn't shave, I still ran out of it," claimed Junior Craig Seals who attended the Josten's Yearbook camp at the Texas Women's University in Denton.

Along with the fun and excitement at camp there are the unforgetable moments that are experienced, "I got locked out of my room after I took a shower and I was wet from head to toe and all I had was a towel on. I'm thankful ther were no guys around," remembered Senior Taneshia Mosely.

Camps are not always filled with shocking times and moments to remember. Freshman Bridgette Blandino recalls, "It wasn't fun and it was a waste of my summer sleepping time. The only good thing was the pizza party which still wasn't so great," referring to the Pep Squad camp at school.

- Jeremy Neblett

WHO'S THE BRAVE ONE? Junior Randy Patton is soaked by shaving cream in a raid against him at yearbook camp. "I wasn't mad. I just wanted revenge. I felt better when the whole yearbook staff was covered in cream," remembered Patton.

DRESSED FOR THE OCCASION? Senior Eric Wright was dressed by a team of girls to compete in a Miss Ark-La-Tex pageant at his church camp. "The idea here was to get closer by making each other laugh. It was a fun experience, but not one I want to repeat," said Wright.

ANYBODY WANT SOME PIZZA? When everybody is hungry at the newspaper camp. Junior Todd Miller brings home the pizza. "They treated me like a hero when I brought the starving camp pizza," stated Miller.

DISASTER STRIKES AT CAMP. Junior Jennifer Muslow spent her time at cheerleading camp recouperating from a pulled leg. "I was doing a toe touch and I landed on my leg wrong and pulled some ligaments. It was frustrating because I couldn't do anything everyone else was doing," said Muslow.

Letting the Idiot Shine Through

BACK TO THE GOOD OLE DAYS

Pride Rally and Ride was a time that all freshmen let the pure idiot shine through." said freshman Clarisse Frazier.

Pride Rally and Ride is an annual congregating of the entering freshmen class organized by the Top Jackets. Freshmen participate in making up chants, having a scavenger hunt, playing games, eating pizza, and attending the first Jacket football game.

"I believe Pride Rally and Ride accomplished its purpose when the freshmen had a good time and realized that they weren't alone," said Top Jacket Kern Cortney. Freshman Mark Wheeler said, "I picked up two girls' phone numbers." It was also pleasant for Freshman Jessica Brogan who " met a guy who looked alot like Adam Sandler from Saturday Night Live." Brogan's favorite activity "was definitely the orange pass" because she said, "it got me close to the guys."

Everybody teased me about my eyes popping out of my head.
-Tara Jefferson, freshman

Passing of oranges wasn't the only thing being passed at Pride Rally and Ride. Freshman David Allain heard a juicy rumor by Top Jacket Ryan Cush saying, "Sucking up to teachers and bringing them brownies is the way to succeed in high school."

- Kelly Laudenheimer

Do what? Freshman Shayila Belk, Carla Green and Sabrina Oliver take time to down some pizza between games and the football game, Belk said, "Eating and the scavenger hunt were my favorite parts because I got a chance to meet new people."

HO! HO! HO! "Santa Harris" gets a hug from a child at the Community Christmas. "Life gets no better than this! The spirit of Christmas is wrapped up in love!" said Mr. Harris.

A HELPING HAND. The Z-Club earned club hours for working at the Revel. "The Z-Club girls are the best. They dedicate so much of their time to helping others-they really are a special group of young ladies, " said Mrs. Sermon.

Food, Folks, And Fun

S'port Fstivals Occupy Calendar Year-round

Students have always made up a large majority of the populations at various Shreveport festivals. The Louisiana State Fair is a popular spot to go for rides and greasy food, while the Revel is commonly used for receiving club hours.

"I only went to the Revel to work for Danceline painting faces. The Revel was boring but the food was good," said Junior Julie Duncan.

Many students had different opinions about the fair. "The fair was better this year than it has been in the past. They had a better selection of rides," commented Junior Jeremy Moore. On the flip side, Sophomore Keswick Durden said, "There was alot of talk about the new rides that were going to be at the fair, but only a couple of them were exciting." While Holiday In Dixie opted for more food and entertainment but no rides, and the fair definitely won the contest of rides.

The fair was better this year than last year." -Kellee Dumars, Senior

While Mudbug Madness and Artbreak fill our spring calendars, the Revel, State Fair and The Red River Balloon Rally occupy much of the fall months. Whether the task is volunteering for those much-needed club hours or just chowing down on that greasy food, the Shreveport festivals are always a time of food, folks and Fun.

-Allison Wilson

NO WAY, JOSE! Two people at the Fair experience the thrill of the ejection seat. "I was too scared. I would have had a heart attack!" Junior Jacquetta Ray exclaimed.

One Wild Week
... And An Enchanted Night

A DREAM COME TRUE... At the Ravenna Courtyard dedication, Mary Alice Rountree presents Mr. Ravenna a poster of all of the sponsors. "After all of the hard work on the part of Mary Alice Rountree and the Commitee, the Ravenna Courtyard is a wonderful reality, said Mr. Ravenna.

For many students, when the word "Homecoming" was mentioned, the football game and the dance popped into their minds. Homecoming is more than just the Friday and Saturday night activities.

This year, it all began with a spirited pep rally in the gym. Each club created a float and participated in the Homecoming parade. Jon Blewett, sophomore, thought the parade was "fun and energetic!" The Hall of fame Assembly and Banquet was next on the agenda. Alumni were honored for their outstanding contributions in their work fields. "Ring of Fire is my favorite song and I'm so glad I got to see it performed live by the writer, Merle Kilgore!" said Junior Tracy Brown.

The night was so much fun until the car got stuck in the mud!
-Arien Ward, sophomore

Students anticipated the game against Natchidoches Central and supported the football team by wearing Homecoming T-shirts. The dance on Saturday night was a big hit. Girls spent all day getting ready for the big date, while guys, on the other hand, lounged around all day. No matter how much time was spent preparing for the evening, many will always remember that night. "Homecoming was a night to remember. From everything to our date's showing up 30 minutes late, to the car breaking down, to no dinner reservations at Chianti's, to a trip to Taco Bell...despite the mess-ups, we had a blast!" said Sophomore Kim Stafford.

-Alison Wilson

ONE MOMENT IN TIME. Homecoming Queen Keisha Carthen is crowned by Mrs. Fitzgerald. "That was a moment I'll never forget," said Carthen, Senior.

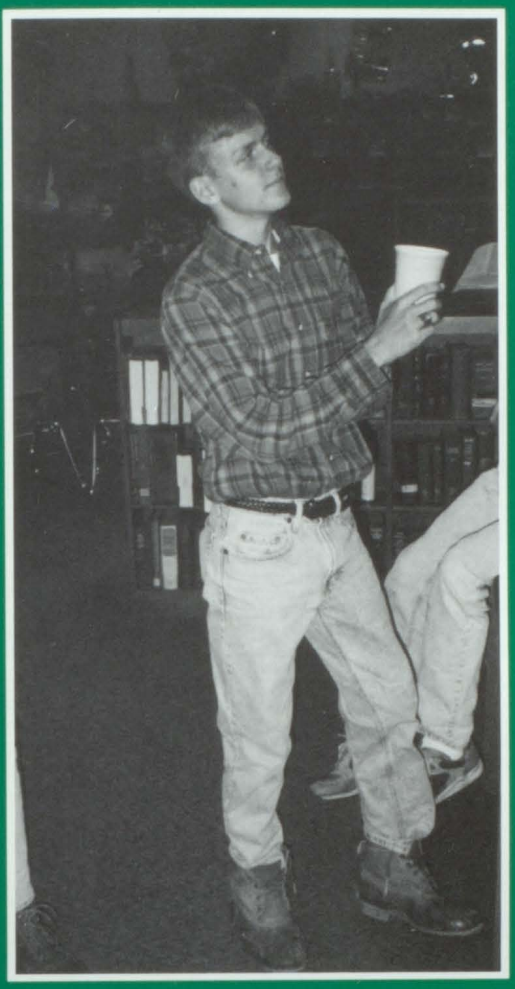
Unsung Heros

Four Students Selected For School Service

MISS MISTLETOE. Erin Cooper enjoys soccer most of all among her activities. "It's an agressive sport, and it keeps me in shape," Cooper said.

MR. MISTLETOE. Keith Payne contemplates the nature of the human animal after a National Honor Society meeting. "I love to help my fellow man," Payne said.



As Seniors were being recognized all over the school for ACT scores, scholarships and grades, the Highlife and Gusher staffs named four school leaders as recipients of the Mr. and Miss Mistletoe and Gusher awards. These students possessed leadership qualities, academic commitment and positive attitudes and were actively involved in school and community service.

Although each of these students was unique, one thing they all shared in common was interest in school service. Erin Cooper, Miss Mistletoe, was involved in service activities because,"they help me to become a more responsible person and I love to help out." Cooper, an active member of Student Council, Art Club and Z-Club said,"In Student Council, the staff depends a lot on our help, so it's good to know they appreciate us."

Keith Payne, Mr. Mistletoe, also had several reasons for serving the school. Although he enjoyed helping out he also said,"It gives me a warm feeling in my heart." Payne, a member of Student Council and Key Club named Gumbo Games as his favorite community service activity.

Gumbo Games is my favorite community service activity - Keith Payne

Mr. Gusher, Kern Courtney, served Byrd as manager of the football team since his sophomore year. "Through managing you share in the wins and losses of the team," said Courtney. "It teaches humility and good stewardship." Courtney added that being manager was all about,"getting the right thing to the right place at the right time."

Finally, Hannah Carter, Miss Gusher, chose FCA and Z-Club as the clubs most important to her. "FCA is important because I'm the President and because we try to reach out to people."

Congratulations to these four hard-working and deserving Seniors.

-Misty Leon and Curtis Oden

MISS GUSHER: Hanna Carter is president of FCA and sees it as her most fulfilling activity. "In FCA we try to reach out to people, and the speakers who come are really interesting." Carter said.

TOO MUCH IS JUST ENOUGH. Cellular phones can cost a lot, but they are a link to knowing what is happening. Junior Alex Hardman said, "Cellular phones are a great way to spend money and stay in touch at the same time.

LATE NIGHT CALLS. Senior Roger Patton returns a call late hours at Circle K. "I hate my beeper because everyone always calls me at the wrong time," said Patton EVERYONE NEEDS ONE. Normal teenagers are never home because they are always running around and you can never get ahold of them when you need them. "I think everyone should have a beeper to get in touch with someone you need to talk to," said Freshman Lacye Fouts.

A New Technology

CELLULAR PHONES AND PAGERS NOT ALLOWED ON CAMPUS

Even though Shreveport is a small city where there is always something to do. For some people that are constantly gone, parents begin to worry and friends begin to wonder where they are. To solve this problem many people get pagers and cellular phones.

The cost of pager service per month is about $12.00, and the pagers range from $30.00 to $180.00.

Most people get beepers and cellular phones, because they are never home. "I got a beeper so if I'm not home people can get in touch with me," said Junior Jonathan Falloon.

> I have a beeper because I'm never home. -Junior Tammy Richter

But to some, beepers are a necessity. "I have a beeper for business purposes," said Freshman Jeremy Kilpatrick.

Beepers can come in handy, but sometimes there are some unwanted beeps. "I like the idea of having a beeper, but it can be a pain when someone you don't like beeps you," said Falloon.

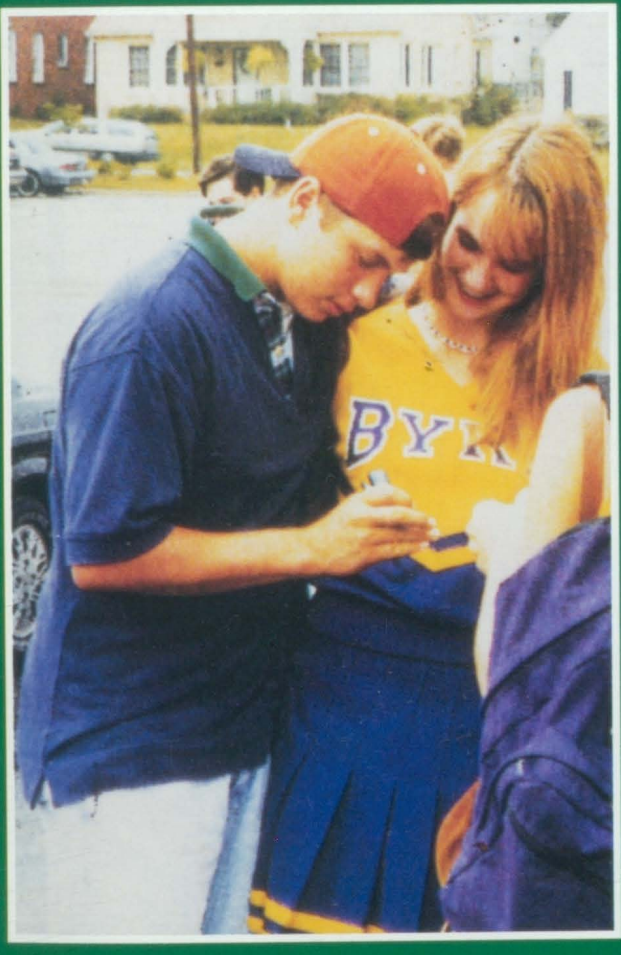
Even your mom can be a nuisance. "I hate it, because my mom beeps me about every five minutes when I go out," said Freshman Rusty Dixon.

Not only parents, but also your friends can be a pain when they call you too much, "I'm tired of everyone calling me on the phone," said Senior Tarsha Jones.

Parents also buy their children cellular phones and beepers for emergencies. "My beeper is for my friends to get in touch with me and my car phone is for emergencies," said Junior Steven Barnes.

Pagers and cellular phones are a new technology that comes in handy for many reasons. Just about everyone, either you, your friends or a family member owns a pager or cellular phone.

-Randy Patton



NOT AGAIN! Beepers can possibly get you into trouble. "I don't like my beeper because my parents can keep track with me at any time and I don't have any excuses to tell them," said Sophomore Cody Smith.

Making Every Minute Count

TOO MUCH TO DO, TOO LITTLE TIME

From the time the alarm clock sounds it's time to get on the go. Students are buzzing around trying to make every minute count.

Up the stairs, then to the locker to collect books and finally to first period class. It's smooth sailing from there. Oh no ! It's 2:15, errands need to be run, three hours worth of homework needs to be completed and gossip needs to be spread. Trying to make it to bed at 10:00 p.m., seems impossible. Bedtime ends up being around 12:00 a.m., then it's time to start all over again.

Kelly Jones, a junior said, "My average day is very busy because they are scheduled around danceline practice."

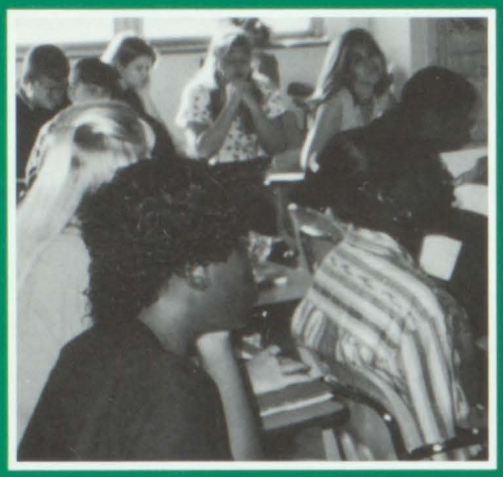
Junior Todd Miller said, "My first priority is really grades, but football takes up most of my time and energy."

> I run to class almost as fast as I run out of class.
> - Tamika Edwards, junior

Whew! School consumes all a student's energy and things that still need to be completed during the day are not finished. The best way to go is to get a good headstart and don't stress yourself out!

Torriana Palms, a senior said,"My only goal is Destination: Graduation."

-Erica Bass



LISTEN UP ! Freshman Krista Burton and her classmates always pay close attention. "My eyes and ears are open and my mouth stays shut," said Burton

HITTIN' THE BOOKS. Shantal Vital, senior, works hard to make a passing grade.."I work extra hard in Mrs. Stephenson's class."

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Junior Becky Leonard gets loosened up in order to practice the Highstepper's next dance." We work hard everyday to strive for a better line."

GATHER 'ROUND. Seniors Kevin Robinson and Luther Wilson, Junior Lance Feibel, and Sophomore Archer Frierson take a minute from football practice to rest..Luther Wilson said, "We chill whenever we have time."

SCIENCE FRICTION. Sophomore Brad Kurley watches over his classmates as they struggle to get the right answer. "Mrs Starne's class is usually very calm."

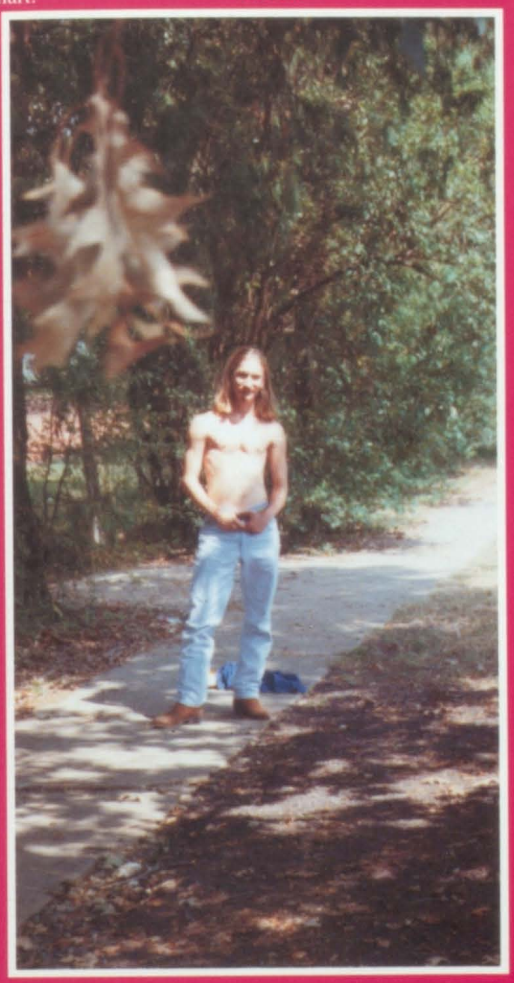
YA-HOO. . . " Everybody can have fun at Wal-Mart," said senior Casey Cascio riding his boat at Wal-Mart.

It Can Happen to Anybody EVEN YOU!

LET'S THINK ABOUT IT! Michael Estess, sophomore, was caught on theiddie-ride at Wal-mart.

WHOA, MAMA! "I came, I saw, I conquered" said senior Miles McDowell as he struts his to everyone after school.



While most are in their seats ready to work when the bell rings, you are running down the hall with others trying not to be tardy and along the way something totally embarrassing happens: like tripping over your own two feet, turning the corner too soon and running smack into the wall, and knowing that all eyes are staring directly at you.

"I was sitting outside on a rail eating lunch when this big clap of thunder came and scared me breathless and made me fall off of it and land flat on my butt". said sophomore Margaret Beauclaire.

> "Dropping my boos maes me feel very energized."
> -Mario Roppoleo, sophomore

All dressed up and ready to perform. "I was in my tux and ready to perform at a concert and stepped in a big mud hole, and had mud up to my knees". said Junior Michael Mintz.

When we wake up in the mornings and we are very tired, we normally would not pay hardly any attention as to what we wear, right? "I put on my shirt, and did not relize it had a big stain on it until I got to school and somebody told me," said Sophomore Amber Fleming.

Do not let getting hit in the face, falling down stairs, or droping your books be too embarrassing, but funny and it could happen to anybody.

-Regina Cascio

HELP! "I've fallen and I can't get up". pleaded Amy Davis sophomore, when she fell off the bench in the girls locker room.

"NUDE WITH ATTITUDE?" Senior John Templin was caught going to his locker during sixth hour. "Okay, so I like Cosmo.. Is there anything wrong with that," Templin asked.

LOONEY FARM, HERE WE COME

Each year brings about the insanity of lockers, and either you survive the Looney Farm or not.

Alando Marston, a junior, who is a Student Council member in charge of lockers, said "Lockers drive me crazy. Students come back right back after purchasing a locker and ask for their locker number and combination because they lost it. Right when we do not have everything organized."

Student Council is not the only ones with problems about lockers, Jessica Lea, a senior exclaimed, "Oh my God! The worst is when you have a top locker and you're wearing a skirt, and the bottom locker person lifts it. It happened to me once." She also gave a helpful tip. "If you have a top locker make sure you don't wear a skirt, or have a pervert below you."

Senior Kevin Payne said "When I was a freshman, I got a top locker. The only problem was that I couldn't see over the knob to get my combination right, so I got a bottom locker. Now that I'm a senior, I have a top locker."

> When I was a freshman, I couldn't see over the knob.
> - Kevin Payne, senior

Some students do not realize that lockers help you out. LaShana Harris, a junior, said "Once my book bag broke and I couldn't carry them around all day. But thank goodness I remembered my locker combination and used it."

Freshman Gary Crawford said "I use my locker as a meeting place for my girlfriends. I have a locker on each floor so they won't find out about each other, but it gets kind of confusing sometimes."

Lockers drive some students crazy, some may not even use them, but some are grateful for them, and that's why Student Council and students go insane over them each year.

"IT'S MINE!" "NO, IT'S MINE!" Freshmen Jennifer Lyons and Daniel White discussed whose French book it really was. "Sometimes things get crazy, but we keep it under control," said Lyons.

Fire Up C.E., Fire up

PUTTING THE "PEP" IN PEP RALLIES

As the students pile in the gym to get pumped for the upcoming game, each class shows school spirit as they compete in the battle cry.

"The senior class is oozing with spirit," says Senior Jason Turnage, "Since we've been here for four years, we understand the need for senior leadership and school spirit."

"I honestly think that the senior class has the most spirit because we're ready to get out of here," explained Senior Melanie Lange, "but the freshman are louder because there are more of them."

According to Sophomore Cassidy Zackheim, not all classes have enough spirit. "My class doesn't stand up and cheer because they are all too embarrased," Zackheim said.

So what can be done to fire those yellow jackets up?

"They need to have more activities for the students to get personally involved in during the rallies," Turnage suggested.

Rotating pep rallies started this year and have caused many to feel a sense of division among the classes.

As Freshman Latasha Hall expressed, "It isn't any fun, because we can't spend any time with our senior buddies!"

-Shalane Johnson

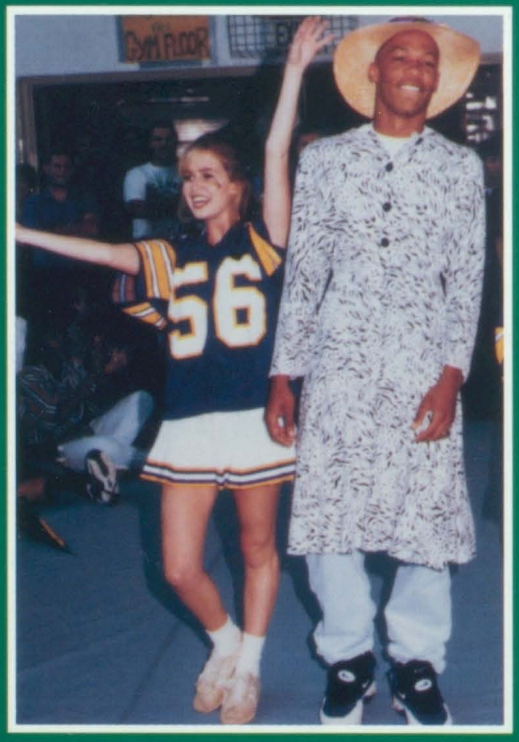
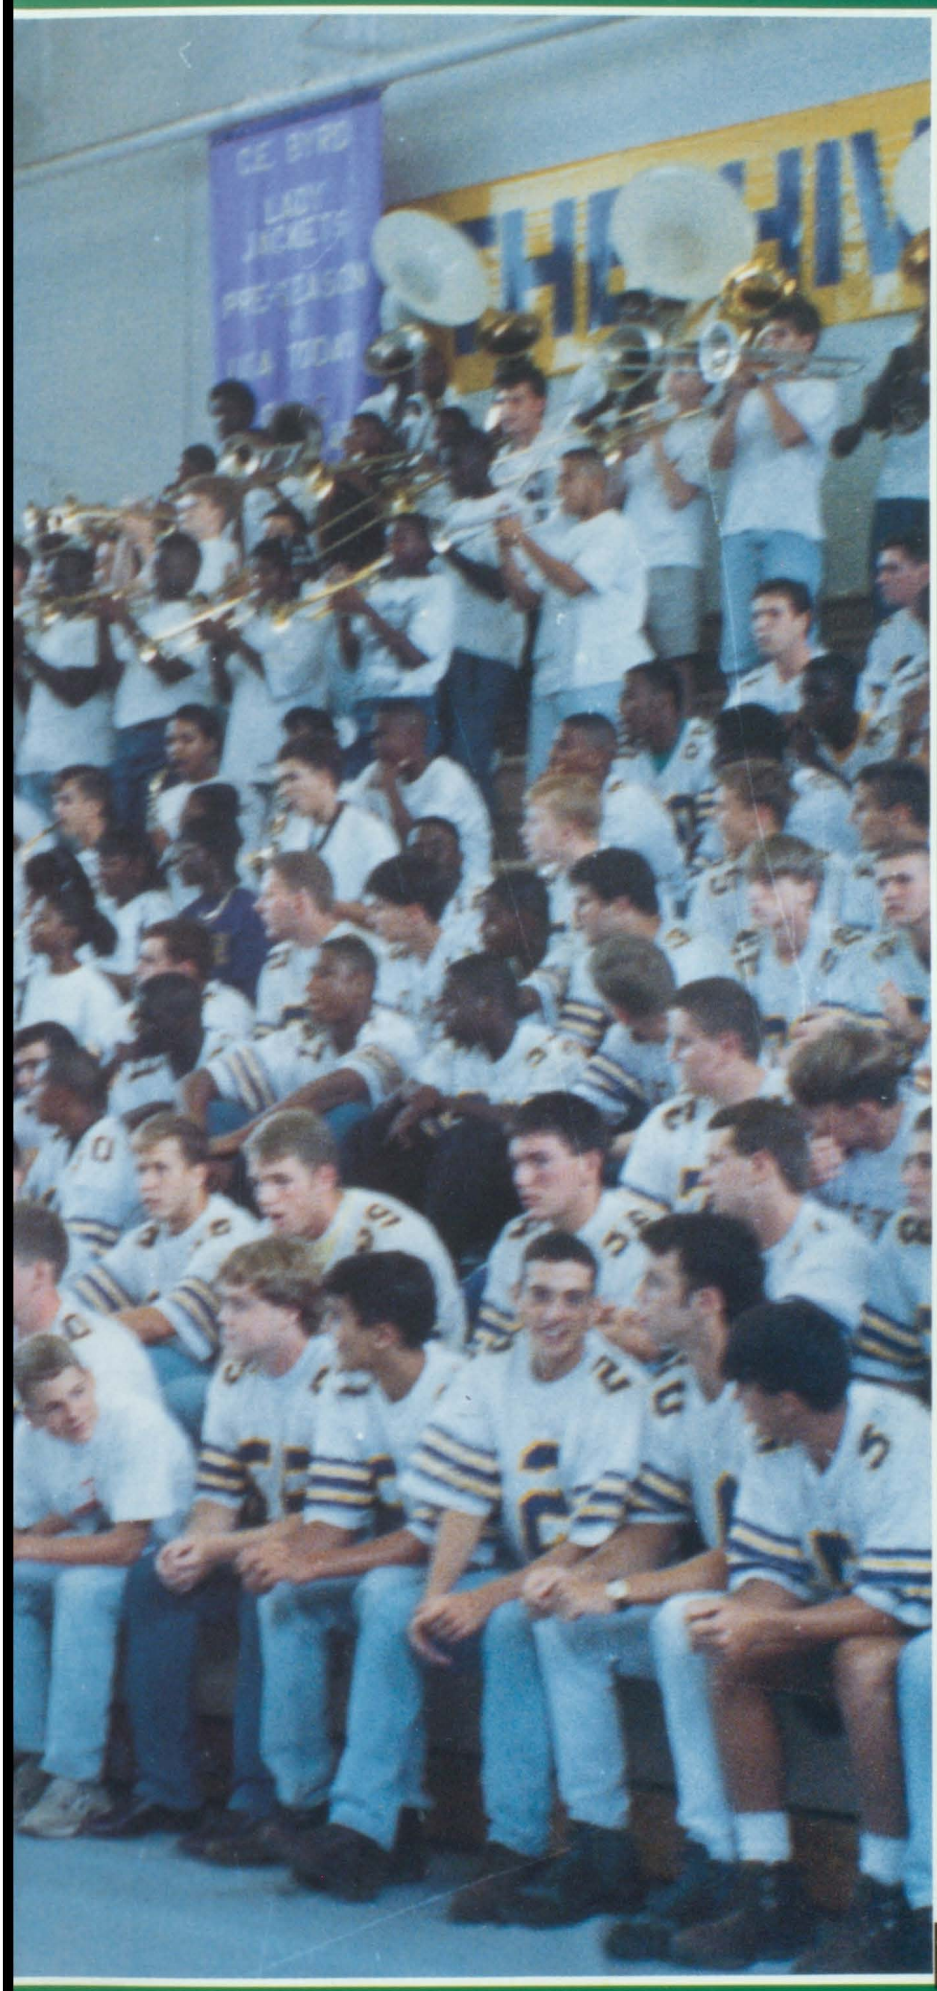
MOVIN' & A GROVIN'. "I like sitting as a group with the pep squad, because I can feel comfortable acting crazy with all my friends! " said Freshman Kim Laudenheimer. Pe p squad got inthe spirit of football before each varsity game.



LOOKING GOOD. "It was a side of me I never knew!" Leon Murray said about the male beauty pageant during the BTW pep rally. Murray won the mock pageant by the roar of the crowd's applause.

BYRD WE STAND TO HONOR THEE. Seniors, wearing back packs in a new way, get together for the alma mater at the Parkway pep rally. "If we didn't get strapped in, we would get too crazy and lose all our books," senior David Kendrick said.

TIGHT SQUEEZE. " Sitting by my fellow teammates gives me a sense of 'No Fear' before the game," Senior Todd Laster said at the Parkway pep rally. It's become a tradition for the football team to sit together to boost their moral.



"CLAP YOUR HANDS, ALL YOU PEOPLE!" Seniors Stephanie Brown, Jennifer Gardner and Christy Pile show their spirit during the BTW pep rally. "The best thing about pep rallies is being able to get out of sixth hour!" Senior Stephanie Brown said.

QUEEN OF THE NIGHT. Senior Tekiae Ball was crowned Miss Byrd 1994 last spring. "I was shocked, but proud to be crowned Miss Byrd. It was a great experience," said Ball.

KICKIN' IT UP! The Soccer team also plays a part in the Basketball Court. Senior Jessica Lea, Soccer Sweetheart, said," I was shocked to be chosen as Soccer Sweatheart because I surely did not expect it."

ANOTHER GREAT SLAM. The Basketball Court is selected the represent the Basketball teams. Senior Carrie Moreman was chosen by the senior class to participate on the court. " It was a great honor to receive during my senior year", Moreman stated.

Nobility Takes Its Reign

GETIING A SHARE OF ROYALTY

Each year, C.E. Byrd gives students a variety of ways to experience their share of royalty. Homecoming Court and Basketball and Soccer Court are two ways that Byrd lets their girls 'shine'.

In the fall. the Homecoming Court is selected tho honor those senior girls chosen by the senior class. The court is presented at a Homecoming assembly and at the Homecoming football game. The court included six maids and three Homecoming cheerlaeders. Of the six maids, a Homecoming queen, princess, and a Football Sweatheart are chosen. Senior Veneitia Murray, a Homecoming Cheerleader, said, "I was excited to be selected as a Homecoming Cheerleader. I was able to help show school spirit at the Homecoming Football game."

It was the happiest moment of my junior year. - Miss Byrd Tekiae Ball

At the beginning of the new year, a Basketball court is chosen also by each class. The Basketball Court is also presented at a basketball assembly. This court isincludes: one maid representing each class, a Basketball Sweatheart chosen by the basketball team, and a Soccer Sweatheart chosen by the soccer team. Basketball Sweatheart Nicole Rolle, a junior, said,"I was honored to be chosen by the basketball team to be Basketball Sweatheart.'

During the month if April, the annual Miss Byrd pageant iis held here at C.E. Byrd. A number of girls enter each year to compete for the crown. A panel of judges is selected to judge the girls on poise, beauty, stage presence and an interview question. The 1994 Miss Byrd is Tekiae Bell.

EXCUSE ME? Montrice Hart caught some ZZZ's in Coach Ward's class. "During E.I.P is the best time to sleep," Hart said. Maybe she should use her study period more resourcefully.

DON'T WAKE ME!! Junior Jon Simpkins told journalism teacher Mrs. Chelsea Haynes, "Liven it up without waking me up," before catching a nap in third hour.

Sleeping Like A Log

DID WE CATCH YA NAPPING?

The best way to get a good education is hard work, determination and a strong will to succeed. Right?

Loud snoring coming from a math or English class may hinder that hypothesis. Junior Alan Brite said, "I think students don't learn when they sleep in class and it's really a waste of time."

I hate it when I wake up in my own drool. - Lang Wardlaw, junior

Students who may work or study all night take the opposite opinion. "It's (sleeping in class) cool if you don't get caught," said Martin Boyd, a sophomore.

Shaquine Wise, another sophomore, said, "I think it's great if you're tired."

But according to Jason Lindsey, a senior, students who sleep in class should not even be in class. "I personally think that people who sleep in class shouldn't be in school anyway," Lindsay said.

E.I.P. is typically a homework or help period, but some students choose to use it in another way.

"If I stay up late at night, I will probably take a nap in E.I.P.," said Maggie Meek, a freshman.

So even if the class gets boring and the need for sleep arises, watch out because the name-with-the-check-on-the-board can't be far behind.

DATING GAME REQUIRES ALL THE RIGHT MOVES

HIT ME WITH YOUR BEST SHOT! Seniors Christi Pyle and Keith White "play fight" while at Ford Park church camp. "This is how I handle things when I don't get my way," Pyle said.

What appears to be a hot date in reality can sometimes be a disaster. Mr. Right finally asks you out and you are looking forward to a perfect night until disaster strikes.

Senior Carrie Moreman will never forget her junior Homecoming date with Nick Wibben. Moreman said,"I was so embarassed when my zipper busted on my dress and my date had to stop at every convenient store from Cypress Inn to Byrd until we found safety pins."

While some dates were embarassing but funny, others were more serious. Senior Jimmy Covington explained,"My date and I had to walk a mile to get some help from some intoxicated foreigners."

I got arrested with the fool I thought I loved, and it all happened on our first date.
Tanja Peoples, junior

While girls think they have it tough deciding on hair, make-up, and clothes, guys also have a difficult time. "My date was a disaster because he left me stranded at Pizza King while he shot pool," Toni Norbery commented.

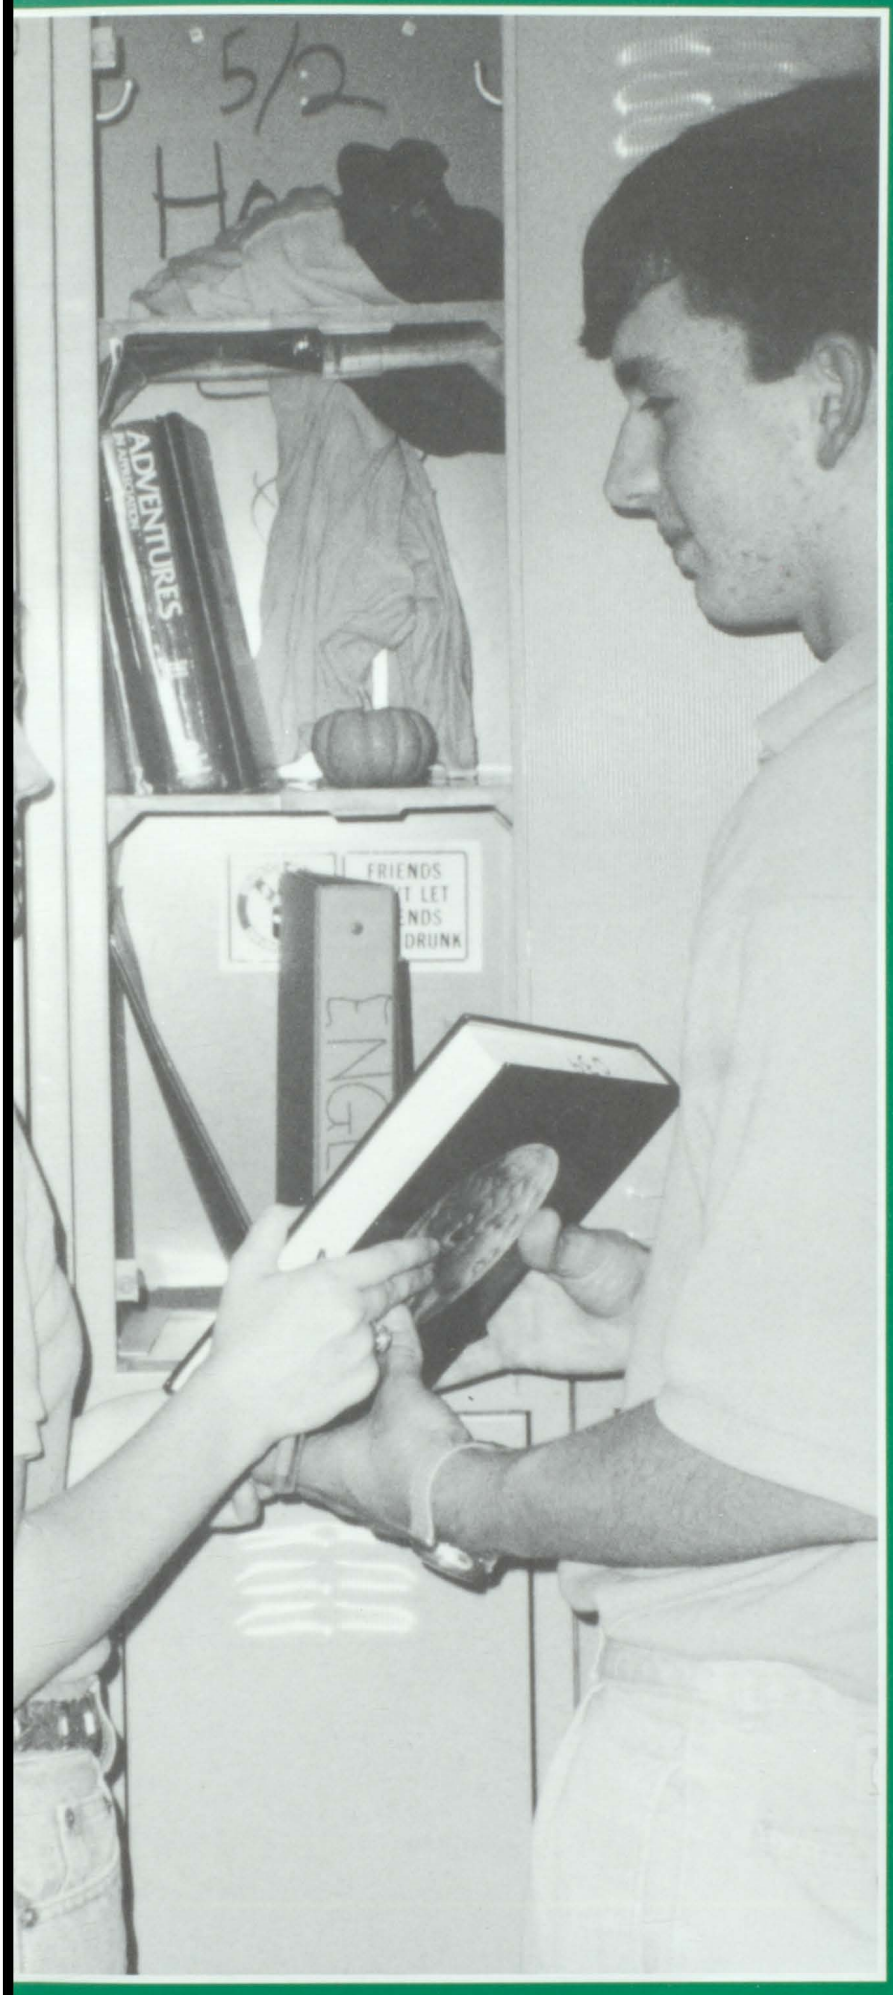
Junior Jessica Miller explained, "Homecoming was a lot of fun but it was pouring rain and we got lost on the way to the restaurant, so we had to go to Taco Bell so we wouldn't be late for pictures."

- Haley Smith

BAD OMEN! Senior Torri Palms and Lamont Moore pose for a quick picture on their way to Military Ball. "My date was an hour and a half late, then picked me up in a funeral limo and by the time we got there, the ball was almost over," she explained.

GATOR HUNTING AT GARFIELD'S. Freshman Trent Wierick and Sophomore Rebecca Rollen enjoyed dinner with other students at Garfield's in St. Vincent Mall. "I have a lot of fun going out with a big group of friends," Wierick said.

AREN'T WE PERFECT? Sophomores Ryan Martinez and Emily Smith get their books at their locker. "We never had a bad date but if we did we probably wouldn't stay mad at each other because we never argue," Martinez said.



WILL YOU FORGIVE ME? Juniors Kim Jones and Chris Lee discuss weekend plans before going out Friday night. Jones said, "We've never had a bad date except when we argue, but it doesn't do any good to stay mad, so we always blow it off."

INVENTIVE MEASURES TAKEN WITH CASH FLOW PROBLEMS

Byrd Bucks, Fools Gold, and Monopoly money just do not seem to work in stores these days; and that was the last resort.

"When I don't have any money to go out with I usually ask my parents or borow it from a friend," said Junior Leslie Glover.

Everybody knows that the cheapest places to eat at are McDonalds and Taco Bell, and the cheapest places to hang out at are people's houses and the mall; but you can get sick of that really quick.

"We may go to see a movie or we may just go play basketball," said Freshman Jack Ryland.

Whether you eat at the Brookshire's Buffet or at the Ritz Plaza, money is always a major concern; especially if you do not have any.

Most of the time we hang out at someone's house or we go to the bowling alley. -Lorie Calhoun, sophomore

Never Too Old For Kids' Stuff

CARTOONS, TEDDYBEARS, G.I. JOE...

SHOW AND TELL. Sophomores Catrina Hauck, Carrie Wills, and Shalene Keen carried around their stuffed animals that their boyfriends gave them. "Even though they are from our boyfriends, we still love to act like little kids," said Wills.

Playing with stuffed animals, carrying a lunch box, watching Disney movies, carrying a backpack on both shoulders, and sleeping with a night light- Does this bring back memories?

Even though it is high school, many students still carry on the habits of their childhood. None of the students said it was for attention, it is just something they cannot stop doing.

MIghty Mouse is my hero. - Joey Neaugart, sophomore

Junior Alvina Fuller said, "I still play with my teddy bear and wear my backpack with both straps, but it's just something I do."

Senior Patrick Williford said, "I still watch cartoons, but it's just a habit."

Some students are embarassed about their childhood habits. Sophomore Stacy Hogan said, "I still sleep with a light on, but I'm kind of embarassed by playing with my stuffed animals."

Sophomore Courtney Guy said, "I sleep with my teddy bear and I love to watch Disney movies."

"I still chew on my pencil. I think that everyone still has some kid hidden inside them," said Sophomore Darrel Folse.

bloody chicken?"

From burning dogs to wearing lucky jock straps, football players all seen to have pre-game rituals.

Before every football game there are several things that the players do to prepare themselves mentally and physically. "We always say the Lord's Prayer before we go out onto the field," said Senior David Doyle.

Also before every game there is a pre-game meal seemed in the cafeteria. "The best meal that I have ever eaten in the cafeteria was the pre-game Salsbury Steak that we ate before the Southwood game," said Junior Raymond Fischer.

Other players have their own personalized rituals such as the offensive lineman. Senior Cole Sullivan said, "To prepare for game time we spit in each other's mouths, and punch each other in the face."

Practice

Summer Practice Makes Worth The Perfect Time and Effort

While most people were at home sleeping the last couple of weeks of summer, the football team was at school practicing.

The coaches decided to change the form this year. Instead of having practices twice a day, they had one five hour practice in the morning.

Senior Bo Flurry commented, "I liked five hour practices better because I didn't have to stay at school all day. I got to go home and not worry about coming back."

HOT PURSUIT! Junior Lance Feibel chases down a Parkway running back in the opening game of the season. "I was thinking if I don't make this tackle we will lose the game," commented Feibel. Byrd ended up losing anyway, 20-12.

LISTEN UP. Junior Mark Cole gets instructions from Coach Mike Desadier during the Parkway game. Cole said,"Communication is a vital part of our game."

Practice over the summer helped the players out. Senior Robert Dowell said, "Practice makes perfect. At practice we exercise and look at new plays."

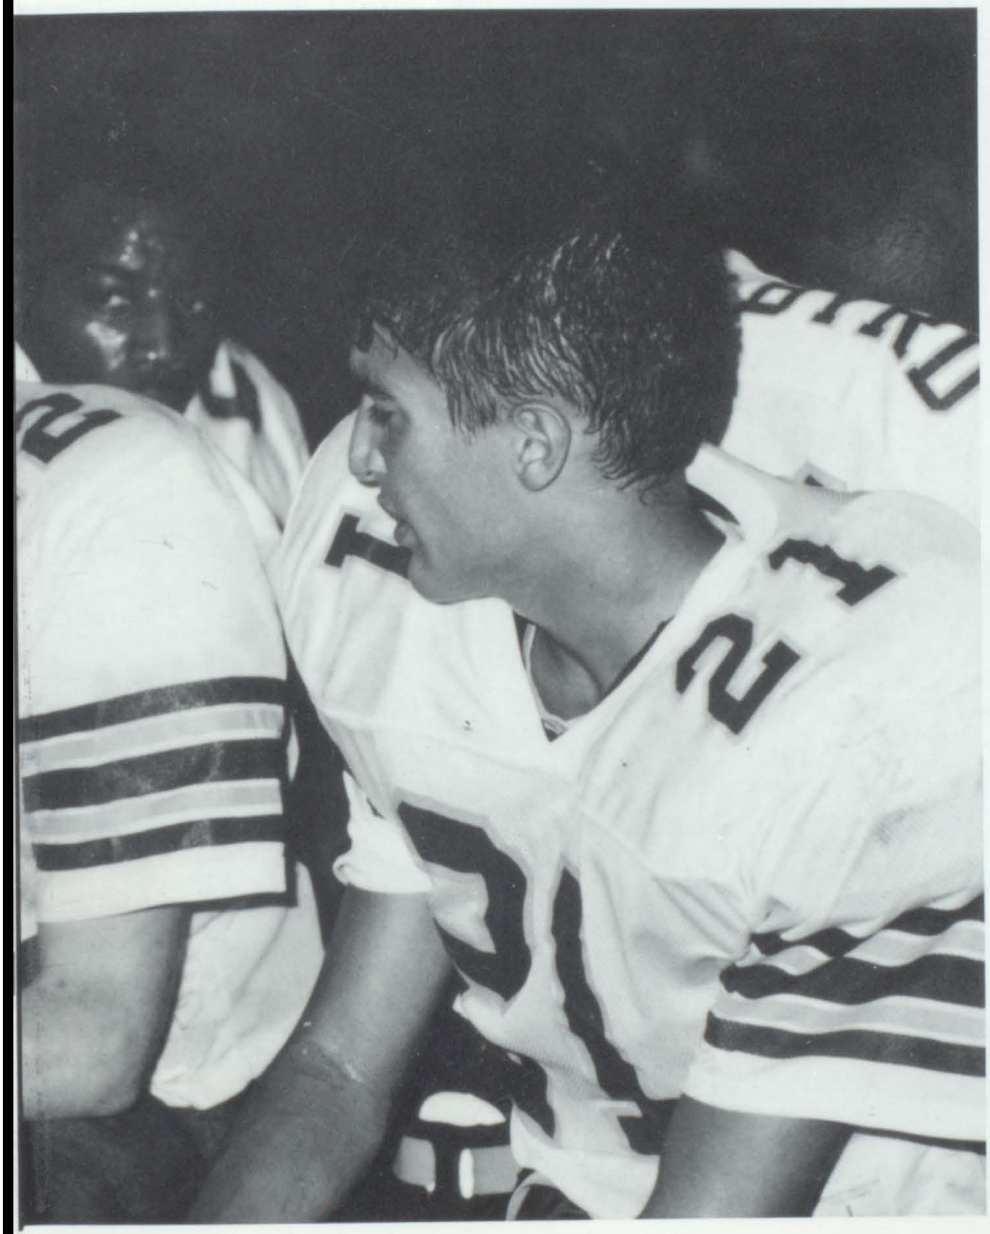
Players also worked out over the summer. For some it was hard to find the time, but Junior Todd Miller liked it. "Working out kept me in shape and off the couch."

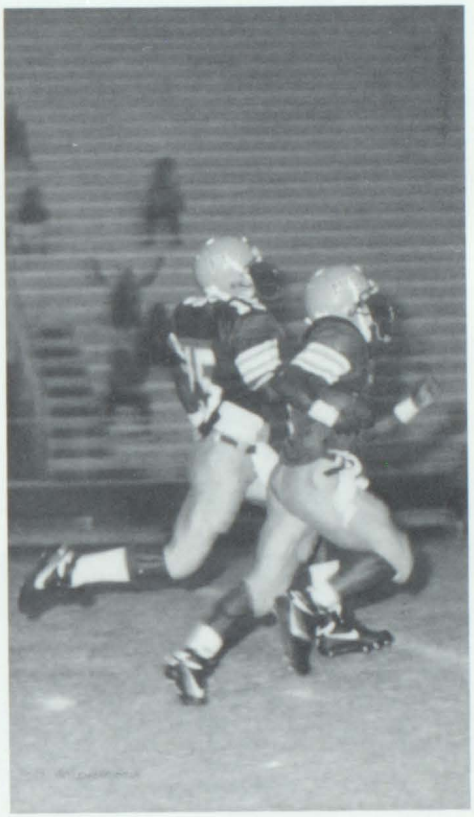
Overall, the team felt like the time and effort was worth it.

-Hunter Winterton

SMASH! Alejandro Byrd almost made a great catch during the BTW game. "I had to come back for it, it was in my hand, but when I hit the ground it came out," commented Byrd.

OFF TO THE RACES. Junior Derrick Hill races to the end zone to score a touchdown against BTW. "I was thinking I was going to be caught from behind," exclaimed Hill.





TAKING A BREAK. During the Parkway game Juniors Kyle Thomas and Louis Calligas relax during a change of possesion. "We had just gotten through with a hard series," exclaimed Calligas.

Down 14 - 0 at the half on a rainy, dismal night and there seems to be no chance. Just then Coach bursts into the locker room, only to give an adrenalizing speech on coming back. The team stampedes back onto the field with a new found source of power.

Although not many games were won this year, the half-time speech was still there. Senior Cole Sullivan said, "Coach

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Senior Robert Dowell warms up with a few simple pass routines before a game. Dowell says, "you have to learn from your mistakes."

HERE COME THE JACKETS. Junior Fred Robinson leads the Jackets onto the field right before the opening kickoff at Parkway. Robinson says, "I'm never satisfied, I always try harder to succeed on the field."

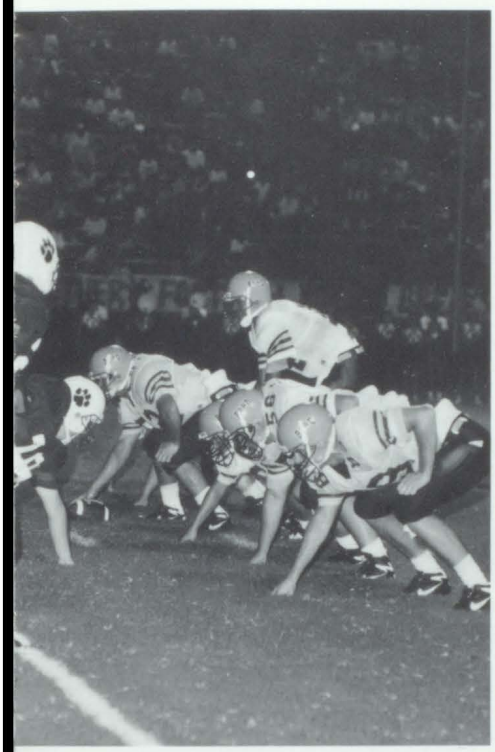
DOWN AT THE LINE OF SCRIMMAGE... Junior Todd Miller brings the Lion's drive to a sudden stop. Miller says he plays football, "for the intensity of the game."

Ab's speech pumped me up."

Although the Jackets fought hard, it was often not enough. Junior Louis Calligas said, "I prefer to win, but I love playing football anyway."

The Jackets fought hard, but were out gunned more than once. Although their record was not quite what it was last year, that's alright. They still deserve commendations for their efforts.

- Nick Pumilio



DOWN...SET...HUT-HUT! Senior Leon Murray begins a play on a drive against the Panthers. When asked if he enjoyed football win or lose Murray commented, "yes, it's just something I've grown to love."

HE COULD GO ALL THE WAY... Sophomore Kevin Stevenson gets outside the defense and heads for the end zone. Stevenson says he's always psyched up during half-time because "they always tell me I'm not doing my best."

ON THE SIDELINES! Sophomore Jim Forrester and Junior Bart Alexander wait on the sidelines for the next play. "I was thinking about the perfect play I could make so I could throw Bart a touchdown pass," said Forrester.

YOU'LL NEVER CATCH ME! Running with the ball, Sophomore Marques Ashley tries for a touchdown. "My fullback, Bobby Bell, gave me a very good block and I saw the hole so I cut into it and got twenty-four yards on it," said Ashley.

The Freshman and Junior Varsity football teams aren't just ANY football teams. They are important as any other. These teams work hard to build up their strength and skills for the years to come.

Playing football does different things for different people. For some, it is just a sport, but for others it is something else.

Freshman Jeremy Kilpatrick said,"It gives you a chance to take out your anger on others."

Junior Jeremy Moore said, "Football gives me the chance to show off my athletic abilities in front of girls."

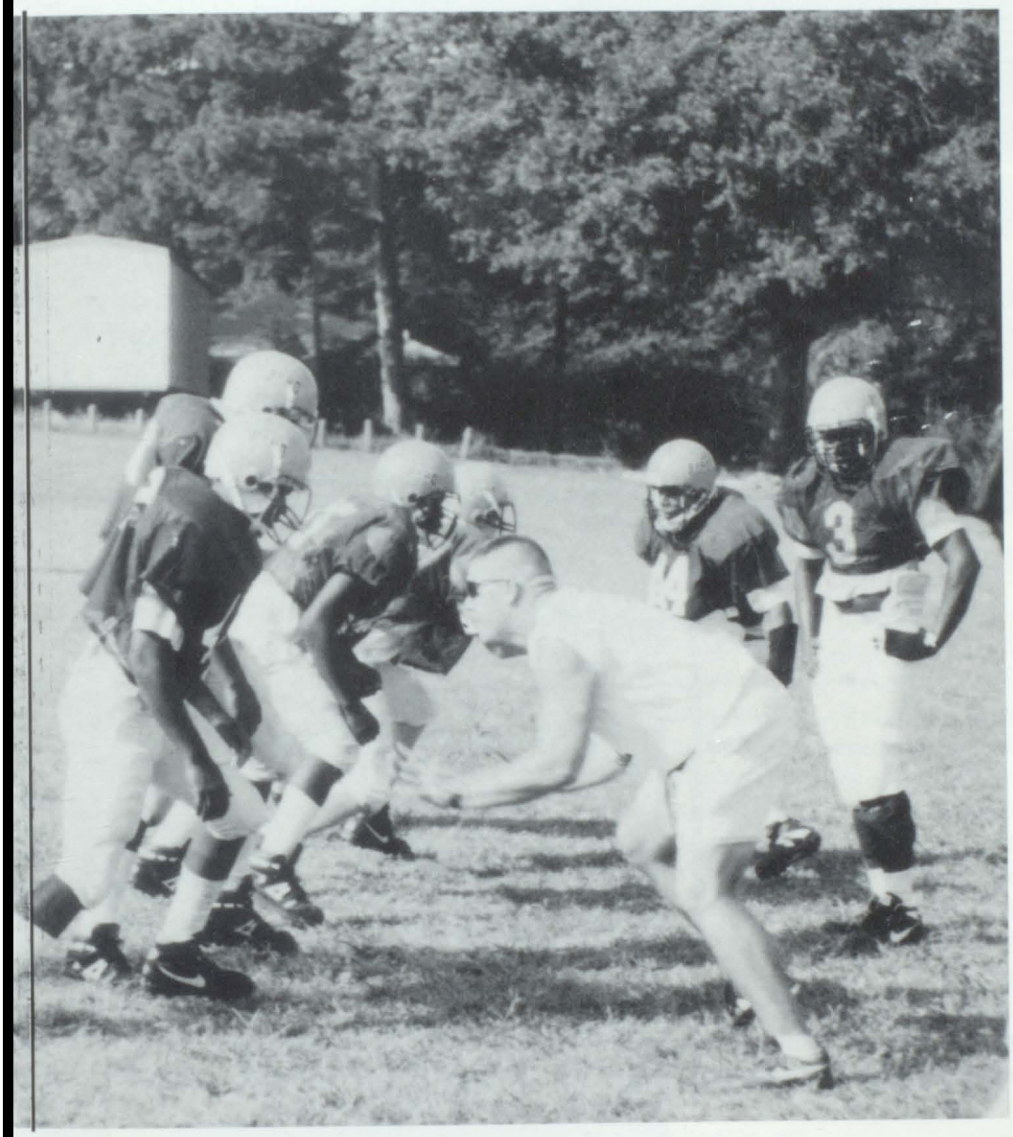
Having practice about four days a week for three and a half hours, players do many exercises.

Freshman Michael Echols said, "The hardest exercise is when we get in trouble and the coach makes us run the track and do extra windsprints."

Sophomore Wilbert Smith said, "Team defense is the hardest exercise to me."

Players will work hard for successful seasons to come.

-Bridget Johnston



WE'RE NEXT, BOYS!!! Players stand on the sideline hoping to win the game. "At this time, I was starving and I was getting my mouthpiece ready," said Sophomore Jay Brown.

SHOW US ONE MORE TIME, COACH!!! Coach Ab shows the defensive linemen how to split the gaps. "This is the first year Coach Ab is coaching defensive line. He shows us hands on and it helps us a lot," said Sophomore Luther Wilson.

TAKE IT UP STRONG! Junior basketball player Patrick Yoder takes it strong to the hoop. "A second effort always pays off," said Yoder.

USING THE BODY! Senior basketball player Larry Cooper uses his body to get position for the offensive rebound and put back. "When your shorter than most you've got to use your quickness and your body to win on the inside," said Cooper.

JUMP FOR IT! Junior basketball player Jeff Baker leaps for the opening tip in a district game against Woodlawn. "Timing is everything on the tip off," said Baker.

DECIDING ON THE BREAK! Senior basketball player Leon Murray looks to either pass or shoot on the fast break. "It's always important to know what you want to do with the ball," said Murray.

Under

Feeling the Pressure

heat to repeat

With the winning of a state championship for the boys basketball team last year, expectations of winning another championship were on the rise. How the team dealt with this added pressure would determine their fate. Senior basketball player Ray Byrd said, "The biggest obstacle for the team this year will be to get up for every game no matter who the opponent is." Motivation though was not the only thing that stood in the teams way.

The jackets avoided looking ahead in the past, but could they do it again? Looking ahead would only lead to disappointment not only to the team but their fans. "We just have to mentally prepare for each game, and take it day by day," said Senior basketball player Larry Cooper.

Another hurdle the team had to get past was the pressure from outside the school to repeat as state champs. "I believe that the media and fans sometimes expect too much or predict outcomes of games," said Sophomore basketball player Shamel Cauthen. With these pressures on the backs of the team; there was only one question to be asked. Who would carry the load?

The basketball team had another great year with a final record of 35-2. They entered the playoffs with great expectations of another championship, but unfortunately were upset in the second round of the state playoffs.

WATCH IT! Senior Larry Cooper is taken by surprise as he is fouled by a Huntington player. "All I was thinking about was breaking my fall, " said Cooper.

Are We

The road to success for

There Yet?

the Boy's Basketball team

How many times is the question asked. . . "Are we there yet?" Probably about a thousand times, especially when there are about twelve basketball players riding on a "Yellow Hound". "The longest road trip that we had to take was to Texas High, but it was worth it seeing as how they had the best training facilities and more importantly the best looking cheerleaders, "said Senior Brandon Beard.

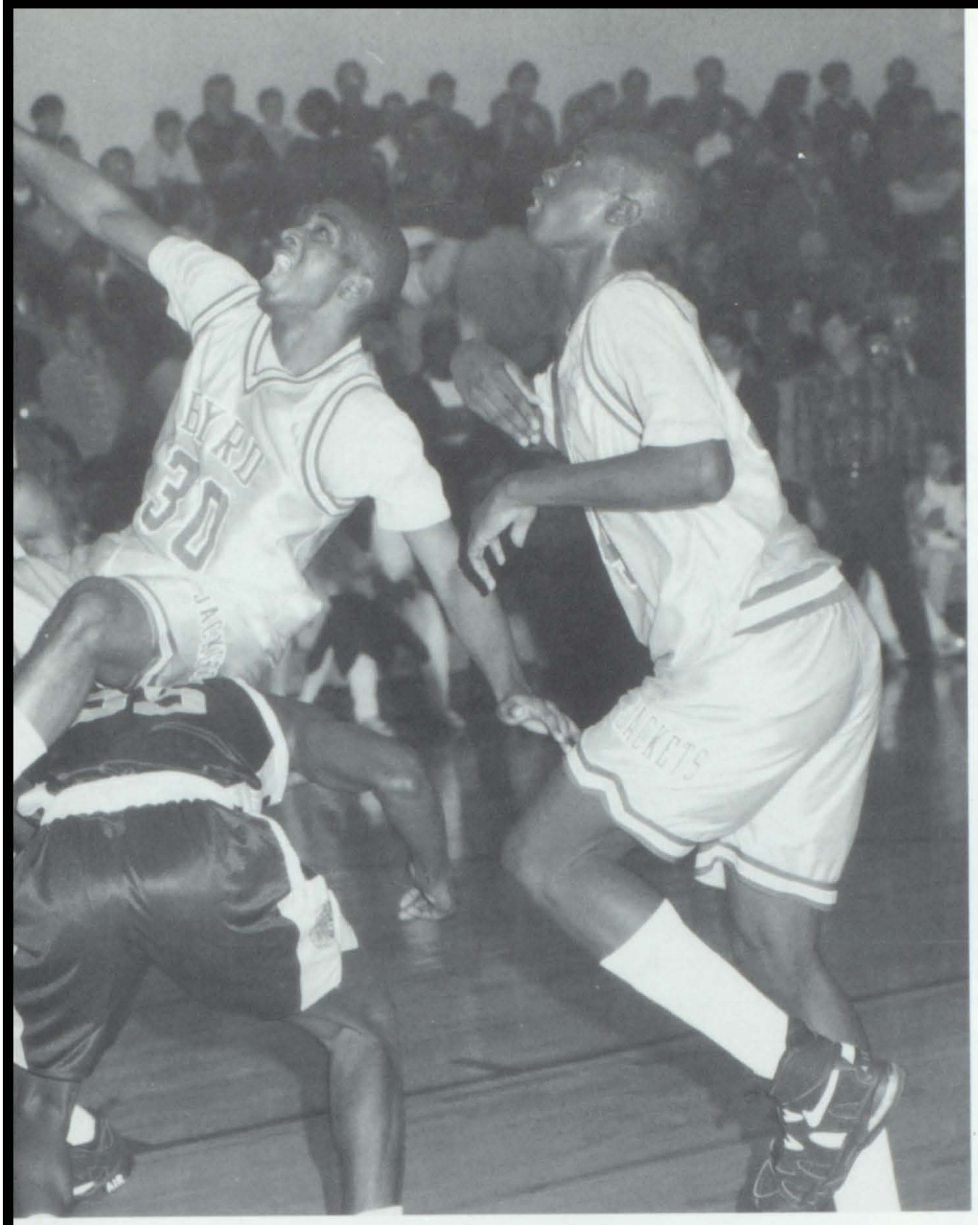
You would be quite surprised the things that some of the varsity basketball players bring with them on the road. "I like to bring my large sexy body on the road to impress all of the sisters, especially Airline's," said Senior Robert Dowell.

Road trips have also been a good bonding experience for the basketball players. "There was a war between the underclassmen and the seniors that began on the bus and did not end even at the hotel. Of course the seniors won, but it brought us all closer together," said Sophomore Shamel Cauthen.

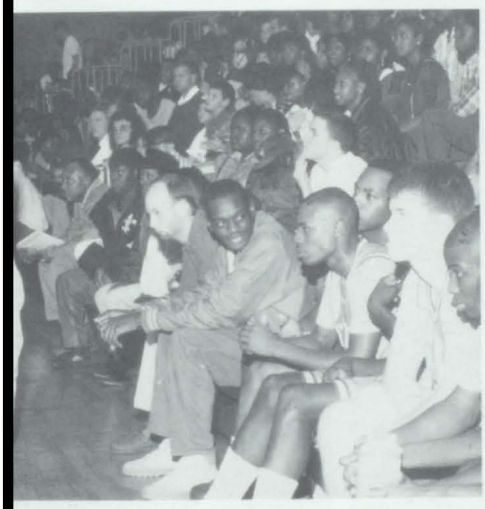
Paul Rogers & Joanna Lansdale

IT'S A JUNGLE OUT THERE! Even with three pairs of arms on him, Alejandro Byrd manages to get the shot in. "I was just concentrating on the goal, we needed that shot."

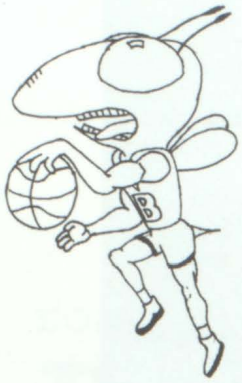
ARE YOU SURE? Coach Clinton is sure that his boys are the best around. "My kids work hard, make good grades, and are great athletes, " said Coach Clinton.



LUCK? HECK NO! Junior Jeff Baker has become a very dominant player as a forward, which some say may be luck, but he has other things to say. "Well if it's luck I'd hate to see what kind of damage I would do with my lucky Arkansas hat on, " Baker said.



AND THEY'RE OFF! Sophomore Chris Rogers takes off for the ball before it goes out of bounds, but he did not reach it in time. "I tried, but it was no use it had already gone out of bounds before I got there," stated Rogers.



WIN! Coach Howell gives the team a quick talk before going back out. "Were building slowly but it's going well," said Junior Keisha Wade.

TWO POINTS! Freshman Delesha Qualls takes careful aim for the basket. "I feel we've been playing very close games this year," said Qualls.

MOVE! Sophomore Toni Norbury runs up to take a shot."I was going up the court for a fast break," said Norbury.

Even with the loss of a coach and six starting players,the girls basketball team has once again had a winning season.

"I think were doing fine considering the people we lost," said Sophomore Trudy Tooke.

This years team,which consisted mostly of underclassman, ended the year with a great 18-13 season.

"I think we have a very young team and we're getting a lot of experience," said Sophomore Mia Washington.

With the backing of the crowd, the girls were always pumped and ready to win.

"The crowd support really pumps us up and enables us to perform to the best of our abilities," said Junior Heather Edman.

This year was one of great wins and rebuilding and it looks like our girls team will keep up the great work.

The girls went on to play in the first round of the playoffs and put up a great but unsuccessful fight.

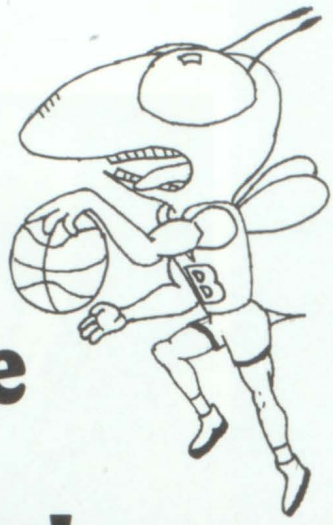
It's Or Gotta Be Is It? The Shoes!



Find a penny, pick it up, all day long you'll have good luck!

Believe it or not, a lot of people actually believe in superstitions, including the girl's varisty basketball team.

"I wear the same scrunchies each game," claimed sophomore Amanda Clark.

To most, that may not sound like much, but to them, it makes or breaks their game.

"I always wear two pair of the same socks each game... one white and one off-white," said Senoir Shameka Richardson.

Some of the lady jackets take superstition more serious than scrunchies and socks. Senior Tren Reed explains, "if I dream about a basketball game, the day before we play. We always win!"

-Veneitia Murray

DEFENSE! DEFENSE! Sophomore Meg Frazier posts up to try to steal the ball. "You have to make them work for everything," Frazier said.

DRIVIN' THROUGH FOR TWO! Sophomore Mia Washinton takes it in. "You gotta drive hard to the hole,"stated Washington.

BASKET, HEY, WE WANT A BASKET! Junior Heather Edman focuses on those two points. "Concentration and hard work pay off in the long run."

REBOUND! Junior Keisha Wade awaits to grab down the rebound. "You have to be ready to get the rebound," exclaimed Wade.

TAKE IT TO THE HOLE! Senior Tren Reed drives it to the hole. "You have too play strong, that's how you get the job done and get the baskets,"stated Reed.

The JV and Freshman Basketball teams are off to a great start this year. With a powerful punch these guys and girls come roaring on to the courts.

What do most of the players think of their coaches, teammates, the ridged schedule, and their hopes for the future???

Junior Glen Wilson, said, "Our coaches aren't mean but, it is stressful for you to do your best ."

Freshman Lauren Mason said ,"I played in middle school for Donnie Bickum and I really love the game."

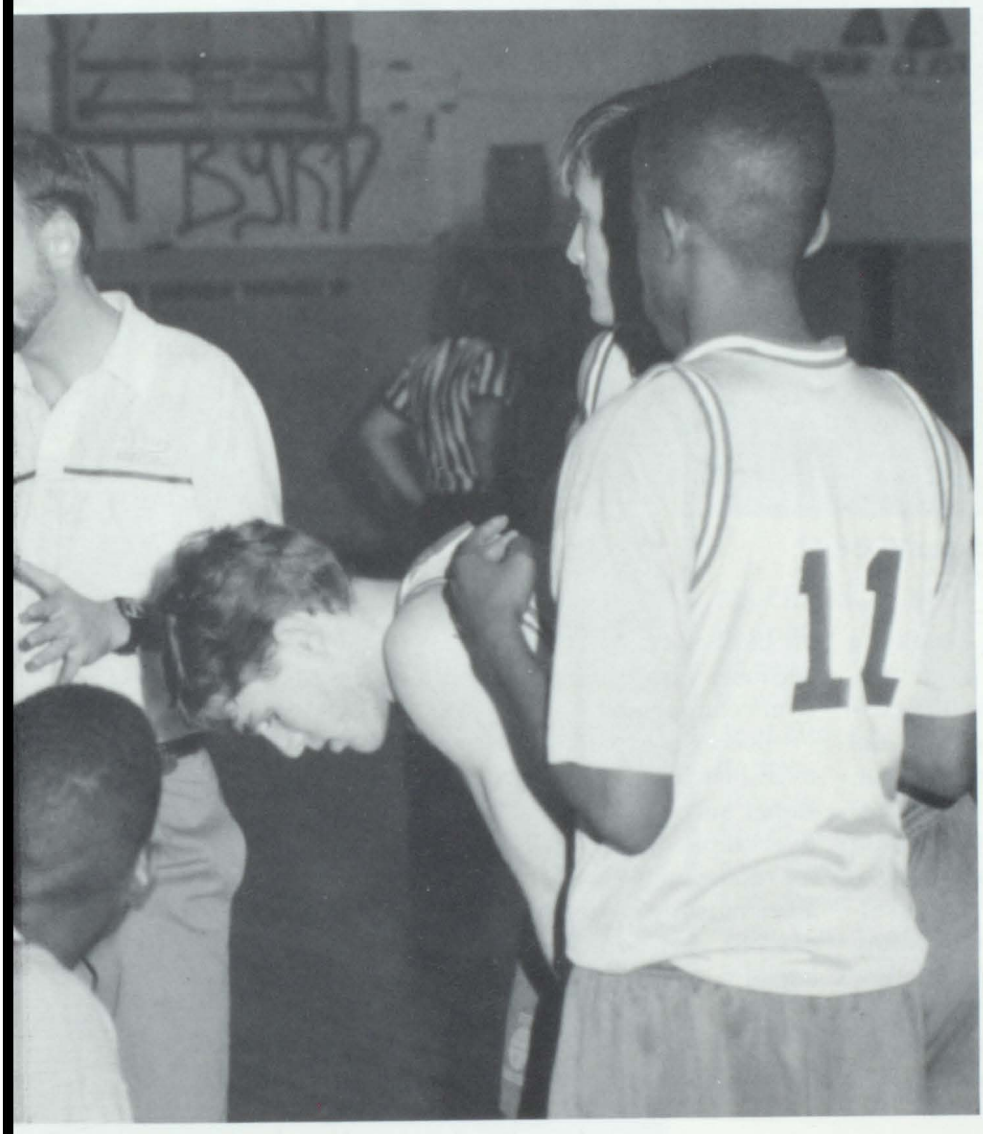
Sophomore Ashley Collingsworth said, "I am very hopeful for the future of varsity."

Meredith Duncan, a freshman, said, "I love the coaches."

Sophomore, Toni Norbury, said,"The schedule is really tough ,because we have two hour training every other day."

Coach Henderson said about the girls JV and Freshman teams,"We're on a mission to win."

-Amanda McVay



GO FOR IT! JV player Padrick Hall tries to keep the ball away from the opponents at the Woodlawn game. "I was trying my best to make the shot," said Hall

TAKE NOTICE!! Sophomore Brady LoBue listens to his coach direct the team. "I was listening up for the next plays so we could beat Huntington," said LoBue.

JUST TAKIN' A BREATHER... Senior Daniel Hermes momentarily rests while plotting his next move. Hermes said he plays, "for the competition and to stay in shape."

TAKE IT ALL THE WAY. Sophomore William Robinson gets past one defender with high-hopes of making the play of the game. Robinson said he would enjoy a profesional career in soccer because, "I would get paid to do something I enjoy."

Although soccer to some is less action packed than football or basketball, it is still loved by millions. Many play for fun but some, like Senior Quincy McKnight, are playing "to get a scholarship," McKnight stated. Others like Senior Matt Byers are playing because, "I have a love for the game," Byers commented.

Soccer is expanding into lives all over the world. When asked if professional soccer is a long-time dream, Byers replied, "Yes, playing everyday for money would be great." Soccer is an exhausting game full of an array of players, each with their own high-hopes.

Girls Soccer Team. Need we say more? There are 26 hardworking and aggresive Lady Jackets on this team.

Forward, Shanna Martin played in Oklahoma for 6 years and when she moved to Shreveport. She picked our team to play on. "I decided to play again beause it was fun and it kept me in great physical condition," said Martin.

Senior Goalie Wendy Woodham thinks soccer is one of the more intense games. "Each player is always trying to score or you are trying to keep your opponent from scoring," said Woodham.

"I think the team will do really well this year because of our strong forwards and our great defense. Plus, we have a lot of potential," said Senior Forward, Sandy Marshall.

One of the disadvantages of being on a school soccer team in Shreveport is there are not a lot of teams to play locally. Sophomore Emily Harrison said,"It is a disadvantage because we have to play teams from the South and we are not familar with their plays."

The Lady Jackets started the year with a 3-0 record, and 1 game tied.

-Heather Johnston

WHAT'S YOUR NAME AGAIN? Freshman Scott McLean works on pick-up lines while playing Bossier." It's strange playing Bossier because I've never played against girls," said McLean.

Soccer is a sport that can be played by boys and girls and is becoming more popular through the years.

Junior Steven Barnes, goalie, has been playing soccer for five years and feels that it's "a thinking man's game."

Team performances could determine a victory or loss. Freshman Sarah Voorhies, center midfield, concentrates mostly on GUNNING FOR THE ZONE. Junior Tim Mears aims for the strike zone as he tries to strike out his opponent. "I like pitching because you have to use your mind as well as your body," said Mears.

KEEPING AN EYE ON THE BALL. Junior Daniel Hermes awaits the pitch during a game against Southwood. "Our hitting will need a big improvement next year for a successful season," said Hermes.

PERFECT TIMING! Junior Casey Brossette waits for the ball as he tries to pick off his Huntington opponent. "Last year we had a young and inexperienced team, but this year (1995) our experience should pay off," said Brossette.

Playing hard is the name of the game, but does playing hard really pay off? Sophomore Timmy Godwin said, "Hard work paid off when I got in the field, especially against good competition."

Several players were seniors and this was their last year to play. Because they were leaving they weren't too happy with losing the majority of their games. "This was the seniors last year to play and seeing the look on their faces didn't make any of the other players feel any better," said Junior Jay Muller.

Although the team didn't advance to higher competition, they still gained moral support from their coaches. "Coach Abernathy prepared us mentally for what we had ahead of us," stated Sophomore Jeremy Blanchard.

Three new coaches were appointed to coach the baseball team and adjusting to them was difficult for some players. " We were struggling with the changes in our department. I hope it gets better next year," remarked Junior Justin Gordon. It was indeed a tough year for them, but they plan to have more success in the future!

FORGET THE CURVE, THROW HER THE HEATER! During a game against Southwoo, Junior Carrie Moreman awaits another pitch. "Southwood is our biggest rival and it was great to beat them twice this year," Moreman said.

ANOTHER ONE IN THE BOOKS! After a victory in a game with rival Southwood, Junior Kathryn Hobgood gladly shakes hands. "Ever since I have been at Byrd Southwood has been the team to beat.," said Hobgood.

TURN ON THE SPEED! Freshman Auburn Ziober eyes the plate as she heads down the line. "This year was really exciting, and I enjoyed playing on the team."

Our basketball and football teams were not the only groups determined to be the best in 1994. The varsity softball team completed their 12-2 season as the co-district champion with Natchitoches Central.

"Yeah, we did really well this year," said Junior Sandy Marshall.

The team had afterschool and weekend practices for two to three hours for five months.

Even though the girls had a terrific season, the stands were far from full at every game "Softball's not as popular as basketball," said Sophomore Stephanie Busch.

The lack of fans did not stop the girls from doing their best to win. Hopefully the teams winning season will make the fans come out in the multitudes to see another successful season.

"I hope the win will bring more fan support," said Coach Levermann.

SHAPING UP. Sophomore Monique Armand runs in place during conditioning drills. "Being in shape is important when softball seson rolls around," said Armand.

The junior varsity and freshmen softball and baseball teams put forth great effort this season to win as many games as they did. All the extra time and team work they put in after school showed in each game they played. Freshman baseball player Jeff Musgrove said, " It was a lot of team effort involved, so if we lost a game, we didn't blame it on anyone else."

Playing for the fun of it is mainly what these sports are all about. So really it doesn't matter if you win or lose just as long as you participated and had fun. " It's fun playing in games. I've played before

Curiosity took over players minds, because they were wondering what it would be like to play high school sports. "It's not an easy job. I just wanted to see how high school softball was. I learned things that I didn't know before with all the practicing and different techniques we had to do, " said Freshman Helen Cothran.

The softball and baseball teams both had winning seasons. They will not only have the potential of playing varsity next year, but they will aim to be the best.

Can They Do It?

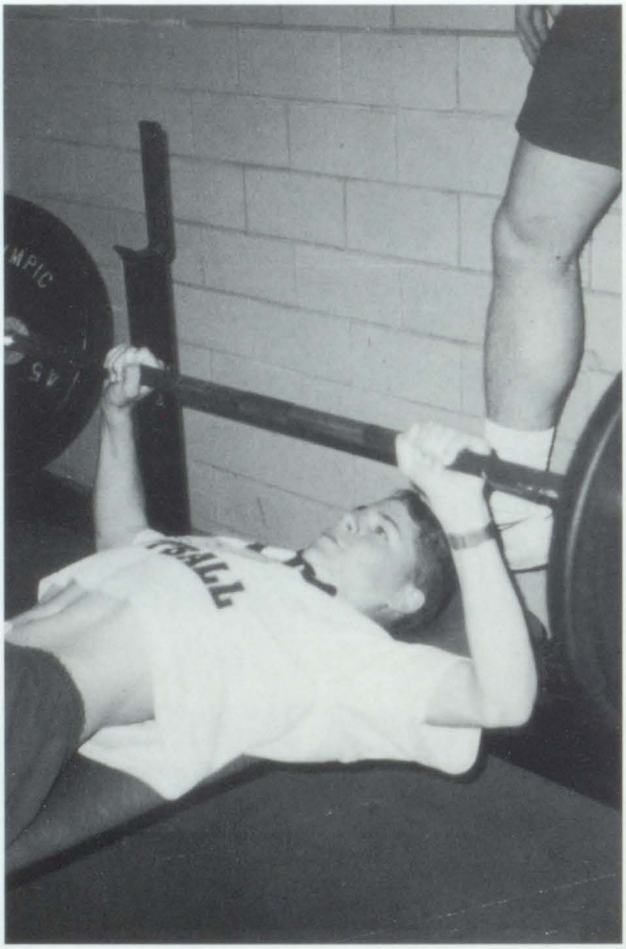
Lifting to new heights

At first glance, weightlifting may not seem like much of a sport (this writer didn't think so either). But upon closer observations, one may find it to be a competitive, rigorous, but quite possibly appealing one.

Most will agree that it is a fun activity.

"I joined because I felt that I had a chance to excel at something," said Sophomore Reggie Greider, who won first in his weight class in the state competition.

It's not all fun and games though, as



I NEED A VACATION: Whether it's for the weightlifting team, getting ready for the football season, or merely maintaining physical fitness, Sophomore Billy Beane stays hard at work pumping up. "In order to be the best, you have to go that extra mile." said Beane. "You have to be devoted to whatever you do. It doesn't matter how long it takes, but how hard you work during that time."

MORE FUN THAN IT LOOKS: Freshman Kecia Wade rolls her eyes as she lazily practices yet another squat in final preparation for the upcomig meet.

HEAVIER THAN YOU THINK. Sophomore Reggie Grieder always tries to increase his bench-pressing capacity in order to make his body more fit. "Weightlifting takes a lot of hard work and you have to keep up with it because if you don't you'll lose all your strength."

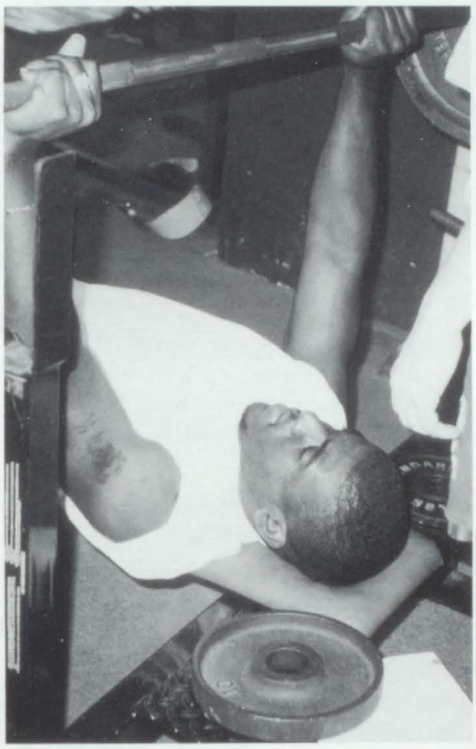
Junior Luther Wilson, fourth place winner in his weight class, found out.

"I felt cheated because they scratched my last lift," said Wilson.

So is it fun enough to do consecutively? Kecia Wade seems to think so.

"I want to be on the team next year because it is something I really enjoy and I'm good at it," said Wade.

-Lang Wardlaw



IT'S FOR THE HIGH, MAN! Junior Luther Wilson doesn't need steroids or any other drug when he lifts, the challenge enough is enough of a stimulant for him. "When I'm under the weights, it's like I'm in another world!" said Wilson. "If I don't lift it I feel like I'm the prey, but if I can get it up, I am the conqueror!"

NOT JUST AN EVENT: Freshman Terrence Dowell was never on the weightlifting team, or even in the fourth hour weightlifting class, but as a football player, he has as much use for weights as anyone else. "Weightlifting helps me a lot because it gets me ready for game days and definitely increases my performance at practice." said Dowell.

SPRINTING FOR THE TAPE! Junior Sharkeith Franks competes in the 800m relay during a track meet. "Our relay team consists of teamwork and dedication which makes us successful," said Franks.

GO THE EXTRA MILE. To Junior Matt Cooksey, "Running is a way to express yourself, to release your anger, to find limits or that you have none. It's hard work, it's discipline and the building of character. It's fun and it's a challenge."

Hopes

Set

go into season with

positive attitudes

Along with warm weather and colorful scenery, the spring of 1994 brought the successful seasons of many sports teams. Among the dedicated groups were our boys and girls track teams, who both sent members to the state meet.

Hopeful athletes had high goals before the season began. Although these goals included district and regional titles, the one idea all had in mind was reaching the state meet. However, making state was not the only reason team members had for participating in track and field events. Sophomore Tawana Calhoun ran track because, "I'm an athletic person and I feel I should use my athletic ability."

Team members who felt track offered many incentives didn't hesitate to tell others about it. "Track helps you to take more responsibilities and to gain scholarships," said Lakecia Heath, junior.

Sophomore Billy Beene said, "It [track] keeps me exercising and keeps me focused."

Competition was also an important part of running track. "If you have a desire to compete, the competition is fun," said Freshman Jared Pendergrass.

Although it encouraged team members to do their best, many worked hard even when competition was not strong. "Even if there is no competition I get nervous. I guess it's because I'm always trying to improve," said Rob Cooksey, junior.

This determination to improve was what allowed several committed track team members to excell this season, and to reach their goals, including the state meet.

OVER THE TOP! Sophomore John Durr vaults successfully over the bar in a track meet at Caddo Parish Stadium. "This was the first time I advanced to the semi-finals and I felt good about it," said Durr.

BIRDIE! Putting for the hole is Sophomore team member Michael Barrentine during a match at Querbes Park Golf Course. "It was an overall good year, but we could have done better," said Barrentine.

In The Hard work Swing Of leads players Things to success

Golf and tennis are not big spectator sports, like football or basketball, but it takes just as much effort for golfers and tennis players to have a succesful season; and they did. The tennis team won seven out of nine tournaments and sent four to the state competition. The golf team was equally successful, placing fourth in the regional and sending two to state.

It took a good bit of hard work for both teams to be as successful as they were. "It's not as easy as people think," said Sophomore Jeremy Carter, about golfing. "It's probably the most difficult game there is. You have to be consistent on how and where you hit the ball. That takes time and practice."

Junior tennis player Jeff Teitjen felt that it took the majority of his time and dedication to play tennis well. "You have to come to practice everyday," said Teitjen, "not on and off."

Freshman tennis player Kaliya Session felt her hard work would pay off in the long run. "If I keep it up, there's a scholorship in it," said Session.

Tennis and golf may not be the most popular sports, but few other sports offer such a chance to acheive personal satisfaction and recognition.

Lapping It Up

Swimming gives moral strength as well as physical

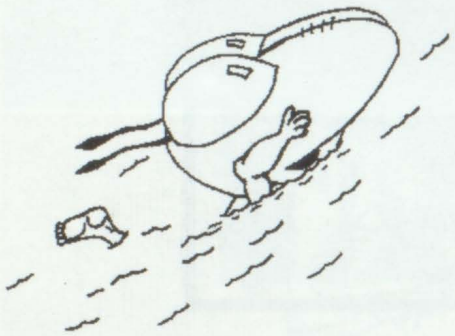
In the wide view of things, you could say that swimming promotes only physical health, but if you look closely at the people who do swim, they will tell you that not only does it promote physical health, but much more. Sophomore Diane Drake is on the Swim Team and explained how she has benefited from swimming. "It gives me discipline and keeps me in shape. It also helps me set goals for myself," said Drake.

As we all know, the ability to swim is an acquired skill. It takes hard work and determination. Swimming for competition, however is altogether different from recreational swimming. "Swimming is fun for recreation, but I have to be in a completely different frame of mind to compete, "said Sophomore Scott Sugar.

Swimming is not all the team does, though. The Swimming Team also conditions their bodies by weight training. " We work our arms, legs, basically our whole bodies," said Freshman Sarah Carter.

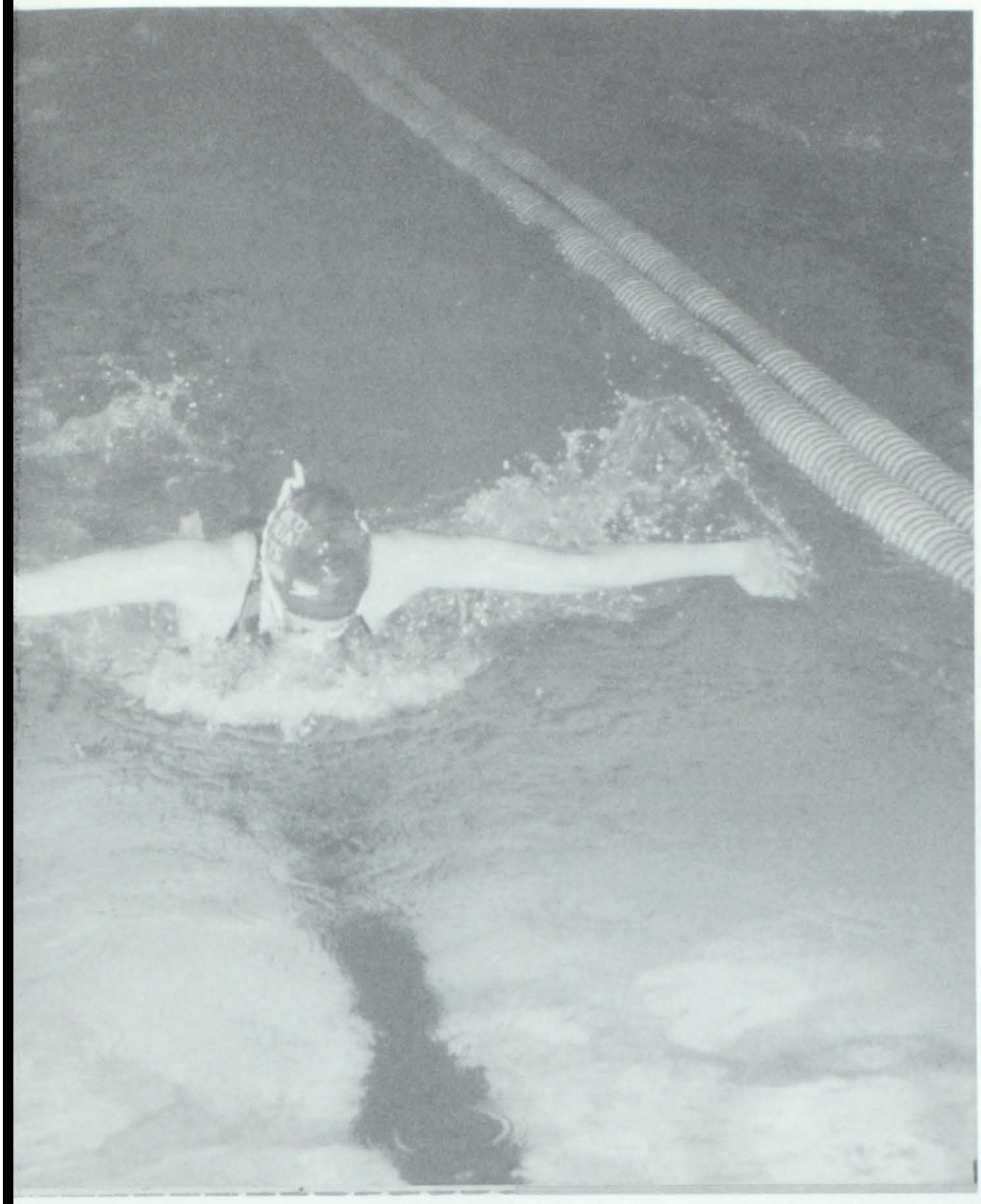
Swimming can be fun if you want it to be, but being on a team means hard work, practice, and a little skill. Just ask any member of the Swim Team.

-Craig Seals



LIFT AND TUCK . Freshman Sarah Carter puts her hair in a bathing cap before getting in the water. "The cap makes us more streamlined so we can move faster and easier in the water," said Carter.

BREAK TIME ! The Swimming Team takes a break between laps to goof off. Junior Rebecca Griffith said, "It's hard work and some fun, but in the end, it's worth it."



MAKIN' WAVES. Sophomore Diane Drake practices the butterfly stroke. "It's a tough stroke to do, but with practice it gets easier," said Drake.

SPLASHIN' AROUND. Sophomore Caroline Grieder makes her way to the other side of the pool to complete another lap. "Swimming laps can be boring, but it conditions you to be able to swim even farther in the meets," said Grieder.

Sports

Non-traditional Unlimited

sports lure atheletes

There's not a moment to waste when you're too busy practicing or competing all around the country, devoting most of your time to a sport most people are not familar with.

Scuba diving is one of those sports. "I concentrate mostly on my breathing while I'm underwater,"said Sophomore Adam Duncan,who has been scuba diving for over two months now. Exploring and learning more about sealife is what Duncan finds most interesting. Popular places to scuba dive are Florida and Texas.

Another sport that involves competing around the country is rodeo. It's SPLISH SPLASH! Juniors Angie Rowe and Stacy Balleu went skiing at Lake Bistineau. "I love to ski. I've been skiing all my life," said Rowe.

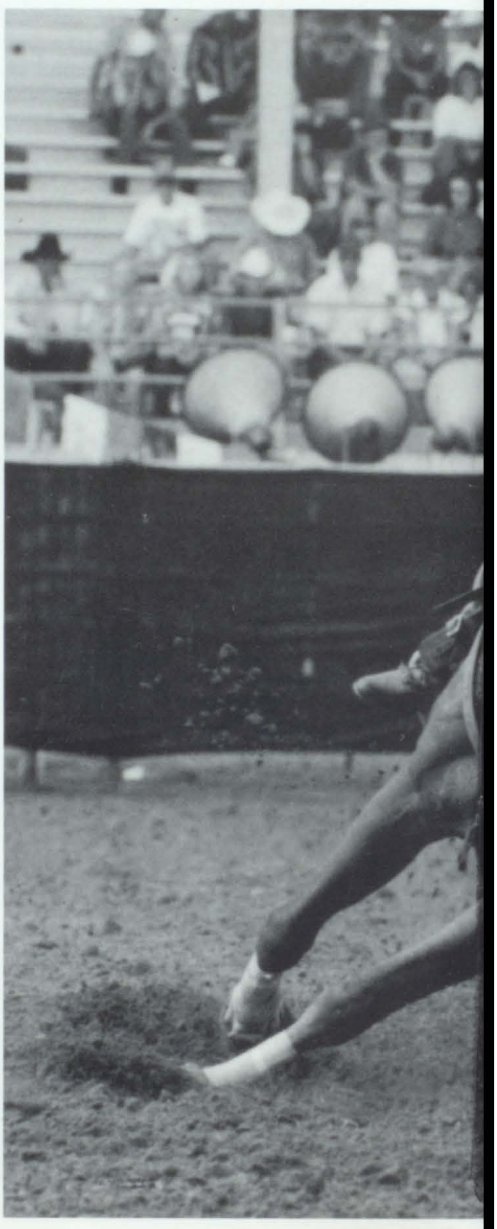
WAY TO GO! Sophomore Heather Sawyer won "this six-foot trophy at a Spurrette competition at Holiday-N-Dixie." She has been twirling for eight years.



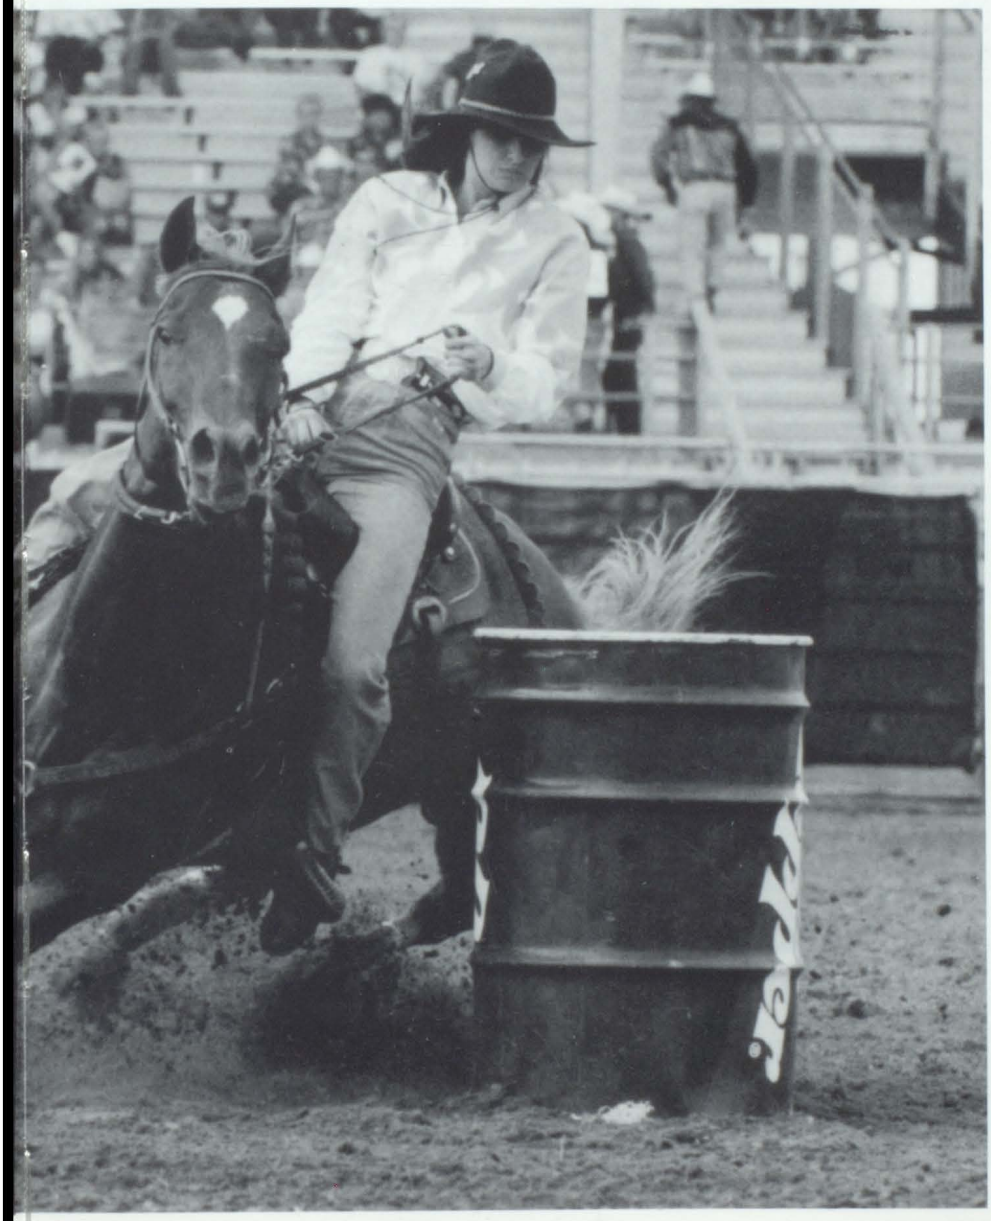
challenging,hard work, features a lot of cowboy/cowgirl skills, and gives great entertainment. Concentration and enthusiasm is what it takes to compete. "I think about going out there and doing my best," said Freshman barrel racer Haley Randall. Rodeoing consist of a lot of experienced riders. Randall says her favorite part of riding is "winning."

Baton twirling, hunting, fishing, water skiing, etc., are some other sports that interest people. Freshman Dustin Martin says the most exciting part of water skiing is "ramping the waves." These sports, like many others,take a lot of time and most of all, a lot of practice.

-Melissa Wichmann

BYE.BYE, BAMBI. While hunting in Texas, Junior Bart Alexander "shot this monster at a dead sprint from 300 yards away." Alexander has been hunting since he was six-years-old.

BRRR!!! During a trip to Taos, New Mexico, Junior Patrick Yoder went snow-skiing. "When I was skiing, some good-looking girl passed by and I went off the edge of a cliff and got stuck in a tree. "It wasn't his first ski trip!



YEE-HAW! Junior Regina Cragar competes at International Final Youth Rodeo in Shawnee, Oklahoma, on July 18-22. "After the first go-round, I was in the top 30 out of 150 contestants," Cragar said. She has been riding barrels for 14 years.

We've Got

High-Spirited cheerleaders

Spirit

strut their stuff

Yes We Do

The varsity cheerleaders have returned for the 1994-95 school year, but this year's squad is a "little" different.

The 94-95 cheerleaders only have 10 members, as opposed to last year's 14. The bigger, the better? Not so! Senior Shawn Shea said, "A smaller squad makes us closer but limits the amounts of things that we can do (such as stunts)."

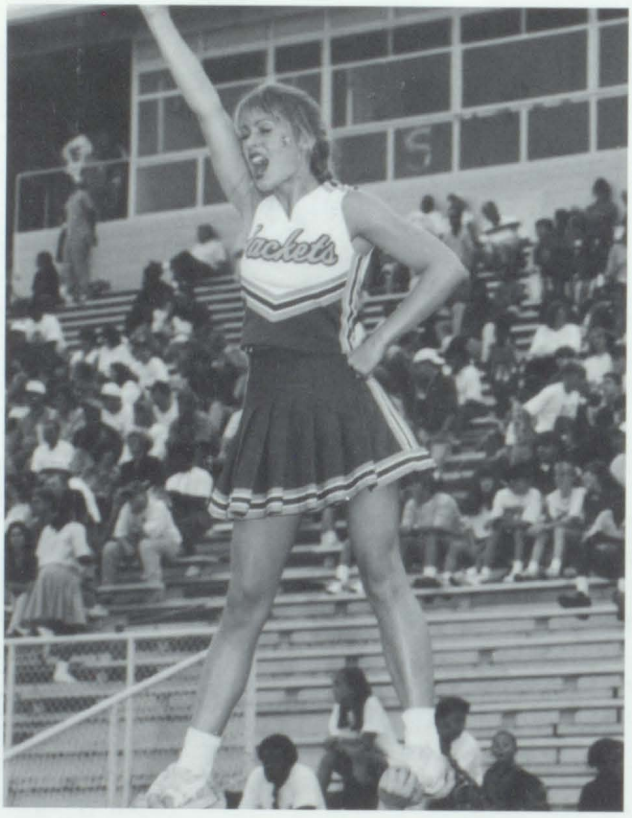
Cheerleading tryouts are held at the end of each school year and the squad is chosen by a panel of judges and the student body's vote. Try-outs consisted of an introduction of each candidate, a group cheer and a group dance.

After the squad was chosen, they attended cheerleading camp at Louisiana Tech in June to learn new stunts, cheers, chants, dances, and most of all, how to work together as a team. Junior Jennifer Muslow said that she thinks that "cheerleading is a lot of fun because you make new friends, but it's also hard work."

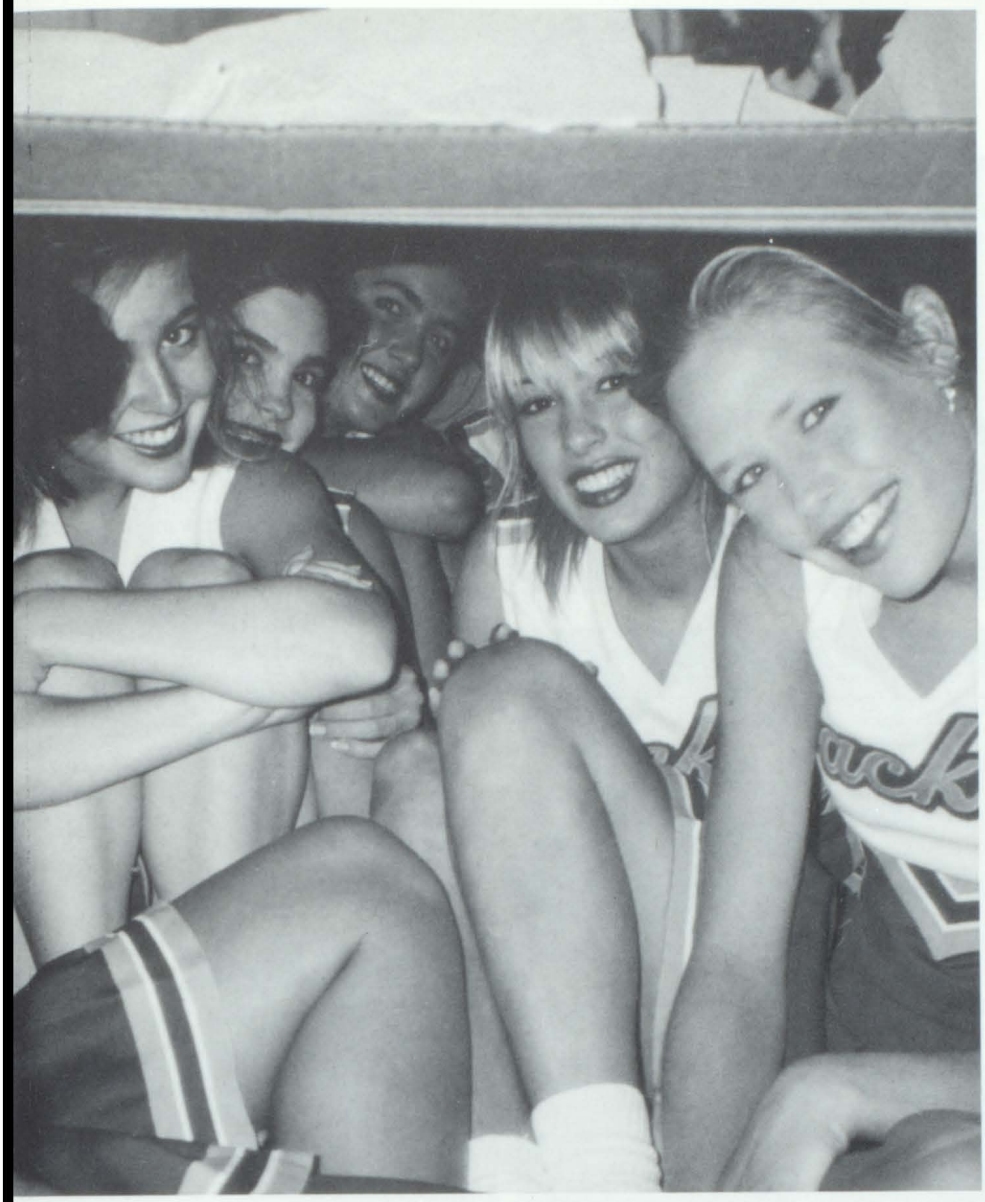
The cheerleaders' hard work and lots of practice paid off at the beginning of the school year. They managed to get the student body hyped up for the game during pep rallies. Misty Futrell, a junior, said, "It's fun to watch everyone get wild and crazy at the pep rallies and games."

"Performing at the first pep rally of the year is always the most rewarding," said Senior Jennifer Young.

-Candice Woodrow



TAKING A NAP. "Wake me when we're done, " Junior Misty Futrell said while she rested in the middle of a stunt at the BTW football game.



GRIN AND BEAR IT. Junior Johnette Wynne covered up her pain while crammed in a box with nine other people. "Hurry up and take this picture. I've got a killer neck cramp," exclaimed Wynne.

CHEERIN' THE CROWD ON. "Jackets let's go, let's go," Junior Sonya Cooper cheered to the freshmen during Parkway pep rally.

JACKETS LET'S GO, LET'S GO... Senior Tanesha Mosley cheers the football team on against the Raiders. "I like to cheer because it gives me an opportunity to support the team and show school spirit," said Mosley.

1994-95 Varsity Cheerleaders

OH, IT FEELS SO GOOD, UGH! J.V. Cheerleader Brandi Rowton exclaims, "We have fun cheering for our undefeated football team!" The team went on to beat Captain Shreve that night and carry on the winning streak.

1994-95 Freshman Cheerleaders

1994-95 JV Cheerleaders

WHO ARE THE JACKETS? Brandy Gosby, a J.V. Cheerleader says " Cheerleading is fun, but sometimes hard. I have done it for two years and plan to do it in the future."

The girls with the skirts and the shaggy, pom-poms go wild when a T.D. or a tackle is made. Who are they? They are the young and the restless - the freshmen/J.V. cheerleaders.

Many do not realize that the girls go head over heels when their does well, especially when it is a Friday night and the varsity football team is playing. Brooke Alexander, a freshman cheerleader, is looney over, "Bart Alexander, number 81, because he's the hottest guy in the world!" Wait a minute, is that her brother?

Freshmen and even some of the J.V. cheerleaders feel pressured into cheerleading because their friends are doing it. But cheerleader Kim Laudenheimer said, "I tried out for cheerleader because I wanted to get involved with school activities and make new friends."

Worst fears can range from wearing the wrong socks to flipping and falling. Courtney Guy, a J.V. cheerleader, said, " The worst would be forgetting the motions."

The young and the restless will always be flipping and falling as long as high school freshmen and J.V. sports carry on throughout the years.

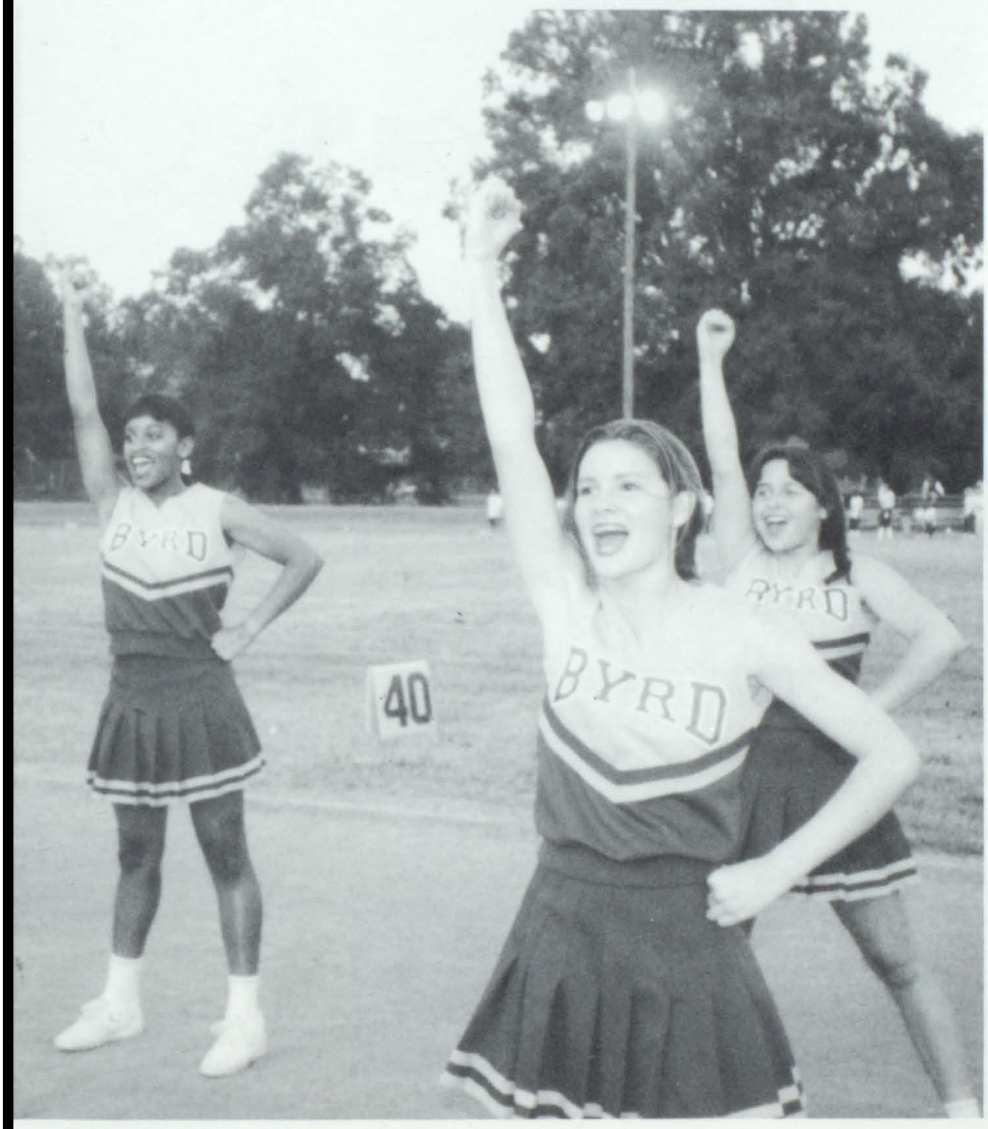
Flipping and Falling



GO JACKETS, GO! The best part of a game is cheering for a friend. Freshman Montrice Hartwell cheers loudly when Arnez Battle completes a pass saying, "I love cheering for my friends, like Arnez."

FIRE IT UP JACKETS, FIRE IT UP! Freshman Minou Fritze stated, "I was really excited about finding out that I was nominated head cheerleader. It has been a lot of fun." Keeping freshmen cheerleaders under control when there is an awesome football team is a hard thing to do, but Minou handled it.

Precision makes

There

everything perfect

It Is!

With precision as the main goal of the Highsteppers, the members must work long and hard throughout the weeks of the year to perfect the routine performed for the audience. The Highsteppers practice two and a half hours a day Monday through Friday and even twice a day during the summer to improve their kicks, jumps and sharp moves.

"Everyone must work together as one and not by themselves," says Becky Leonard, junior.

To make everything just right before the big perfomance... "Everyone has to tryout for each dance. Mrs. Cobb and the officers choose the best dancers to perform," says Tina Hopins, sophomore.

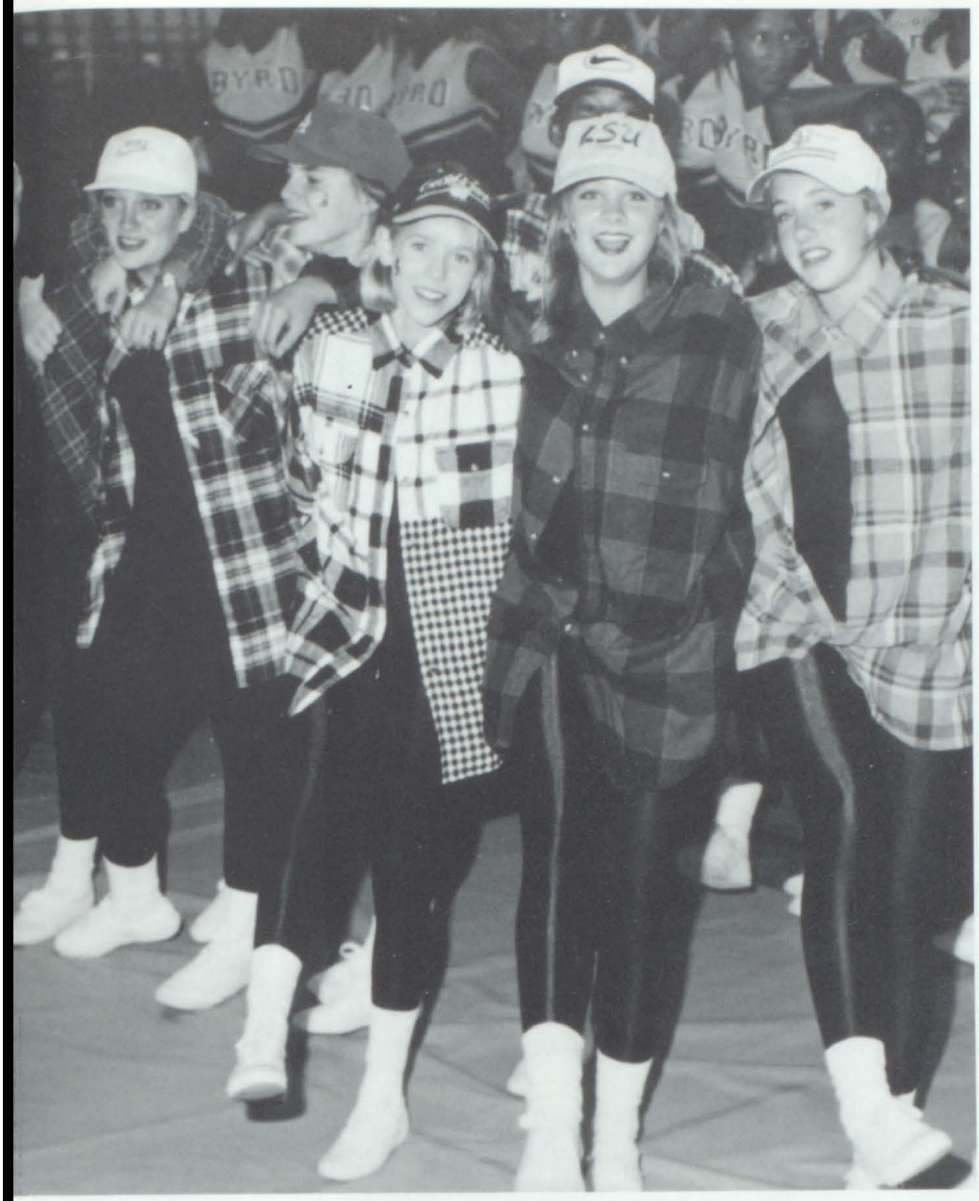
The hard work is evident in their stellar performances through the football and basketball seasons.

According to senior Keisha Carthen, "responsibility and friendship, " are personal goals many members hope to gain from their experience as a Highstepper.

- Melissa Johnson

LEAN ON ME. The Highsteppers joined in on the Alma Mater at the end of the B.T.W. Pep Rally. "You have to be willing to put all your effort into a performance - to amaze the crowd," said Kathryn Howell, sophomore.

RISING ABOVE THE REST. At the Welcome Back to School Pep Rally, the Highsteppers ended their performance with a bang. "While up in the air all I'm worrying about is being dropped or not," replied Mauri Chidlow, sophomore.



STRETCH IT OUT. Everyday during sixth hour, the Highsteppers loosened up before they started dancing. Rachel Tennison, senior, said, "The hardest stretch is doing the splits and touching your chest to the floor."

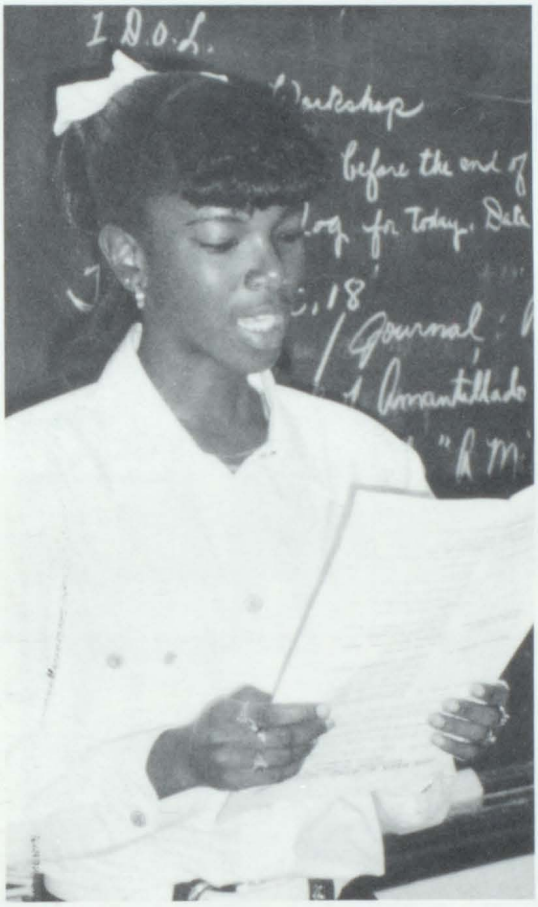
LET ME SEE... Sophomore Nichol Johnson is trying to make the right decision on who to vote for. "It is so hard to choose, there are too many qualified people running."



HERE I GO AGAIN. Freshman Carla Garner is a Student Council Representive. "Reading the announcements everyday is one of my responibilities in this position."

NO POSTERS, NO SIGNS. WHAT'S A CANDIDATE TO DO?

Campaigning for Office

Elections are here! The school year means new clubs and class officers.

While you are walking down the hall you see no posters and no signs. What is up? The administration says mp campaigning!

"I think the rule about no posters and no signs is crazy. People can tell how dedicated you are by the time you spend working to get this office," said Senior Hillary McKibben.

Junior Connor Burke said, "It really does not matter to me, but since we cannot make them, I have one less thing to worry about."

Sophomore Mary Harper was relieved when she saw that posters and signs were not allowed. "I was glad I did not have to worry about making them, putting them up, and taking them down."

Freshman Marianna Carmouche knew exactly how to handle this rule. "I told all of my friends to tell their friends to vote for me, and I announced I was running every week in all of my classes."

-Heather Johnston

AND THE WINNER IS..."I enjoy going on club trips so I can get out of class. The ride home is the best especially when you win," explains Junior Courtney Headcock.

THAT'S THE ONE. "Student Council is one of the many clubs where you make lots of friends and gain leadership ability," says Jack Chaney.

CLUB TRIPS RACE TO THE FINISH

And...They're...Off

Trips are taken each year by different clubs. Some trips are taken for the enjoyment and learning experiences, others are taken to help and improve something in the community.

"I went with the art club to the Revel. We painted faces and helped at the tot tent," says Courtney Jones, junior.

Many trips take a long time to be planed with money to be raised and permission slips to be signed, but there are also those that are at the spur- of- the- moment trips.

"In biology club we work all year to go on an awesome free trip at the end of the year," explains Sarah Glorioso, junior.

Trips are ways the students can free their minds of math and relax during a school day.

"I enjoy going on trips very much. It gives me a chance to go places I normally wouldn't go on my own time, " says Veneitia Murray, senior.

-Melissa Johnson

COUNT 'EM ...ONE...TWO...THREE. While on the Biology Club trip last spring, many lessons were learned. "I finally did it, I skipped stones (across water)," said Mrs. Clinton, science teacher.

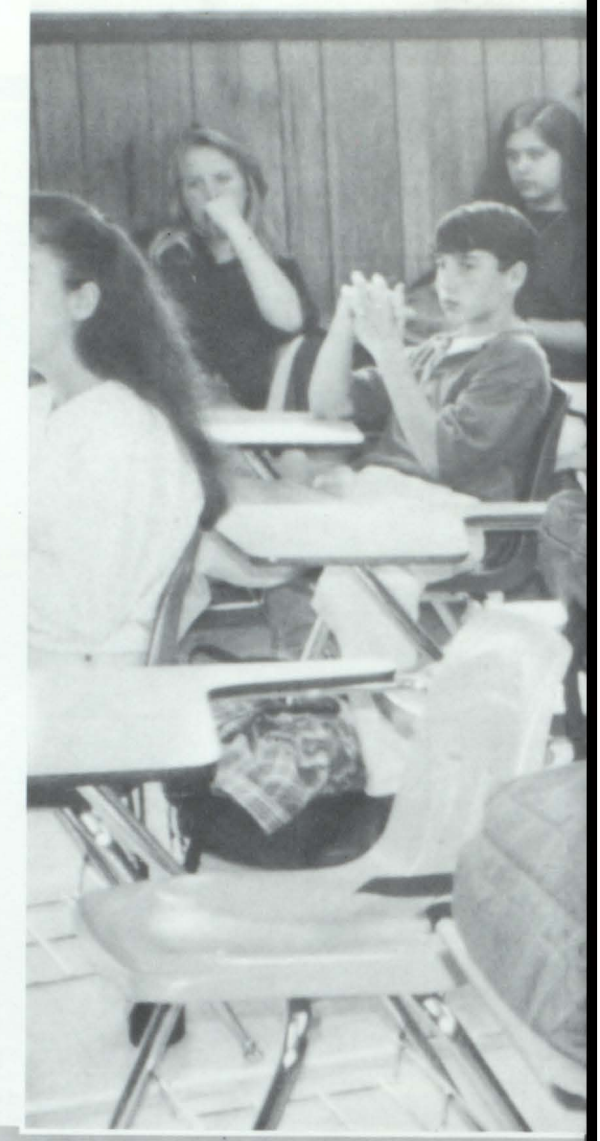
WHERE DOES ALL THE MONEY GO?

Vanishing Act



Did you ever wonder where all that hard-earned money went when you hand it over for club fees ? You're sitting there wondering where it it goes or what the club uses your money for.

All students contribute to the treasuries of all of the 57 groups at our school. Freshman Drama Club member Bridget Lee said, "In Drama Club most of our money goes toward buying props, paint and other useful things."

Swim Club member April Kleem said, "I think that they go to help and support clubs." Freshman Shamira Moore, an Art Club member said, "Most of our fees go towards buying posters and paint." Stacey Ballew ,a Junior Key Club member said, " We use club fees because we have international dues."

"We buy T-shirts for the T-shirts committee and we also buy accounting books and calculators," said Wilbert Smith, a sophomore FBLA member .

So if you're wondering where all that money goes towards clubs, you can just look back and see what your fellow classmates think about the uses of club fees.

FOREIGN CULTURE TAKES C.E.BYRD

We're Going Abroad

Hola! Bonjour! Have you ever wanted to visit Germany, Spain, France, Russia, or some other exchange country? Or just learn about their language and culture?

Each year C.E. Byrd has a number of exchange students to attend . Byrd also has a number of foreign language classes such as Spanish, Latin, French, and for the first year, German.

German exchange student Lisa Stahl says that her first American memory was, "when I arrived in America, my host family was there to greet me and all of the American jokes carried in Germany came to mind."

Vadim Gorovoy, Russian exchange student, said that his favorite part of Byrd so far is,"Mrs. Whitehead, the Danceline, and all of the nice people".

Foreign language classes and clubs also play a big part in foreign culture. Mrs. May's Spanish I class dressed up according to their desired occupations and gave a brief description of themselves and their assigned country in Spanish.

The JCL, also known as the Latin Club, attends the JCL state convention held in Alexandria, La. for academic, cultural, and athletic competitions.

STUDENTS HOSE DOWN HOT WHEELS

Squeaky Clean

To some people, car washes are just an ordinary part of life, but to Byrd's clubs and organizations, they are a basic form of fundraising. From Danceline to Biology Club, car washes are a major source of cashflow.

Biology Club member Junior Steven Gallien, commented on the club's annual car wash. "I hope that when we have the car wash, we rake in the dough," said Gallien. Danceline held their car wash in October. Danceline member Senior Rachel Tennison said, "Our car wash was fun, but I got wet!"

Car washes are usually a way for a club or organization to raise money, but they could also be an effective way of introducing a new club to the community.

" Car washes are cool because you get to hose off some sweet cars," said Biology Club member Junior Jonathan Jahnke.

So just remember, the next time you pass a student car wash, stop and get one because you just may be helping our organizations.

TEACHERS' HARD WORK APPRECIATED BY STUDENTS

An Apple a Day Gets You An A

Contrary to popular belief, teacher appreciation does occur more often than one week out of the school year. Clubs have put an end to this belief by making strong efforts to support teachers all throughout the school year. Student Council has done so by giving the teachers monthly gifts of food. They are also responsible for giving away gift certificates and Strawn's Pies during teacher appreciation week to four lucky teachers drawn from a hat. Junior Student Council Member Jennifer Gulliot said, "Teacher appreciation helps to srengthen the student- teacher bond."

Z- Club is another organization that supports teachers throughout the school year. Every other week the club bakes cookies for the teachers. They also have certain teachers that they help for one hour weekly doing odd jobs. Senior Z- Club member Jessica Thomas said, "It is a good way to show the teachers we appreciate all they do.

One last contributor to the benefit of teachers is National Honor Society. N. H. S. 's main project in the past was to tutor students in the library. This year though, members will go to classrooms to help teachers out with tutoring students. "Tutoring in the classroom helps take some of the stress off the teachers during E. I. P.," said Senior NHS member Anthony Russell.

TEAM WORK. Biology Club works together as a team on their Boo Bag fundraiser. "Nothing is more exciting than making Boo Bags!" Senior James Alford said.

SPONSOR KNOWS BEST. The newspaper staff has to work together in order to meet deadlines. "High Life brings many questions that only Mrs. Hopkins can answer," Senior Matt Byers said.

WHAT'S UP DOC? Greg Little and Dr. Bazer have deep thoughts together. "No one has better advice than Dr. 'B'!" Junior Greg Little said.

SPONSORS GIVE THEIR TIME TO CLUBS

From the Podium to the Flagpole

Often students don't realize the time and effort that sponsors put into their clubs. "I work with officers to schedule meetings, plan activities, have fundraisers and give advice but I mostly make the officers do the work, " said three-year Key Club Sponsor Dr. Bazer.

"Dr. Bazer supervises all of the activities of Key Club and spends roughly I believe three to four hours a week planning meetings and community service activities," said Senior Keith Payne.

"I spend a majority of my time calculating participation points of the students and then entering them into the computer. As a sponsor I help out with the Boo Bags and plan fundraisers so the students can earn their points and money for the end of the year Biology Club trip," said Biology Club Sponsor Ms. Williamson.

Most of the time the clubs are successful by the sponsor and the students working together to achieve those goals.

CANDY FOR SALE! Hard at work, the helpers in ROTC department eat candy and still have time to do their job. "All day long we distributed, organized, and ate candy," said Senior Michelle Williams.

CANDY ANYONE! Candy sales are one way to help raise money for JROTC. "They are important to the JROTC because when the Military Ball gets here, we won't have to eat the same food every year," said Junior Laquisha Fergerson.

YUMMY, YUMMY, YUMMY. I WANT SOMETHING IN MY TUMMY!

Get Your Sweet Tooth Ready

Food drives and candy sales help out the clubs and organizations. Food drives help out in many ways. "Food drives help place food on the table for those in need. If more people participated in food drives there would be less starvation. Food drives not only will help those with homes, it helps those without," said Sophomore Keisha English.

Do you think you should receive bonus points for bringing food foe food drives? Of course you think you should. "I think if you are willing to bring food, then you should be rewarded," said Freshmen Heather Burchett.

Some students think that you should get bonus points on your intelligence and brains, not on bringing food. "I think bonus points should depend on your grade and how you do in that class, and not if you help a teacher win a contest," said Sophomore Stephanie Lavery. So teachers: it's your decision. If you want to, cool, if not, sorry students.

Candy sales turn out to be a big success, but alot of hard work and dedication is involved for those sales. "I think candy sales are cool," said Junior Dimi Mora.

Most people appraciate the candy sales and try to help out, but most are others who do not. "Candy sales are a waste of time and it's not worth the time and trouble," said Sophomore Brad Kerley.

BRINGING PRIDE BACK TO BYRD

Through the Years

We have our t-shirts, bumper stickers, sweatshirts, pins, tatoos, and let us not forget the hats. Everywhere you look, there is some type of school spirit or pride showing.

"Pride and spirit will always be at Byrd because Seniors and Freshmen are always going and coming," said Junior Sara Burnley.

Junior Karen Knotts said, "If more of the students get involved with clubs and other activities, they will feel as though they are a part of Byrd and more pride will be shown."

The Ravenna Courtyard is one of the many things students take pride in. Junior Michael McCrary said, "Not only are the students proud of it, so is everyone else. It proves even though you graduate from school, years from now you will still love it and have pride in it."

Z-Club and Key Club bring pride to Byrd in many ways. "We do a lot of things for the community, we go to nursing homes, clean up places, and do various other things. When we do service projects, it makes people look at our school in a good way," said Junior Jeff Baker.

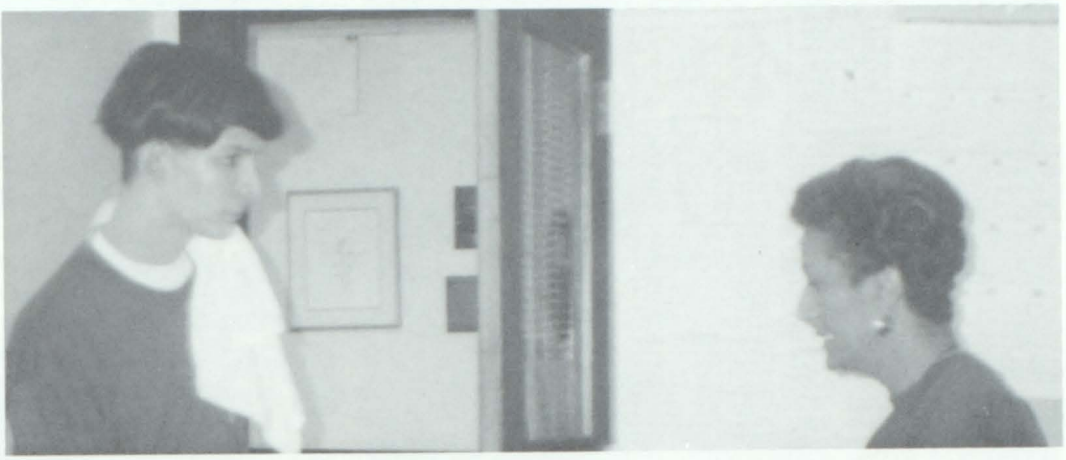
HELPING OUT IN THE OFFICE!!! Being a Top Jacket, Senior Taro Digney helps Mrs. Rhodes out in the office. "What am I supposed to do?" asked Digney.



CANDY, CANDY, CANDY!!! Sophomore Cate Scheffy and other Biology Club members stay after school to finish the Boo Bags so they can be delivered to the students. "Even though I had to stay after school hours, I enjoyed putting the Boo Bags together," said Scheffy.

CLUBS PITCH IN TO MAKE LIFE BETTER

Lending a Helping Hand

Today's teenagers are usually thought of as lazy and selfish; but many students enjoy helping out.

"I personally feel that helping out is a great way to feel good about yourself," said Sophomore Vanessa Holland.

Different clubs have programs to help teachers, to tutor students, to volunteer at the Revel, and to help the needy. Many clubs require the students to perform a certain number of activities.

"In Key Club, I receive credit hours for helping out," said Junior Chad Sepulvado.

Even if it is not required to volunteer, some students feel it is their duty.

"I like helping out because it gives me a chance to work with the community. I think all clubs should help out because we are representing the school," said Sophomore Shannon Sullivan.

Our clubs get students involved with the community and show people that teenagers care about the welfare of other people.

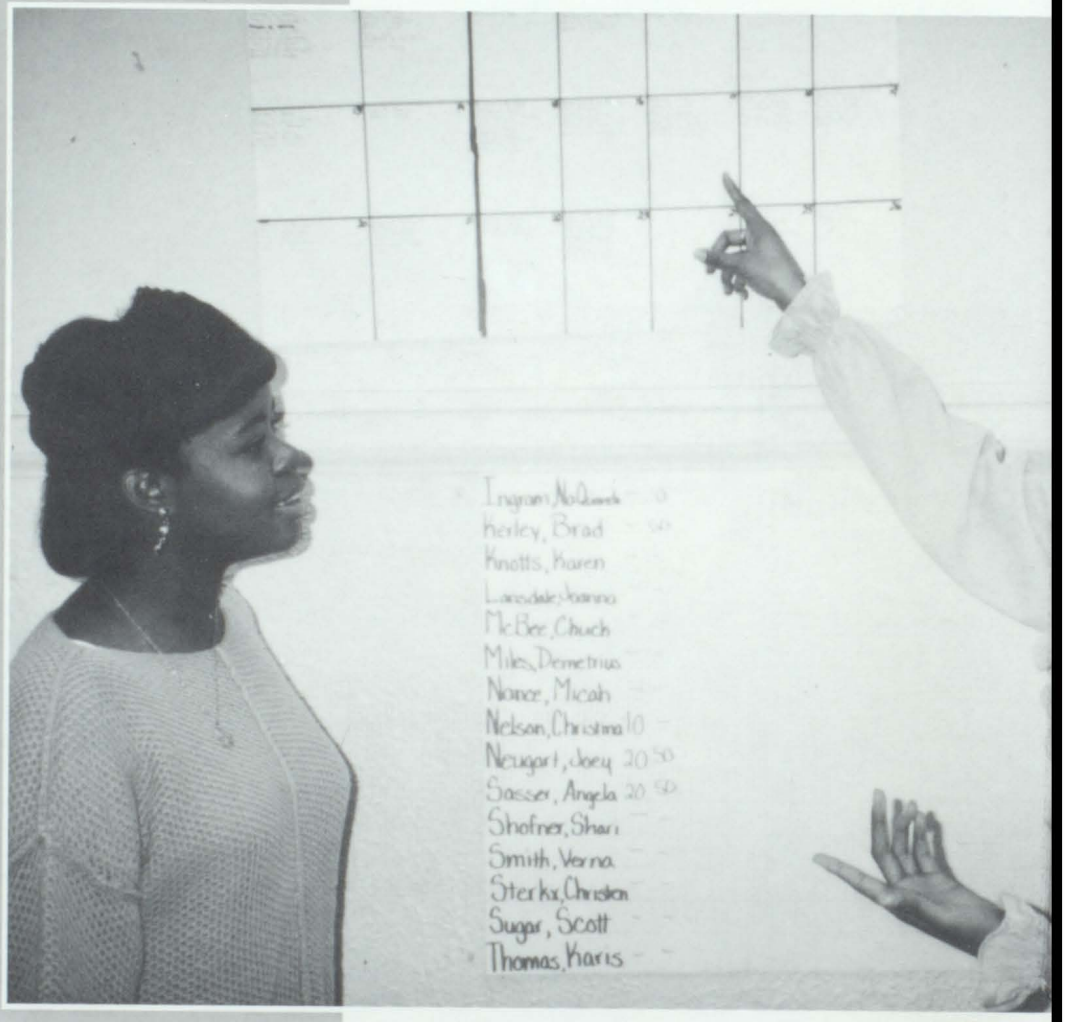
DO I SEE SMOKE? Student Council is all smiles after winning the float contest during the Homecoming pep rally. Sophomore Sherri Shofner says, "I knew Student Council would win. We're the grooviest club."

KEEPING US SANE. Mr. Roy Keene is a new addition to Byrd's teaching staff and has taken over the responsiblities of Student Council sponsor. "I enjoy working with high school age students because of their motivation and willingness to work," Keene says.



HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU! Senior Brandy Edwards and Junior Quana Hubbard work on wishing all students a Happy Birthday. "Our job is making students feel special on their birthday," says Edwards.

WHAT DOES YOUR STUDENT COUNCIL DO FOR YOU?

The Leader of the Pack

Who ever said Student Council is a study hall? Student council is a major attribute to our school and administration. Student Council members work on many projects during the year such as, school I.D.'s, can food drive, teacher appreciation, parking tickets, lockers, birthday's, and campus clean-up.

Two year member of Student Council, Junior Alando Marston says, "We had less problems with lockers this year because people are allowed to wear backpacks."

Members such as Senior Stephane Modz believe, "Student Council is much harder than it sounds, we made I.D.'s for over 2,000 students this year."

A new addition to the Byrd teaching staff and Student Council is the new sponsor Mr. Keene. Keene says, "Student Council Advisor isn't as hard as I imagined because my officers are so reliable."

Junior Farah Thompson has a different and more interesting motive for being a part of Student Council. Thompson says, "Being a part of Student Council is great because I have access to all the cute guy's phone numbers."

- Kelly Laudenheimer

GETTING READY FOR THE BIG EVENT! Student Council members work diligently on their float for the Homecoming pep rally. President Jack Chaney says, "It was definitely the dog that won it for us."

WHO KNOWS WHAT EVIL LURKS IN THE HEARTS OF MEN?

Attitude Is Everything

MOVE IT OR LOSE IT! Gusher members pause for a picture during the Homecoming parade. "I really enjoyed being in charge of the Homecoming float," stated Junior Erica Bass.

The atmosphere in the Gusher room is usually easy going and casual, but that's just on the surface. Behind all those smily faces is one major attitude that always comes out on Deadline Day.

"Everyone's attitude on yearbook basically depends on whether or not they get their stuff in on time," said Senior Tarsha Jones.

Everyone on staff has their own responsibilities, and they want their's done before helping anyone else. That dosen't always include Editors and other leaders but we all have our bad days.

"Sometimes it's hard to get people your own age to understand that as an editor you have authority over them. Most of the conflicts that I get involved in are with people who don't do what I ask them to do," said Senior Misty Leon.

As deadline passes everyone gets back to normal and the friendly, fun loving relationships come back. But there always seems to be another deadline lurking around the corner.

- Regina Cragar

PURPLE OR GOLD? Senior Candice Woodrow paints a banner to show support for the football team as they prepare for the Parkway game. "I like to paint banners for Gusher because it helps show school spirit," said Woodrow.

READY, AIM, FIRE!Senior Jeremy Neblett prepares to throw a water balloon from the 19th floor at yearbook camp. "Water balloon throwing has become a tradition at yearbook camp. It's even more fun when the sponsors cover up with a little white lie," said Neblett.

Gusher Staff

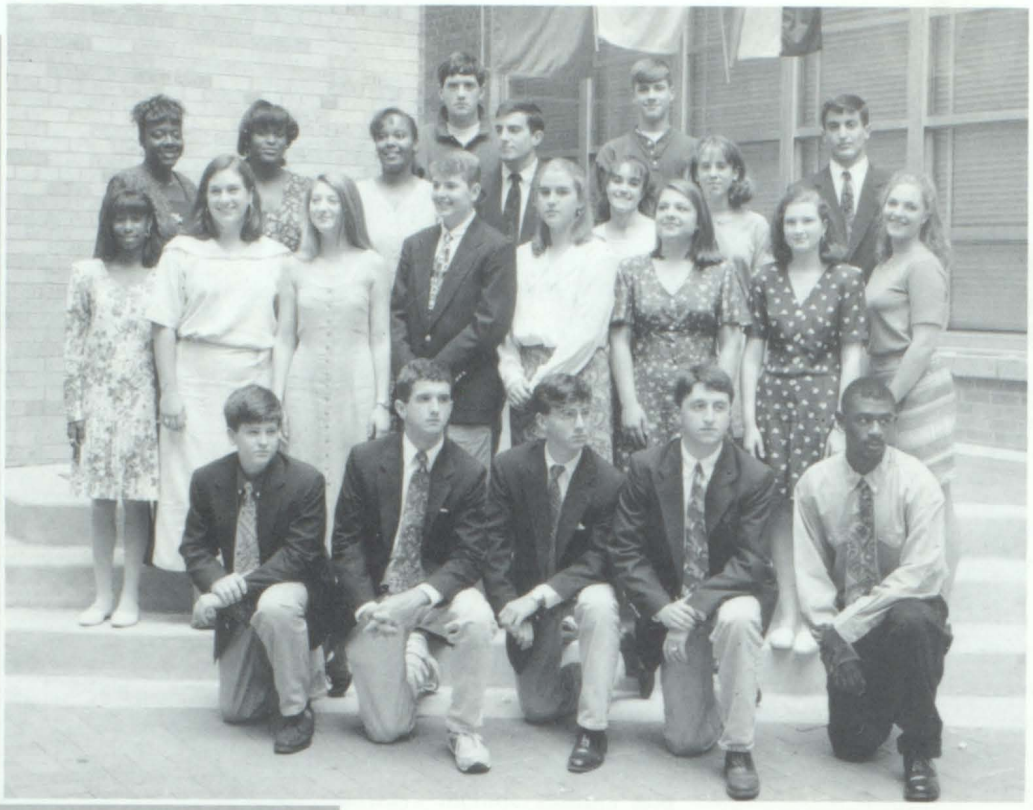
ANYBODY WANT A RIDE? Senior Veneitia Murray gives fellow classmate, Junior Lang Wardlaw a piggy back ride to class. "Even though we spend all of our time working on the yearbook, we still find time to goof off," said Wardlaw.

NOW AS I WAS SAYING! Gusher members work together on finishing their layouts. "The hardest part about deadline is writing the quotes for captions," said Regina Cascio.

Highlife / Perspectives Staff

Jenny Bison, Matt Byers, Tameka Cage, Louis Calligas, Jason Crane, Lauren Douthitt, Jennifer Gardener, Jennifer Guillot, Joey Guin, LaShana Harris, Amy Henderson, Karen Knotts, Kerri Lamb, John McConnnel, Jamila Maxie, Allison May, Tod Miller, Davidson O'Donnell, Torri Palms, Ebony Penn, Will Spearman, Michael Tooke, John Welch, Amanda Woodall



HEY! Senior Tameka Cage glares at her fellow Highlife members as she leaves. "I didn't get the story I wanted!" said Cage.

STAFF RECOGNIZED FOR JOURNALISTIC EXCELLENCE

Livin' The Highlife

No one said that writing and producing an eight to sixteen page publication would be easy, but Highlife staff members made it look that way.

"We've got a really smart group that can tackle any goal," said Senior Matt Byers.

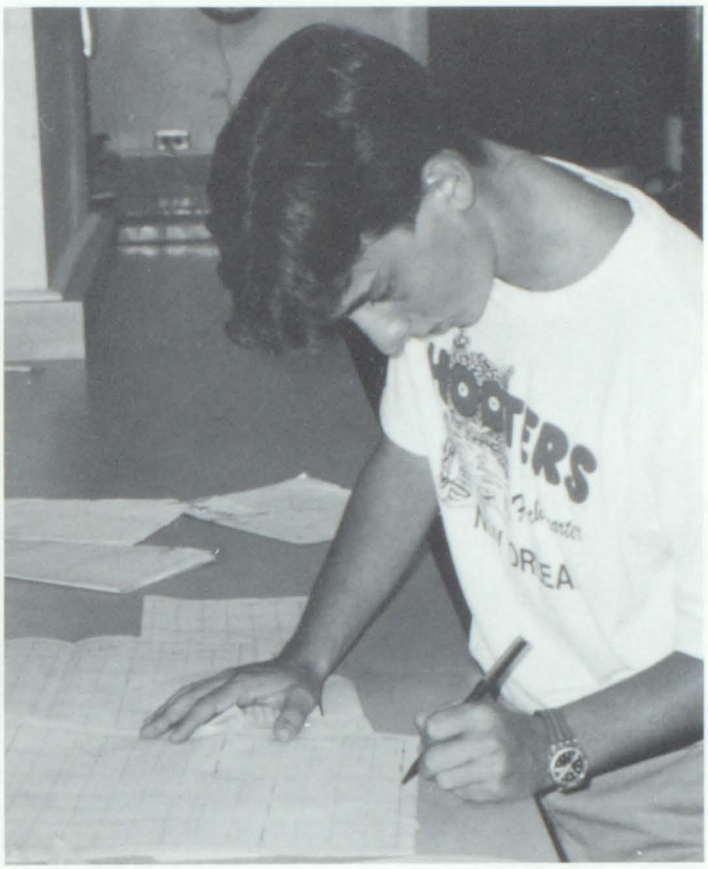
The newspaper won second place for the Best First Issue in the Louisiana Scholastic Paper Assocaition's annual contest for high school publications.

"It's been a great year," said Sophomore Jamilla Maxwell. "We've put out many good issues."

Junior Jason Crane wrote the winning article in the 1994 Multi-Media Conference in September for the On the Spot Writing division. "I was really suprised that I won," said Crane. "I thought I might get second or third place."

Senior Jennifer Gardener won first place in the LSPA's Week in the Life Of photo contest. "It was the first contest that I ever won," said Gardener. "I walked ten feet off the ground all day."

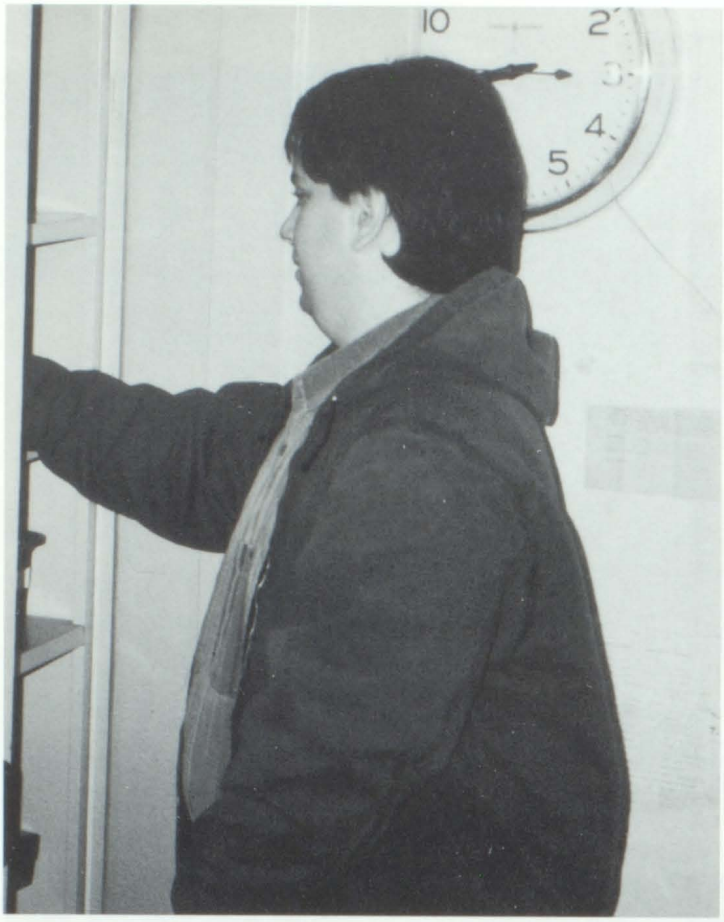
- Curtis Oden



DOWN TO BUSINESS. Junior Karen Knotts discusses Perspectives business with Mrs. Hopkins. "She's always there when I have a problem," said Knotts.

HAVIN' A HOOT OF A TIME. Junior Michael Tooke diligently lays out a page for the November issue. "I have the real power," Tooke said, "because I decide how many articles, pictures, and ads go on each page."

DOWN TO BUSINESS. Highlife/Perspectives sponsor Mrs. Hopkins helps the staff proof the latest issue. "I think it is exciting, hectic, and fascinating to watch this explosion of energy from a great group of kids," Hopkins said.



HIDE AND SEEK. Senior Robert Gill looks for equipment to start filming. "It is a lot easier to find our equipment this year," said Gill.

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION

Behind the Scenes with K-Byrd

Lights, camera, action! K-Byrd is a student run TV news show to help students at Byrd know more about student life.

Senior Breon Dennis says, "K-Byrd helps me get a head start in the career I want to go into." Staff members think K-Byrd is really fun.

"No matter how hard people laugh at it, we try to make it good," says Senior April Osborne. A lot of hard work and dedication goes into the production each week.

"The thing I like best about K-Byrd is that we are able to put on a show every week for the students at Byrd," said Sophomore Jon Blewett.

So next time K-Byrd is on, remember the hard work the staff members put into it.

- Hunter Winterton

THINKING HARD. Senior Ryan Williams talks with Sophomore Kim Weaver about an upcoming K-BYRD. "I was gathering information for the next week's show," commented Williams.

TYPING AWAY.Senior Mark Rinaudo programs the tape for the Christmas show. "Editing involves a lot of time," Rinaudo said.

K-BYRD

Amy McInturf-Executive Producer, Mark Rinaudo-Technical Director, Robert Gill-Business Manager and Director of Public Relations, Lakesha Bennett, Jonathan Blewett, Breon Dennis Jr., Jennifer Gardner, Micheal Gatson, Martin Hawkin, Matt Latz, Ronald Meredith, April Osborne, Orlando Purgear, Kim Weaver, Ryan Williams, Thomas Williams, Kristi Woodard, Eric Wright, Ms. Susan Beard-Sponsor

LIGHTS! Senior Jennifer Gardner films footage of exciting events," I was getting footage for our show that week," told Gardner.

HARD AT WORK. K-Byrd staff members go over the script before a final take. Lakesha Bennett said,"I was preparing for the show."

HEY !! WHY ARE YOU ON THE SIDELINE? Freshman Kharmen Davis plays the xylophone on the sideline while the band does one its field shows. "I like playing the xylophone, because it is a rare instrument to play and most people think I am weird for playing it," said Kharmen Davis.

GO ERIC! GO DERRICK! Drum majors,Senior Eric Prim and Junior Derrick Smith, get off to the jammin' sounds of the marching band. "I like being drum major, because you can do a little something to hype the crowd up," stated Derrick.

AND THE BEAT GOES ON

We Want the Band to Fire Us Up!

Play that funky music! Two of Byrd's well-known organizations are the marching and jazz bands.

The marching band, as everyone knows, hypes the crowds up at pep rallies and football games, but something you may not know is they also participate in several parades.

"We march in parades such as the Natchitoches Christmas Lights parade and the Mardi Gras parade here," stated Freshman Martez Moore.

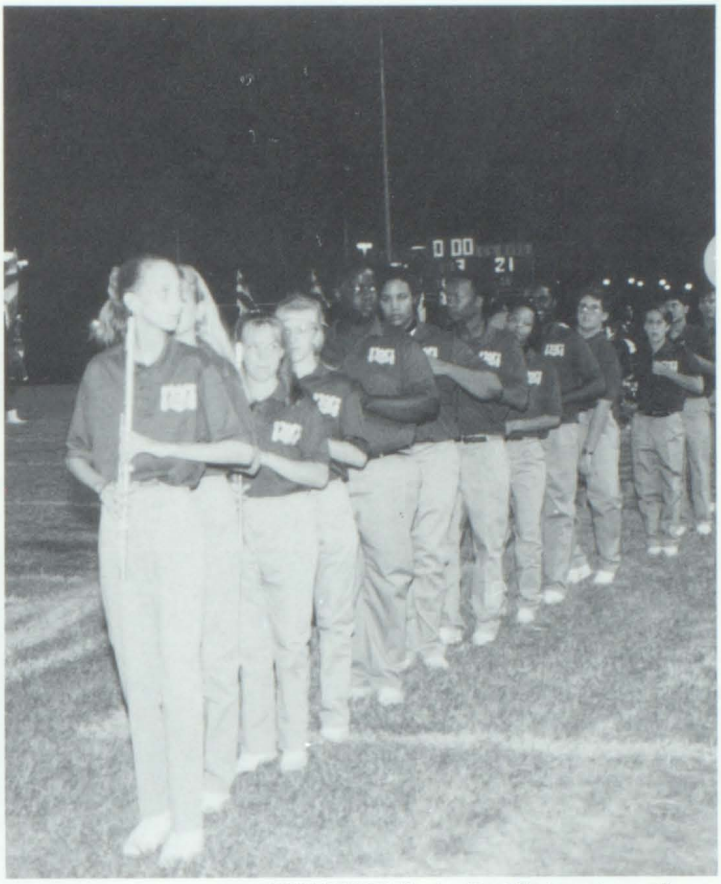
Senior Reginald Coatney declared, "Most parades are fun, but tiring because of all the marching."

Now the jazz band, on the other hand, plays its soothing, soft melodies at school assemblies, malls, churches, and basketball games.

"Jazz band is the best of the entire band, that's why I'm in it," Senior Miles McDowell claimed.

No matter what section of the band you prefer, come out and support both branches.

- Veneitia Murray



HEY BAND! Senior Kerri Parker relaxes after a tiring field show. "I like doing field shows, because I like the crowd's reaction after we are finished," said Parker.

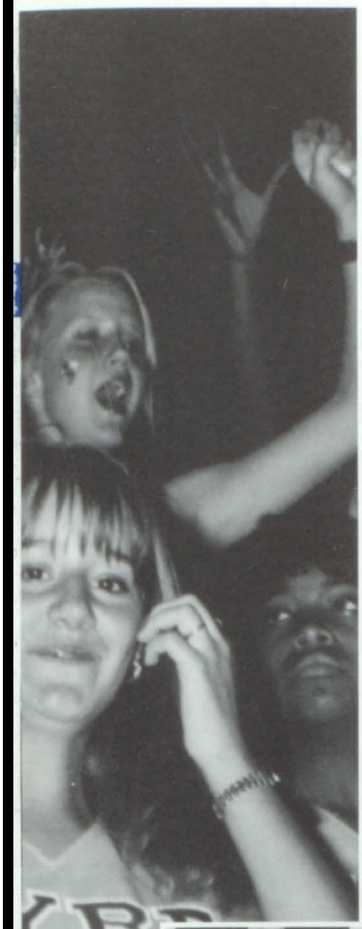
PEP SQUAD LEADERS TAKE CHARGE OF THE SITUATION

Spirit Under Control



HEY! A CAMERA! Freshman Alisa Pickering stops cheering just long enough to comepletely ruin a near perfect picture. "My favorite thing about Pep Squad is being with my friends and cheering the team on," said Pickering.

LEADER OF THE PACK. Pep Squad leader Crystal Caldwell leads the Pep Squad in another cheer. " It is a fun experience to lead a large group of devoted individuals," said Caldwell.

Pep Squad is a privilege shared by hundreds of freshman and sophomore females at this school. But only a select few get to lead these individuals.

Squad leaders don't have it easy. Sophomore Jennifer Poole hates some of the decisions she has to make. "The hardest part about being a squad leader is having to give a friend demerits," says Poole.

Squad leaders do have a wonderful time. And they always have new ideas to make Pep Squad an even better organization than it already is. "I think that we should change the socks and shoes we have to wear," said Sophomore Sarah Neeson.

According to Freshman Maria Mack, it's not too hard to stay on good terms with her leaders. "I really don't talk much with my squad leaders, but of all the times I have, we've never gotten into an argument," said Mack.

WHAT LIES AHEAD? As her fellow pep squadders cheer on, Sophomore Donesha Pea ponders her two years as a Pep Sqad member and whether or not she is ready to take the next step up to danceline. "Pep Squad has been fun, but I wonder: will all this be worth it in the end, or will I have spent two years in Pep Squad for nothing?" Pea asks.

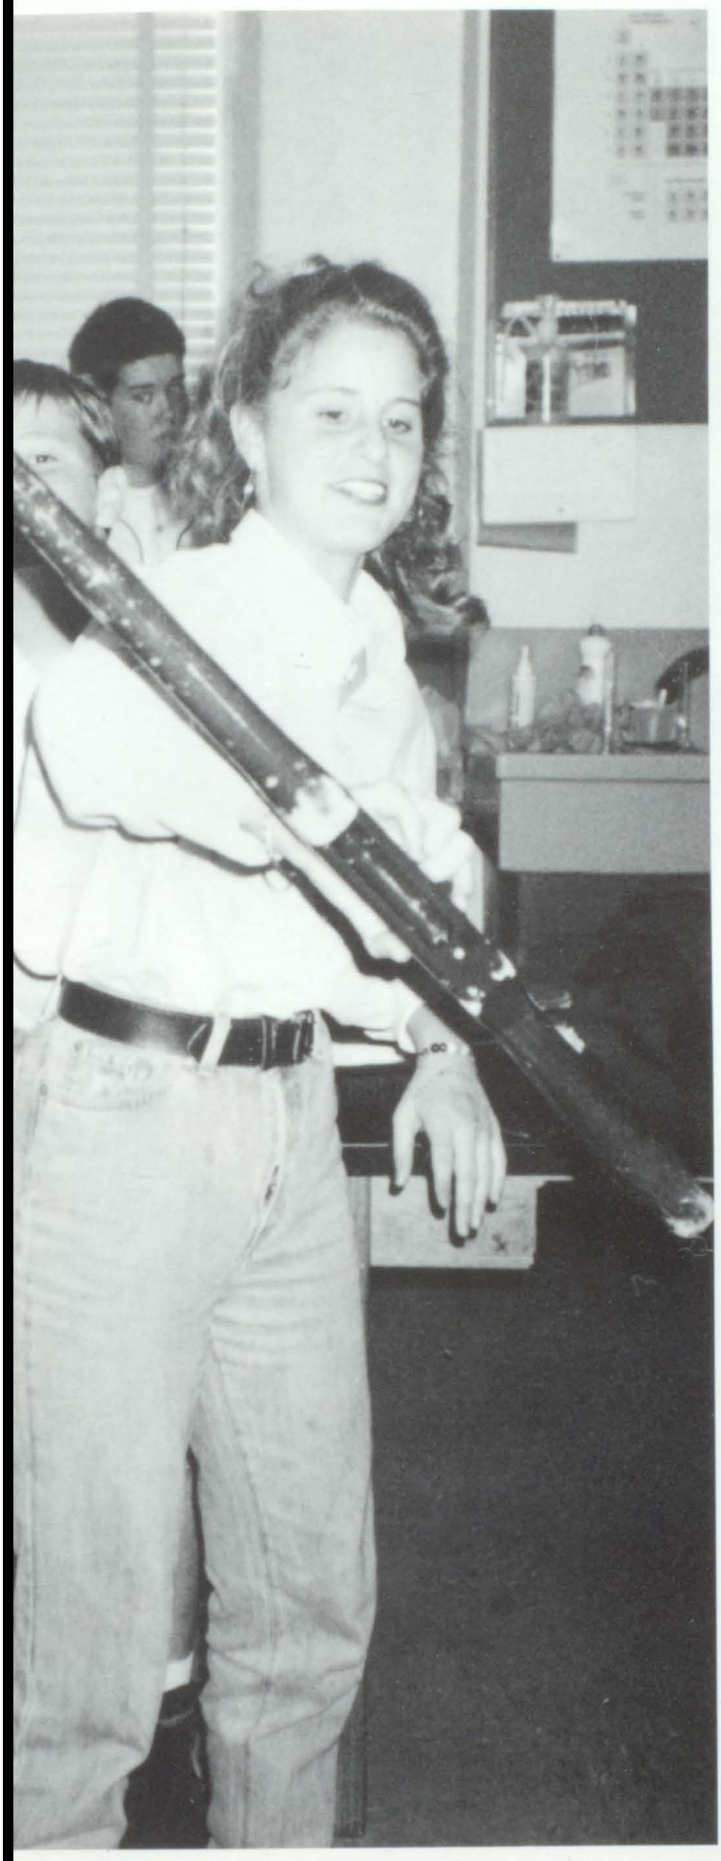
CAREFUL! Freshman Page Ferris is praticing with her rifle after school in the Academy. "I like the Academy because we go on field trips and learn a lot," said Ferris.



Lessons Learned Through ROTC

The NEW Academic Academy

The new Academy, which is sponsored by the Department of Education and the Department of the Army, was developed to help students in R.O.T.C. with their classwork.

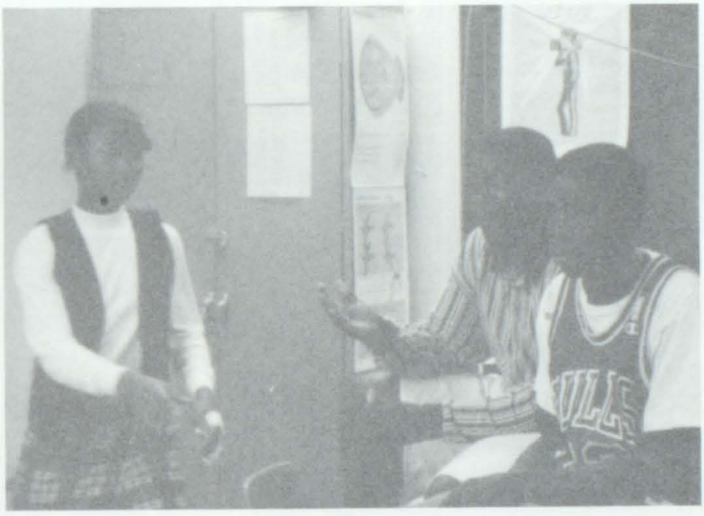
"It provides a better education, better quality, we learn more, and have smaller classes." said Candice Cheramie.

These at-risk students are tutored by teachers and some R.O.T.C. students in various subjects to help with their classwork and with R.O.T.C.

"We give them a quality education. It's not easy and part of it is R.O.T.C.. They have to be enrolled in an R.O.T.C. class," says Bob Harris, Academy teacher. The students receive the tutoring during and after school as a part of this new program.

These students stay for about two hours after school Monday through Thursday, studying and participating in R.O.T.C. The dicipline from R.O.T.C. and the tutoring from the teachers help these students succeed in high school. "It has already proven to be effective within the first nine weeks," according to Harris.

- Kennie Berg



HOLD ON! Freshman Keisha Jones, Bernard Anderson, and Lonnie Jones get help in the Academy. "It helps you to learn new things, like on field trips," said Keisha Jones.

PROS PROVE THEY'RE ON TOP

Best of the Best

Being a pro at something usually means that you are exceptionally good at one thing, but not here in the JROTC organization. There is an extracurricular group of JROTC cadets who have proven not only to themselves, but also to their instructors, that they are Pros at what they do.

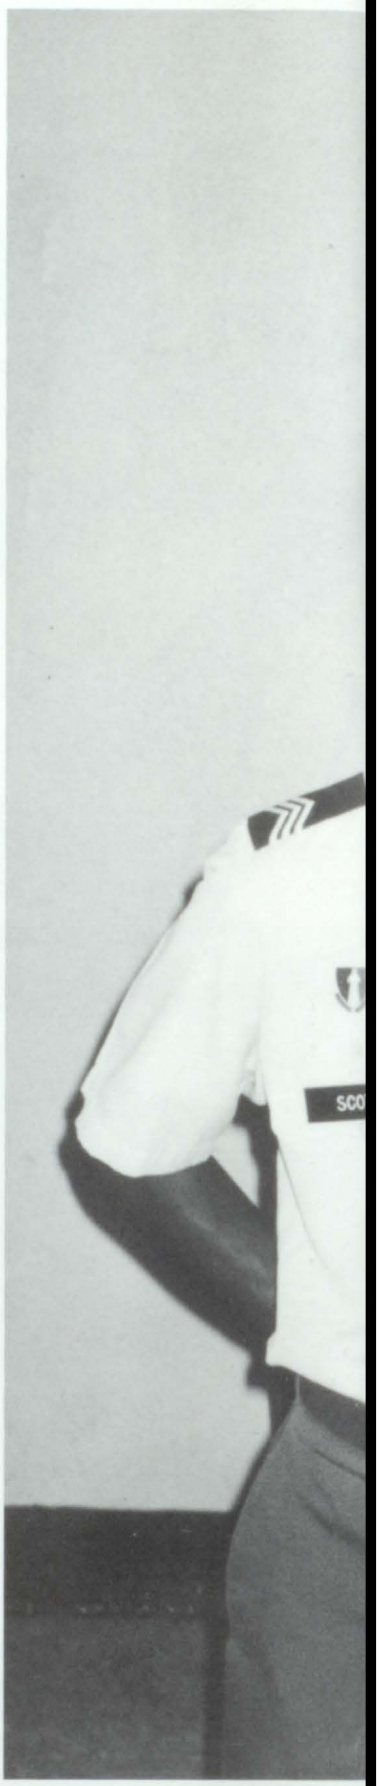
According to Sergeant Jimmy Mosely, one of the Pros coordinators, "It is a military type of fraternity, comprised of the best our JROTC has to offer."

Pros is also a service organization. "Basically we're there whenever Ms. Fitzgerald needs us," said Pros member Junior Heather Johnston.

Since Pros consists of the best, then a student can image how difficult it would be to get in. "First your JROTC instructor must reccomend you. Then you must already be in a JROTC extracurricular activity. Third, there is an eight week training program along with an entrance exam," said JROTC commander Colonel John Mitchell.

- Craig Seals

STANDIN' TALL... JROTC cadets snap to attention when the order is called. Sophomore Mario Reppolo said, "Standing at attention is serious, but sometimes I just start laughing."



FREEZE!... Sophomore Charles Scott, a JROTC cadet, stands perfectly still for inspection. "It's alright, but sometimes it takes too long and you get tired," said Scott.

ROTC BRINGS SWEEPSTAKES TROPHY HOME

Stealing the Show

The annual Sweepstakes trophy has been awarded to Byrd for the first time since the JROTC has been in existence.

Just to give some background info on it, it's the trophy given to the most outstanding JROTC in the parish, as far as extracurricular activities are concerned.

JROTC won the Sweepstakes Trophy because they were and still are the most outstanding corps in the parish.

" It's alot like the district championships," said Sgt. Raymond Martino.

Freshman Ben Smith said,"I've heard about the Sweepstakes trophy. I'm hoping that we can win it again."

Alex Santana, a sophmore, said, "I have never heard of the Sweepstakes trophy but I still think ROTC has alot of pride."

Another Freshman, Brandon Brown, said, "I've heard about the Sweepstakes Trophy and I think It's cool that we won it last year."

MARCHING IN TIME FOR THE MILITARY

Mo' Money in ROTC

To apply for a scholarship you must come down to the ROTC department and talk to Sergeant Martino about filling out the Army College Scholarship Application.

If you are accepted, you must have "a good grade point average, ACT scores, and good recommedations from your school," said Sergeant Martino.

"It is a great way to get to go to college and let the government pay for your way in," said Martino.

There are many different types of scholarships, some that pay for books, tuitions,courses, and fees in class. While others, like the Academy scholarships, pay for everthing.

There are good and bad advantages toward getting a scholarship. "You don't have to pay for college yourself," said Senior Michael Hancock.

"But when you graduate you must serve in the Army for four years," said Senior Patrick Williford.

SOUND OFF! Senior Carl Adams sets the students straight. "It's a good disciplinary class for people who have bad attitudes," said Adams.

ROTC PROCLAIMED BEST IN THE LAND

Rank and File Fill the Boots

ROTC is a program for students who would like to find out about the military and its advantages. "Many students become involved with this program because of it's " good recruiting program," says Sgt. Martino. As a result many enlist in one of the military branches.

" One out of every three students are participating in this program," says Junior James Hughes,which makes it one of the biggest curriculums.

Being the best is the result of " great leadership,dedication, and coordinators," says Junior Adam Hesser.

"ROTC can be a challenge for many and it teaches responsibility," says Senior Michelle Williams.

Reality Check!

1. Senior pictures are in color!
2. Seniors allowed to leave campus for lunch.
3. Seniors ask school board to let them finish out the year with the Underclassmen.
4. School Board allows Seniors to use school buses on weekends.
5. Senior skip day held every Friday.

1. Maybe next year.
2. Only if they don't get caught by Deputy Austin.
3. Senioritis kept most of them from coming when they had to.
4. Some can't even get their parents' mini-vans.
5. Only if you want a weekly call from Ms. Fitzgerald.

INSIDE LOOK AT THE DANCE PANEL

Charleston, Jitterbug, and Jubliee! No, it is not a party, but it is the Whitehead Dance Panel.

The Whitehead Dance Panel is an event put on each spring by American History teacher, Ms. Whitehead, and her classes. The production is an innovatative way of teaching the Depression, the Worlds Wars, and the Civil Rights movement.

"The Whitehead Dance Panel is a fun and easy way of learning about historical events," Junior Shontell Beasley explained.

Dance Panel is broken down into decades from the 20's to present day. During each scene students exhibited popular fads, dances, and characteristics that make that decade unique.

"The 70's was my favorite decade, because I enjoyed dressing in that era," Junior Eric Prim declared.

Junior Ashley Drummond advised that every junior who has Ms. Whitehead should partipate in Dance Panel. "It is a fun and creative way to teach students about important historical events and show students different types of dancing in different time periods."

LEADERSHIP HAS ITS PRIVILEGES

The Top Jackets are selected from the senior class based on teacher recomendations, grade point averages and leadership abilities.

"It is a great organization because of all of the honors and special events we get to go to." said Senior Amanda Woodall. The Top Jackets get to attend Pride Rally and Ride and have a special focus (freshman) homeroom where they tell freshman about special events pertaining to them.

Senior Robert Crosby said, " The best thing about being a Top Jacket is meeting all of the new freshmen because they are not all bad."

Jessica Lea, a senior , summed up what the Top Jackets are all about when she said, " Being a leader for the underclassmen and helping them around the school is an experience I am glad to have had."

Fearful Fresh to Sassy Seniors

Have You Noticed Any Changes?

Four years ago no one had 25 minutes after 1st hour to sleep, do homework, or go to club meetings. EIP is just one of the many changes since those innocent freshman days. Some of the changes are great, and others, well...

"Parking has changed. We could arrive at 7:30 our freshman year and park anywhere; now we have to park down the street," claims Kyle Payne in exasperation.

"They'll put you in detention for anything now. Rules are too strict," complains Bridgett Edwards.

"Detention used to be 15 minutes, now it is an hour," agrees David Kendrick.

On a more positive note Barbara Ginsburg remarked, "The cafeteria food has gotten better, and now we have Bag O' Milk."

"Gold cards are groovy," approved Cammie Holladay of the new Renaissance program.

HAIL TO THE CHIEF

SENIORS ON A POWER TRIP

At the beginning of the year, each senior votes on officers to lead their class. Senior Clay Triplett said that the senior class officers were chosen because they would get the job done. "It (the officer selection) is ALL good," Triplett commented.

So what makes a student want to run for senior officer? President Amanda Woodall said, "I wanted to be President because being class officer my junior year showed me how much I enjoyed running things." Others had different sources of motivation for running for officer. For instance Vice-President Tanesha Mosley said,"I wanted to do something important for my senior class."

Each year the senior class officers help make decisions dealing with graduation, prom, and many other important extracurricular senior activities.

Motivation ends with semester

When second semester kicks in, seniors bail out. Senoritis plagues everyone, even the best of students. But if you survive this contagious disease, then you'll graduate!

"Getting accepted to college is one of the many things that has hindered my motivation for the rest of the year," said Senior Chuck Simpson.

Getting accepted to college though, is only one thing that effects seniors.

Senior Vincent Russ said, "I'm just tired of all the busy work I have to do in school. I'm just ready to get out."

It doesn't end with this though, some people are just burned out. Senior Sherry Bryant said, "Working so hard the past three years made it tough to work my senior year, but it will pay off when I graduate May 26, 1995."

THE FEW AND THE PROUD

TRADITION LEARNED BY SENIORS AT PELICAN STATE

At the beginning of August when everyone else was still going to the lake and going on vacation trying to give their summer a great end. There were ten others that were on their way to Pelican State at LSU in Baton Rouge.

"We learned all about the government, elections and learned to rally for our city," Potter Adams explained.

The students that were involved in Girls/Boys State were: Potter Adams, Tamika Alford, Ashley Drummond, Kelly Laudenheimer, Chuck McBee, Melissa Milam, Keith Payne, Anthony Russell, Hunter Winterton, and Amanda Woodall.

The students were chosen first by their teachers where they narrowed the number down to twenty. Then students voted to narrow it down to twelve. The twelve students chosen then had to be interviewed and that is when five boys and five girls were chosen.

After a week of being at the convention the students really felt that they had learned more about themselves and had many new ideas.

"Girls' State taught us a lot about standing up for what we believed in and we were forced to things to where we learned more about ourselves," said Melissa Milam.

AAH MATEY!

Seniors Go From The Fish Bowl To The Sea

Everyone tells seniors that their last year of high school flies by, but who really believes that? Everyone's parents tell them to study hard and to make good grades so a good college will accept them, but what do they mean?

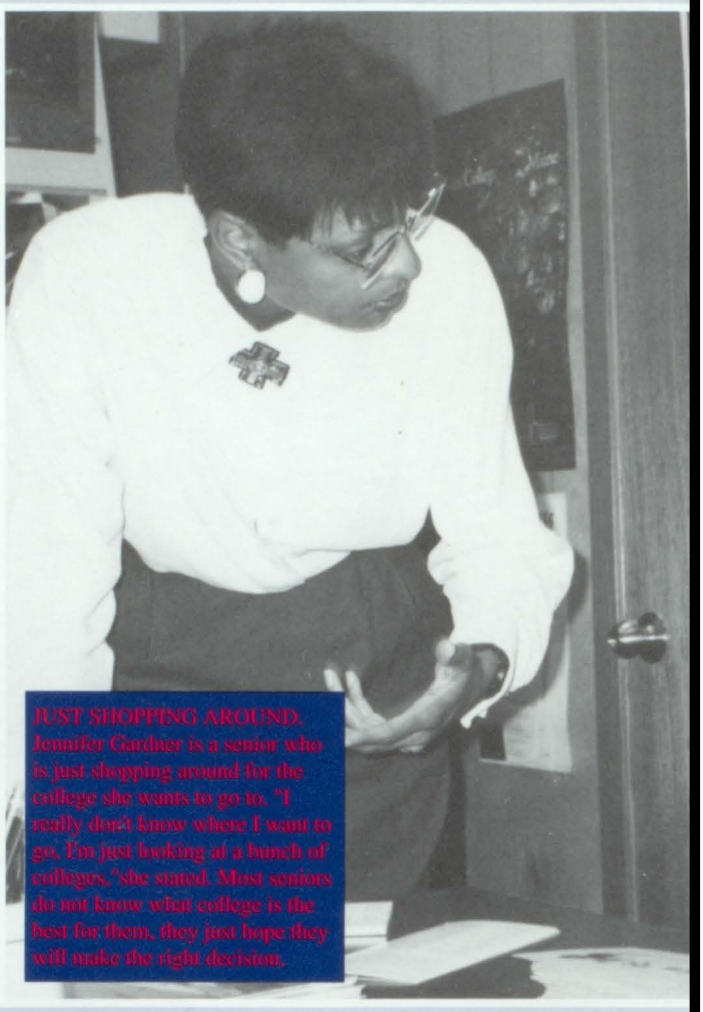
To answer some of these mind-boggling questions is Senior Robert Gill who says, "I can't believe that college is right around the corner, that means I have to start being responsible. Aah!"

Does the future hold much for those who apply themselves? Kelly Branton a college bound senior replies, "I am planning to go to Baylor University to major in medicine. They have a great program."

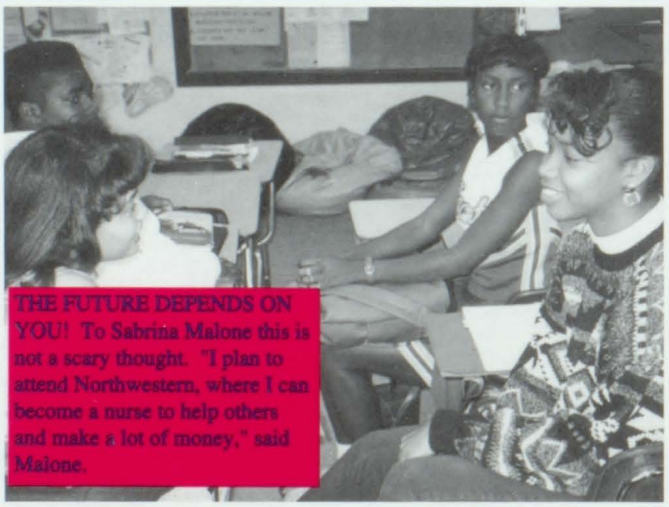
Take a listen to what your missing. Senior Reginald Coatney has gotten all he can from Byrd out of the four years he has attended. By being in the band, it has helped him with preparing to join Southern University's band. He says, "I've known that I wanted to go to Southern University in Baton Rouge for about a year, and they have an awesome band that I'm planning to join."

Many students, especially freshman do not understand that high school prepares them for college and even if it seems like a waste of their time, they are oh-so wrong.

- Joanna Lansdale



JUST SHOPPING AROUND. Jennifer Gardner is a senior who is just shopping around for the college she wants to go to. "I really don't know where I want to go, I'm just looking at a bunch of colleges," she stated. Most seniors do not know what college is the best for them, they just hope they will make the right decision.



THE FUTURE DEPENDS ON YOU! To Sabrina Malone this is not a scary thought. "I plan to attend Northwestern, where I can become a nurse to help others and make a lot of money," said Malone.

First Comes Love...

Well, Seniors, graduation is approaching quickly and what a great way to complete your high school memories is to leave with that special someone, your high school sweatheart.

There are many necessities to making a relationship work: communication, spending time together, and especially trust. Senior Jenny Gardner said, "Conversation is the most important part of a relationship. If you can't talk to someone, then what's the use?"

Along with communication, quality time is always needed for a relationship. Senior Eric Prim stated, "My girlfriend and I, Senior Veneitia Murray, spend most of our time holding each other close."

Romance also plays an important role in relationships. Senior Chastity Moore said, "The most romantic thing I ever did for my boyfriend, Senior Qunicy McKnight, was when I prepared him a surprise candle-light dinner. I took him totally by surprise."

It's a Tough Job But Somebody's Gotta Do It!

Can there be anything worse than being an underclassman? Try being an underclassman class officer! Not only are you tormented relentlessly by every senior in this school, but you also have to bare the brunt of the responsibilities of your entire class.

Even through all these setbacks, some underclassmen are still ready to step forward and take charge. Sophomore class Sergeant-at- Arms Melissa Rogers is one of these. "I ran because I wanted to be a leader and I wanted to help our class raise more money than we did last year." said Rogers.

Is it really as tough as it sounds? Freshman class president Carter Bedford doesn't think so. "No one gets on me too bad about being a freshman, and it's probably just like being any other class officer," Bedford said.

- Lang Wardlaw

CLASS LOYALTY ... MAYBE? Junior class officers were ablaze in this year's homecoming parade. "I think the Junior class float should have won because ours was better and because the junior class is the best!" exclaimed Julie Muslow, as she rode above the flames.

LUNCH TIME GOSSIP. Junior Jonathan Falloon exclaimed, "I can't believe how much slang we use in school these days!"

CHIT-CHATTIN' IN CLASS. Freshman Melissa Busch and Daniel White are caught talkin' in class. Melissa says, " I say 'Hey what's up ?' all the time and I don't realize it."

Excuse Me?
The Scoop on 90's Slang

Have you ever been walking down the halls and heard someone say somthing you do not understand ? You turn around and say, "Excuse me, what did you say ? "

They repeat it, but you still do not understand. Or maybe you do understand, but are not sure of what they mean.

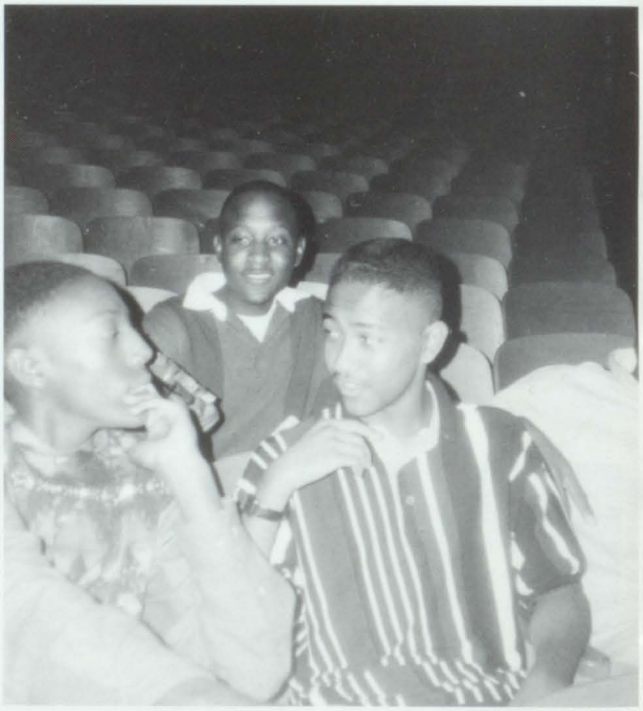
Say you are walking down the hall on your way to class and hear Tara Jefferson, a freshman, say , " Jockin' ! " Your fist thought may be, " what? Tara's a jock? What sport does she play? " But what Tara means is that someone has just " boosted her self-esteem "

On the other hand , someone may give Starla Ford, a freshman, a compliment, and she replies, " Don't go there ! " They are probably thinking, " Me? I'm not going anywhere ! " Actually Starla means " they did not have to say that ."

Carlos Davis considers " staight " to be an everyday term, meaning that " everything's all right"

Slang terms are commonly used by everybody. In fact, they are so common, that most people do not realize that it is slang. " Slang changes over time and fades in and out like styles. We all use slang 'cause, hey, it's " tres cool " and "fresh ".

-Allison Wilson



SLANG.....ME? NO WAY! Freshmen Carlos Davis and Marcus Williams don't deny using slang frequently. "I use slang in just about everything I say, "said Davis.

Who Da Hangin' Round

Test Your Attitude

Through the summer, on the weekends, and during the school year, students have their own group of friends that they go out with.

What happens when the people in these groups think to much of themselves? Take the quiz below and see if you need an attiude adjustment.

1. A boy at your school has just been honored for his hours of community service you say:
   A. I 'm glad someone is doing something.
   B. Anybody could have done that.
   C. Man, does he have a lot of time on his hands.
2. One of your close friends has no sense of style so you:
   A. Accept it, its who they are.
   B. Go over to their house and pick out a few cute matches.
   C. Dump them, you can"t be seen with them.
3. Your going to a party this weekend, but the person's car your riding in is a piece of junk so you:
   A. Just go to have fun, don't worry about it.
   B. See if you could drive instead.
   C. Go with someone else.
4. Your mom has just offered to take you shopping. Your response is:
   A. Let me get my purse.
   B. O.K., but I pick the stores.
   C. Yeah, right Mom!
5. Your boyfriend has just gotten a job at McDonalds. You say:
   A. Do I get free food.
   B. You better not show up for our date in that shirt.
   C. How about we see other people.

If most of your answers were "A" you're a "Best Buddy" and will always have friends.

If most of your answers are "B" then you're "on the edge" and you need to be a little less judgemental.

If most of your answers were "C" you need to get off your high horse or you can forget about friends.

I'll Be Alright

Those Monotonous Monday Mornings

Are Monday mornings really that bad? So the weekend is over. There's only five more days until another one. Who really cares?

"It's awful because you sleep late on Saturday and Sunday, and then you have to wake up so early on Monday," sighed Sophomore Cassidy Zackheim.

Searching to find something positive about Monday morning really made people think. Is there anything good about Monday's? Hmmm...

"2:15 PM, " was the only positive thing said Senior Anthony Russell.

"I'm so tired on Mondays that it makes it really easy to go to sleep, " said Junior Ginger Auer. Senior Kern Courtney had a totally different outlook on those Monday morning blues.

"The mere opportunity granted to me to learn on Monday gets my blood churning," replied Courtney with a big grin. There are various places that the students could imagine being, rather than school.

"If I could be anywhere on a Monday morning, I would be on some island sitting on the beach," said Zackheim.

"I would be in bed or at the lake with friends listening to good music," replied Auer.

- Ginger Sanders

BOOORING! No one wants to be doing math on a Monday morning. "6:15 am is way too early to get up on a Monday morning," yawned Senior Lindsay Robinson.

LAID BACK- Junior, a.k.a Flenard Autry, smiles at the camera between classes. Junior said, "I was given my nick-name by my father, for obvious reasons."

THE GOOD , THE BAD, THE WORST- Senior's Davidson" Jones" O'Donnell and Jimmy "Mongo" Covington strike a pose in Mr. Moreland's first hour. Both enjoy their nick-names and Covington comments, "It helps me get the women."

Branded for Life

Earning a Nickname

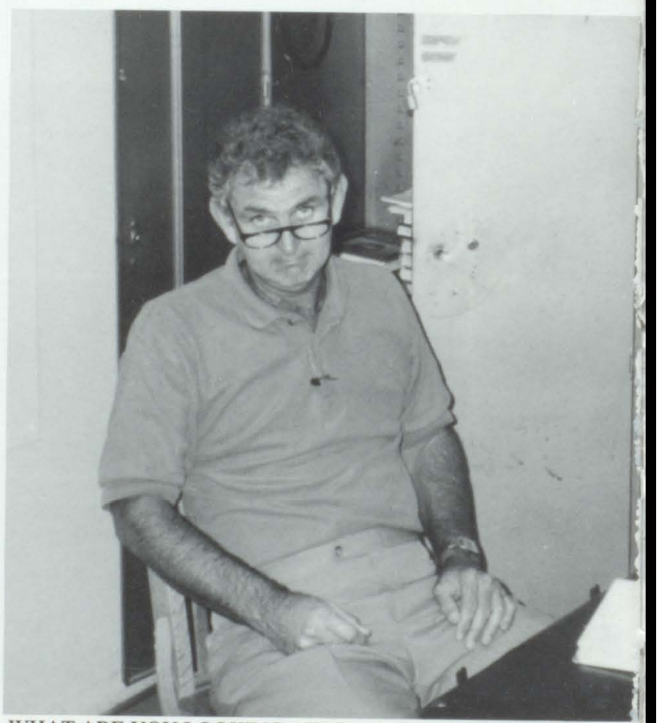
Obvious characteristics, unparable talents, unforgetable events could all result in wild nicknames. The only thing that could get to be dislikable about a nickname is the common guestion, " Why do you want me to call you that? ", only explainable by a story-like answer.

When asked to explain how to get a nickname, Tanya "Tinkerbell" Peoples said she got her's from her mom because "I'm so tiny." There is a wide variety of nicknames from here to there, but none compare to Quincy McKnight or "Q-Dog". McKnight replied, "That's what I am" when explaining his infamous calling card.

Not all nicknames have to be crazy or uneasily unexplained, but one thing is for sure, there is some kind of story behind every personel slogan. Julie "Moose" Gilley says hers was given to her by classmates her freshman year. Gilley says, " It was because of how much (mousse) I used in my hair."

Whether for humorous or serious reasons , many people have nicknames. They may not be explainable, but one thing is for sure, it will stick with you for many years to come.

- Nick Pumilio



WHAT ARE YOU LOOKING AT? Psychology teacher Marshall Peacock stares glumly into the camera after a long day. Often summoned as "Mr.P" he said, "The students call me this for convenience."

Need A Date

Upper Classmen Tell their Smoothest Lines

Becoming an upperclassman certainly does have its merits, as students find it much easier to find a date. "I have my license," was sophomore Scott Calaway's best line to tell the freshman ladies.

After senior Torri Palms gave her pick up line of "Hey, do I know you"' she said she would take her date to Chuck E. Cheese.

Senior Brian Wamsley decided to try a different approach with his line, "Say honey, how would you like to go to the Hot Wheels lock-in?"

Other upperclassmen tried the comical approach, such as Senior Keith Payne with his line, "You know, I am the Brookshires number one bag boy." Senior Potter Adams said he would like to take his freshman date to Hamels to ride on the ferris wheel and gaze at the stars.

- Paul Rogers

EXCUSE ME. Picture day is the perfect place to pick up younger guys. "Hey there big guy, aren't you the one I saw last weekend at Hot Wheels tearing up the rink?" says Senior Elizabeth Rinchuso to Freshman Richard Randolf.

CHEATER! On Puritan Day Junior Heather Westbrook was turned down by Keith White, a senior. "No way. You're a cheater!" said White.

Students Give Their Best Turndown Lines

You have been asked out for this Saturday night. The guy/girl (whatever applies) wants their mom to drive y'all to the Wal-Mart Deli, then to Confetti's. If you are not too worn out, they want to go by the washateria to wash their gym uniform afterwards. Do you go? If not, what do you say?

"I can't, I'm having corns burned out of my armpits." Jonathan Jahnke, Junior.

"I did the same thing last night. Sorry." Rebecca Rollen, Sophomore

"I have a girlfriend." Derrick Hill, Junior.

"Sorry, my young teenage body may not be able to handle the excitement." Christi Pyle, Senior.

"I'm sorry, all of my clothes are clean." Tracy Brown, Junior.

"I love to cut the rug at Confetti's, and nothing in the world beats the yard-bird at the Wal-Mart Deli, but I can only date the women my mom sets me up with." David Holder, Senior

"I'm going out of town." Angie Rowe, Junior.

"Sorry, I plan to average the number of green M&M's per bag that night." Leighton Wilson, Freshman.

"I have better things to do...like shave my pits!!" Leslie Hinson, Junior.

"I have a boyfriend and he wouldn't like me going out with other guys." Yulanda Jones, Senior.

"I would go, but I have a life." Mark Cole, Junior.

"I would go but, you're ugly; I hate you, or you stink!" Nathan Wierick, Junior.

T.G.I.F.

Taking a Little Trip on Friday Afternoons

It's Friday afternoon and you're sitting through the last lecture of the day. Your palms are sweating you're so ready for 2:15 to come R-I-N-G the bell sounds and you leap out of your seat. Time for McDonald's, the playground, T.G.I.F., and playing Nintendo.

"I go and wait at McDonald's after school on Friday's until all the cool people come," said Sophomore Brad Everson.

Sophomore Matt Mitchell may pass Everson in Mcdonald's while he "eats a yogurt cone and plays on the playground."

Senior Stephanie Bryant has a more relaxing Friday afternoon than the others. "I love to go home on Friday's and wait to watch Steve Urkle on T.G.I.F.," said Bryant.

Anticipating the football games are on many students minds after school on Friday. "To get fired up before the Friday night game, I go home and work out on my Nintendo Power Pad to Track and Field II," said Sophomore Joey Neugart.

- Kelly Laudenheimer

ARE YOU READY FOR THE BIG GAME? Sophomore football star Craig Harris, "Tries to sneak a date early on Friday afternoon." Little does he know, that's Archer Frierson's girlfriend he's trying to pick up.

The Errand Machine

Sweetheart, Will You Go Here For Me?

Does it seem like the only reason teenagers get their license for is to run errands for their parents? How often is, "Honey go to the bank, grocery store, or post office please," heard?

Lauren Douthitt, junior, said," I'm in charge of taking my little brother everywhere and that stinks!"

Jeff Musgrove, sophomore, said, "It depends on what kind of mood I'm in. Most of the time I enjoy running errands."

When sent on an errand run, is there always a rapid return?
Of course not!! Parents' time is always used up to the limit!

RyanHolmes, junior, said," I try to stay as long as I can, but it depends on how much gas I have in the car."

-Erica Bass

HERE I GO AGAIN. Edna Johnson, junior, goes everywhere for her Mother. "I wanted to get my license, but now I'm ready to give them back."

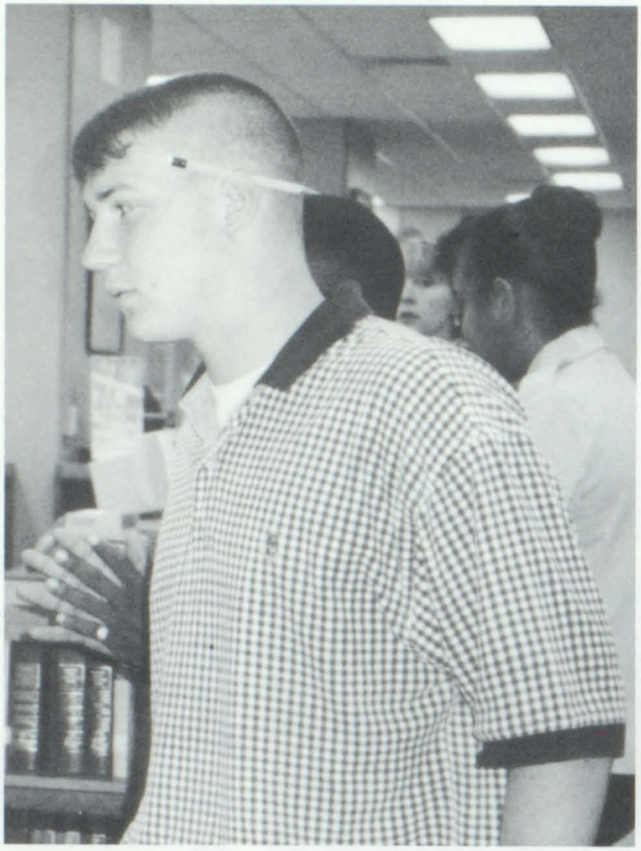
"ARE YOU LISTENING TO ME?" Junior Chance Barkley stares glumly while waiting at the computer in the library. When asked if shy or not, Barkley replied,"I aint shy, I have no reason."

BACK TO CLASS. Sophomore Travis Murray strolls back to his sixth hour, Mrs. Blake. It depends on who I'm with," Murray replied when asked if he was shy. "Sometimes I am, sometimes I'm not," he exclaimed.



Shy, Quiet or Scared...
You Know the Feeling

As the teacher called him to the front of the front of the class his heart rate increased, the classroom got a little hotter, and his face turned a deep red. What are these all characteristics of? Shyness, bashfulness, or just being afraid. It's all the same.

Believe it or not everyone gets shy at sometime. Shyness does not last 24 hours a day. Some, like Senior Michelle Williams, say they are shy. "Sometimes I feel uncomfortable around people." Others, like Senior Ryan Pace, said "it depends on the situation."

Now what exactly is a shy person? Well, according to Senior Paul Touchtone it's "somebody who sits in a corner at a party and doesn't talk to anybody." Senior Taro Digney said it's,"somebody who sticks their head in the ground." Sophomore Audrey Allen said it's,"a guy who wants to talk to you but is afraid to say anything."

Shyness is a problem we all have to face at one time or another. Whether it's meeting a guy or girl, presenting a project to the class or simply saying "hello", shyness can be a definite problem for many. Just take a deep breath and picture the audience naked. That's the easiest way to overcome the embarassing problem of shyness.

-Nick Pumilio

ROUGH DAY? Senior Christie Pyle catches up on homework in the library. Pyle says,"I'm not shy because I don't care what people think." Pyle says she would rather be sociable than quiet.

What's Your Excuse?

Reasons Students Give For Breaking The Law

Why is everybody in such a hurry? That seems to be the question local law enforcement is asking.

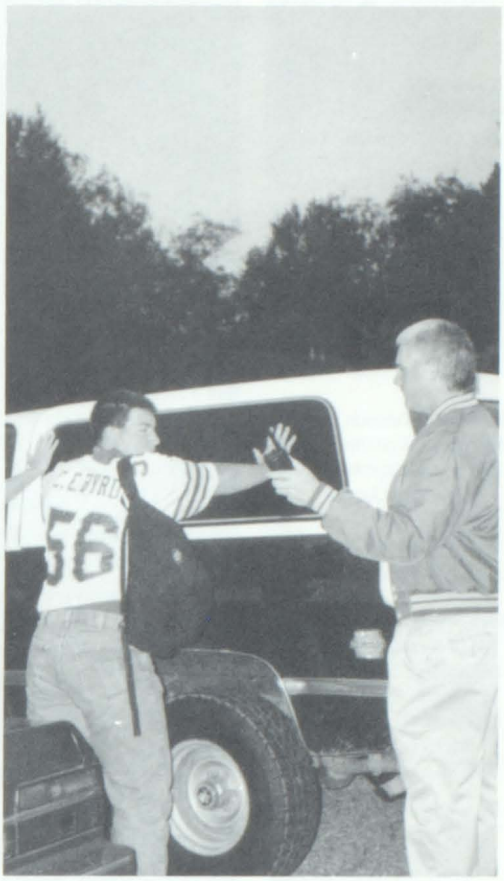
"I was caught speeding and I told the cop I didn't see the speed limit sign," comments senior Kizzy Burton of her ticket.

Teacher Roy Keene recalls, " I was caught speeding once when I was fifteen and I told the police I had a curfew and if I was late I would be grounded. He gave me a ticket anyway."

Sophomores Jon Blewett and Braden Robinson tell," We were pulled over for trying to start a fight and drinking. We told them we weren't drinking or fighting and they let us go after a search."

So students, when you are out there driving, obey the driving laws.

- Hunter Winterton



FREEZE! Coach Howell questions seniors Davidson O'Donnell and Cole Sullivan as to why they did not get out of the car. "The teachers don't give me enough time to rock in the parking lot because I can't go through a full day without getting hyped first," comments Sullivan.

Scantron Tests Drive Students Crazy

"Use a No. 2 pencil, fill in your name, date, and class period. If you have to erase, do so completly. Mark only one answer." Scantrons - a nightmare for students, but a blessing for teachers.

According to Freshman Jennifer Berry, teachers use scantrons "because they are lazy and don't have to grade them."

Looking for help from others while taking a scantron test is very difficult, as Junior Timmy Godwin points out. "They make it hard to cheat and you lose your spot (on the test)," Godwin said.

Some lucky students do not have to worry about taking scantron tests. Mrs. Cox, an English III teacher, feels that students need "thought provoking questions," and as a result she does not give scantron tests.

- Regina Cragar

TEST TIME! No one has ever accused Ms. Whitehead of giving an easy test. Even the scantron machine thought it was hard, so it ate it. " I give scantron tests to prepare you for standardized testing," said Whitehead.

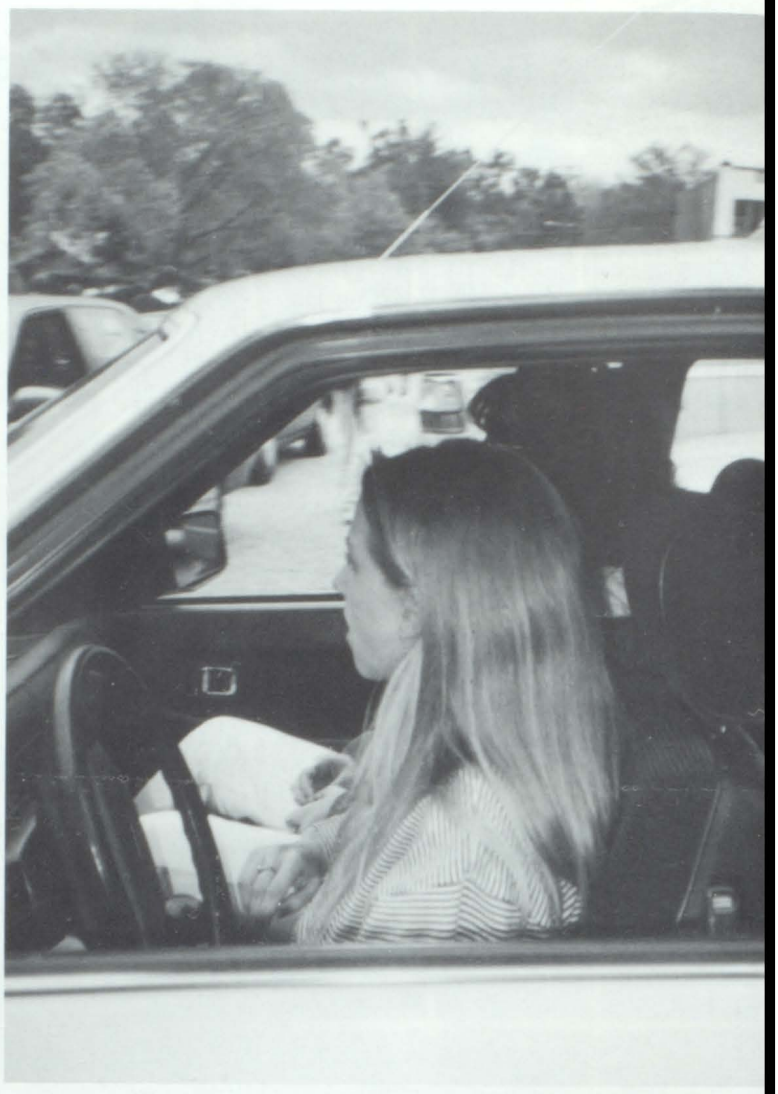
TABLE COLORING FRIENDS.If it is cool to be drunk,then these students must always look cool. "Even though I may look and act drunk,I do not ever drink,"said Sophomore Maren Zebot.

DRIVING MISS DAISY. Senior Sandy Marshall spent her senior year driving drunks around town in order to help the community save lives. "I don't need to drink. Driving gives me a natural high," said Marshall.



Give Me Your Keys

Friends Prevent Friends From Driving Drunk

Underage drinkers are all too often driving drunk. It is a good thing though that there are friends who volunteer to drive sober for the night. Driving drunk can can cause serious damage and it is nice to know there are more than a few responsible drivers out there.

Some students think before they drink. "My friends pre-plan so the people getting drunk are not going to drive. We don't really drink to the point of getting drunk; just to get in the mood," said Senior Jada Long.

For some of our younger students driving drunk does not even cross their mind. "I do not gave to worry about driving drunk because I do not even have my liscence," said Freshman Micah Frisch.

- Jeremy Neblett

Breaking The Chain
I Can Quit Anytime

Tobacco was introduced in the Colonial Period by John Rolfe. Today many American teens smoke. Rolfe's cash crop has had a great impact on the teenage group.

Some smokers are influenced to smoke because friends or family around them light up daily. "From watching my parents smoke, it influenced me to smoke," said Junior Cade Childers.

Everyone has something to say about smokers, because everyone happens to know someone who smokes. "I feel that smokers jeopardize their health," said Senior Shane Cates. " I think that people smoke just to give them something to do," said Senior Ramon Kincade.

Many have the same idea about the health risks, "Smoking is bad for your health, but it is your own decesion," said Junior Catherine Cooke.

Not only does smoking cause bad health, but people also sterotype the way you do things. "I think that some smokers kiss poorly, but Hey! get a breath mint," said Childers.

The idea of smoking tobacco is for adults, but the age spectrum is a little wider. Smoking has influenced many teens to smoke, even though there are laws against it they still manage to light up.

- Randy Patton

WHO SAID YOU HAVE TO BE 18 YEARS OLD " I never had anyone refuse to sell me cigarettes," said Senior Jennifer Anne Gardner,"buying cigarettes is not the problem, most buisnesses don't care about your age they just want your buisness."

Is Anyone Perfect

Breaking the Bad Habits

We all have bad habits that annoy other people. Sometimes we realize it,but unconsciously we still do them. Most are easily controllable but if we would only think before we do them, life would be so much easier.

For example ,driving too fast. Junior Kyle Stephenson says the reason driving too fast has become his main habit is because "Iam always late for something."

Another bad habit some people have is continually shaking their leg while sitting and listening to a lecture. Junior Nichol Rolle shakes her leg because she's bored and doesn't have anything else to do. "People put their hand on my leg to get me to stop shaking," said Rolle.

In order to be well-liked it would be necessary to "break the habit."

- Melissa Wichmann

URRRR! Junior Natalie Wooley bites her nails when she is nervous. "I have used nail bitter to stop me from bitting them but it's a natural habit," said Wooley.

SOPHO-MORES! Katrice Robinson says sophomores have the most. "My class has the most spirit, because we're just the best."

SEN-IORS! Senior Jack Chaney knows the senior class has the most spirit. "We've got more, because we've all been together for four years, so we can appreciate each other."

We've Got More...

What Class Rules the School?

"We've got more! We've got more!" For many the favorite part of our pep rallies is the famous class rivalry chant. But the question still remains, which class has the most spirit?

"The freshmen have the most spirit, because we're young and energetic," Freshman Chuck Prim declared.

"Sophomores have the most class spirit, because we're glad we're not freshmen anymore!" Sophomore Bridget Johnston claimed.

"Juniors have the most spirit, because the majority of us are involved in school related organizations," explained Junior Alvina Fuller.

But the seniors have a different opinion of who really has the most spirit. Senior Kyle Payne stated, "The seniors have the most spirit, 'cause we're from the old school!"

No matter if you think the freshman have the most spirit, or the seniors, just remember to enjoy whatever class you may be in!

- Veneitia Murray

JUN-IORS! Junior Greg Little claims the juniors have the most class spirit. "We've got more, because we'll be seniors next year."

Shh... Have You Heard the News?

Have you heard something, believed it, and before you could see if it was true someone else was talking about it? Rumors! They happen many times throughout a day of school. Some students think rumors are not necessary but then there are those that think otherwise.

"Rumors are neat, how else are you to find stuff out?" says Laura Laird, sophomore.

But what happens when there is a rumor about you? Do you go and sulk or don't worry about it?

"I don't worry, I just pray about those who started it!" explains Senior Toni Fleming.

In all cases the rumors have had to have started somewhere and spread by someone.

"I start rumors becase it's fun, I even spread them because I like to see peoples initial reactions." states Freshman James Taylor.

- Melissa Johnson

WHO DID WHAT? When the story is not complete in class people go to different places to hear the rest . "One easy place for me to hear the end of a story is at lunch." says Britney Chance, sophomore.

Forever and A Day

What Would You Do for a Friend?

What would you do for a friend? Byrd students had different ways they would help out their friends.

"I would give him money or take up for him," said Senior Chris Alexander.

Junior Jeffrey Baker said, "I'd do what it takes to help him out and be there for him."

Most students would be there for their friends when they had problems. Freshman Anne Winterton said, "I'd help them through the problems they might have."

Senior Sutton Miley agreed. "I'd be there for them when they needed me."

Friends are great to have, but you must be a friend in order to have one.

-Hunter Winterton

LOOK OUT! Senior Arthur Reynolds talks with Senior Sutton Miley about his glasses. "I would buy him some new glasses if he needed them," said Reynolds.

T.V WITHOUT A REMOTE....NOT!.Junior, Erica Lacour said,"Playing with my remote is no joke!"

TV mania

Change the Channel One More Time

Where is the best place to do home-work ? In front of the television of course. From the Power Rangers to Models Inc. the T.V gets no rest.

"I'm considered a couch potato because I watch 5 to 6 hours of T.V. each day," said Sophomore Louvert Lattin.

Freshman Arnaz Battle said,"I would love to star in a T.V. show with Halle Berry and be her leading love."

Freshman Yvonne Richardson said," My favorite show is Saved By The Bell. I watch it over and over again just to see Zach."

Most people agree that T.V. is one of the important things in a teen's life.

"I would die if I could not watch Fresh Prince Of Bel Air,"Junior Terollis Bell said.

Out of Sight Out of Mind
Leaving It All Behind

Are you looking forward to that glorious moment after school where you can just sit back,relax,and enjoy the ride? Senior Chris Rogers said, "I like to listen to and produce music to take my mind off of all the hard work."

Some students try not to think about school even while they are still there. "I go to softball practice almost everyday to relieve some of the stress that is built up in me," said Julie Mook, a sophomore.

On the other hand, eating seems to be more of a pleasure to some than others. Jeff Fuller, a junior, said, "I go to McDonald's and pig out and talk about everything but school."

There is nothing that would not be more enjoyable than to take an extensive vacation in the Bahamas; but then again, it is nice to dream!

- Tarsha Jones

RING,RING,RING...After school is out, the least thing that is on the minds of teenagers is homework. Jason Mackenzie, a junior, states,"We go to McDonald's and talk about anything but school!"

DID SOMEONE SAY, 2:15 ?At last ,the weekend is here and hopefully everyone has something to do to keep their minds off of the big four-story brick building filled with students."Usually on weekends, I go out with all of my friends and just hang out, explained Melissa Templin, a junior.

ADMINISTRATION

NOW, WHOSE CLASS ARE YOU COMING FROM? "The best part of my job is the time I spend with the students. The worst is being locked up in my office," said Principal Lynne Fitzgerald.

ALL WORK & NO PLAY... English teachers Mrs. Gillis-Worthen and Mrs. Lamkin take over the Purple & Gold Room to complete the Blue Ribbon project. "All the hard work will certainly pay off if Byrd wins," said Mrs. Lamkin.

The Cream of the Crop

Striving for the Blue Ribbon Award

For hours Mrs. Michelle Lamkin and Mrs. Sherry Gillis-Worthen, as part of a writing committee, worked to prepare a 28-page document for the Blue Ribbon School Award. Others who equalled their time included Principal Lynne Fitzgerald, Colonel John Mitchell, Assistant Principals Shirley Rhodes and Jacque Treese, and Activities Coordinator Lynda Rowland.

This award gives national recognition to the schools that have the most excellent effective programs.

"Twice before we've been recognized at the state level and we think we have a better program today," said Fitzgerald.

According to Lamkin, Byrd has a good chance of winning. "I have no doubt that Byrd is one of the top schools in the state," she said.

"Byrd's massive community connection with a huge alumni association is also a noteworthy factor," added Gillis-Worthen.

The selection process is a lengthy one. "Finalists get a site visit before the winners are announced," said Gillis-Worthen.

"Regardless of the outcome, compiling the report has helped me become more aware of all of the wonderful programs that Byrd offers," said Lamkin.

Byrd's winning the award depends on how well all of its programs wereperceived.

"The key is how well you present what you do. We feel we have an outstanding program. It will depend on whether we communicated that to the committee," said Fitzgerald.

What a Feeling
Counselors Leave Their Mark

ARE THEY AT WORK DISCUSSING STUDENTS? Assistant Principal of Discipline Mark Allen, Deputy David Austin, and Coach Cap Haney appear to be discussing students but actually are making weekend plans."I enjoy my job because I'm able to have a positive influence on a larger number of kids," says Allen.

COUNSELORS

DO THEY ALWAYS SIT BEHIND A DESK? NOT THE NEW KID ON THE BLOCK. Mrs. McLallen begins to make her mark. "Helping a student further his/her education makes counseling worthwhile," she said.

WHERE'S HE GOING NOW? Administrative Assistant Robert Crosby is always running errands or calming someone down. "You know I have no idea what my favorite part of my job is."

So, who's the new kid on the block? Everyone is asking who the new counselor is this year. When students meet her they take to her quickly. "I am excited to be part of Byrd's staff so I can get to know the students and hopefully make a difference in their lives," says Karen McLallen.

Making a difference in student's attitudes is a regular part of Counselor Glenda Johnston's life. "The most amazing part of my job is when I get a random hug or thank-you from a student whom I've helped," says Johnston.

There are many ways in which counselors assist students. Counselor Marsha Dunn focuses mainly on the academic side of students. "Having students accepted into prestigious schools and go on to do well is the best part of counseling," says Dunn.

Teachers Head Back to School

Students are not alone in having "The Get Out Of School Blues." Teachers in graduate school have it also.

Mrs. Bryant is one teacher attending Centenary College and studying Curriculum Design. "The classes I am taking will hopefully prepare me for a career in Educational Administration and Supervision. I want to be a principal when I grow up," said Bryant.

There is also a syndrome called "The Going Back To School Blues," and Ms Beard has it. "I don't want to go back to writing term papers. They grow old," said Beard.

Mrs. Cobb will start school again next year to obtain her +30, and she doesn't mind that much, right now. "Hey, at least I will not have to live in a dorm room and I can determine my own schedule," said Cobb.

Teachers somehow or another usually end up surprising people. They can remember who threw the paper ball last week, who needs to make-up a test or what time lunch begins. Over the years the same phrases or rhymes that students learn to remember something, may have been around for awhile.

"The same Spanish song that I teach my students to remember their vowels in Spanish was the same one I learned when I was in school," explained Mrs. Paulson.

Not all flashbacks are from teaching songs, but some are from the way students act.

"I remember how everybody at school dressed the same, and how I see students dress many different ways now," Mr. Peacock said because of the cultural differenc in schools now.

Some of the memories teachers remember can last a lifetime.

"Many of my students talk and write notes and I hate it, but that is exactly what I did," laughs Mrs. Reynaud.

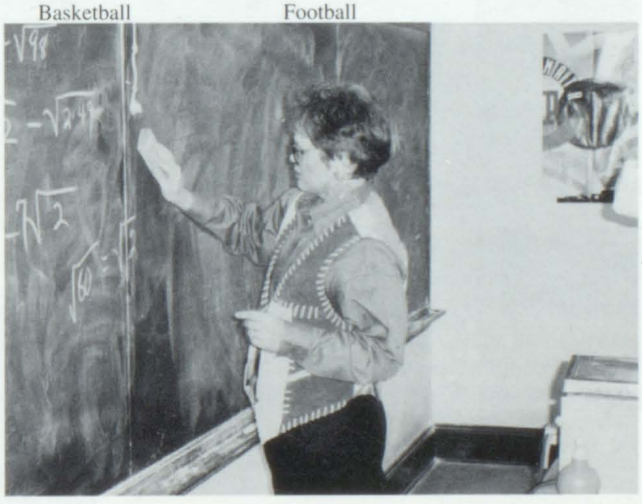
MAKING MATH COUNT!
Some teachers make learning fun. One of the famous sayings from Mrs. Grimm is "Always remember fractions are our friends, and that successful people don't bite their fingernails."



Adding More to '94

New Science Building Under Construction

As the student body grows, more space is required to hold the increasing population. The new building will cost $1.6 million, have two-stories, and contain 20 classrooms, eight of which will be science laboratories. "This will give every student a chance to have science in a real lab room which will increase the lab experience," Dr. Bazer comments. This building will provide new learning facilities, such as a team teaching room and a computer lab.

"It gives a big school like Byrd more room to walk around," said Freshman Gecory Bates.

Many different things are special to people in many ways. Byrd is a school that holds a special place in many people's hearts.

Some people have a favorite thing they like about Byrd.

"My favorite thing about Byrd is the rich heritage of the school," said Peggy Hamiter.

"The support of the faculty and their friendliness is my favorite thing about Byrd," said Tina Jett.

Byrd has grown enormously through the years.

"This school is special to me because I love to see the different changes from 1968 until now," said Thressa French.

Byrd is special for many different reasons and it will never be forgotten.

IN THE YEAR 1927... Elizabeth Lieber Fox, is the only lady inducted in the Hall of Fame. She stands before students with her granddaughter and tells about how special Byrd was to her.

Welcome to the Hall of Fame

Past Students & Teachers' Memories Still Linger

Another year has passed. There are six new inductees which brings the total from 45 to 51 outstanding students, teachers and past administrators. They were honored at an assembly and luncheon on Homecoming - October 21,1994.

Our first inductee is Elizabeth Lieber Fox, Class of 1927. She has received international recognition for her 40 years of research on Marfan Syndrome, disease that causes skeletal deformities. Her work is a tribute to her only daughter, who died of this disease. Fox graduated as an honor student at the age of 15, and was the only lady inducted into the Hall of Fame this year.

Our second inductee is Dr. Whitney Boggs Jr., Class of 1944. He is one of the top colon and rectal surgeons internationally. He served as Clinical Associate Professor in Surgery at LSU Medical Center and was Director of the Residency Program at Schumpert in his specialty.

Our third inductee is Ed "Pete" Harbuck, Class of 1952. He has made Shreveport a better place to live and raise a family. "Pete" as he was known in high school, was a leader at Byrd, serving as a Student Council, Senior Class officer, an ROTC officer, and he lettered in both baseball and basketball.

Our fourth inductee is Merle Kilgore, Class of 1952. He made a name for himself in the Country and Western Music field as a writer, performer, and manger of the legendary Hank Williams, Jr. He has also appeared in movies. Last year he was inducted into the Louisiana Song Writers Hall of Fame.

Our fifth inductee is Jack Schuster, Ph.D, Class of 1955. He is best known as an educator's educator. He was President of the Red Cross, a Boy's State Delegate, a captain in ROTC, a member of the Boys Debate Team, a member of National Honor Society and in the Upper Latin Forum at Byrd.

And last, but not least, is Coach Woodrow Turner. He coached 13 consecutive state championship track teams.The track team won 16 district championships, and 15 championships in his 16 years of coaching. He organized the first cross country meet in Louisiana and went undefeated during his six years as coach.

"The Heart of Byrd is what makes it so speacial," said the Hall of Fame inductee of 1988 Mr. Charles Ravenna.

IT'S US NOW... The six new inductees wait anxiously to be introduced to share their fondest memories about Byrd with the student body. "These are individuals who have distinguished themselves through community service or professional recognition," Principal Lynne Fitzgerald.

ARE YOU READY TO PARTY? "Are You Ready For Some Football?" is the Monday Night Football song performed by Hank Williams, Jr. who Merle Kilgore manages in Nashville. "I was very pleased by Mr. Kilgore's presentation," attendance secretary Jeneane Gordon said. "He rocked the house down with 'Ring of Fire.'"

I'M STROKIN'... At the Hall of Fame luncheon Senior Ryan Cush thinks, "I'd better copy Mrs. Grimm.... she knows what to do at these important occasions."

Reality Check

1. Yearbooks are free!
2. Byrd buys new elevators.
3. The new building out back is a 5 story deluxe parking garage.
4. Students can buy a new car for 100 Byrd Bucks.
5. Who said all babies are cute?

1. You already bought it,dummy!
2. They would be like the stairs and only go one way.
3. It would only be more classrooms!
4. Who's gonna get 100 Byrd Bucks when you only get 1 a week?
5. Just look in the index.

MOM AND DAD

DEAR JULIE,

IF ONLY YOU COULD KNOW HOW WONDERFUL IT IS TO HAVE A DAUGHTER LIKE YOU. IT'S ALWAYS MEANT SO MUCH TO ME TO SEE YOUR SMILE, TO LISTEN TO YOUR IDEAS, TO WATCH YOU GROW AND LEARN AND BECOME YOUR OWN PERSON.

IF ONLY YOU COULD REALIZE HOW MANY TIMES I'VE BEEN PROUD TO SAY "THAT'S MY BABY...."

CONGRATULATIONS!!!

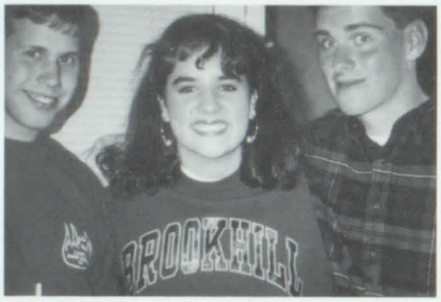
THANKS TO ALL THE SPECIAL PEOPLE IN MY LIFE!
LOVE YA',
KAREN ANN



The journey will end soon and we will take our seats at the feast ... forever.
See you at the table!
... and let us not get tired of doing what is right, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest; if we do not give up. Galatians 6:9
We love ya'll -
Hannah, Barbara & Allison

Christi, Now that you have finished the first part of education, continue on, for education is the key to success. So when times get hard, just remember this poem:

Don't Quit

When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit -
Rest, if you must, but don't you quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As everyone of us sometimes learns,
And many a person turns about
When they might have won, had they stuck it out.
Don't give up though the pace seems slow -
You might succeed with another blow.

Often the struggler has given up
When he might have captured the victor's cup;
And he learned too late when the night came down
How close he was to the golden crown.

Success is failure turned inside out-
It's pressing on past fear and doubt-
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit;
It's when things seem the worst that you mustn't quit!

Good Luck! Love Daddy

Congratulations
Jessica!
WE LOVE YOU.

Why God Made Little Boys

God made a world out of His dreams,
Of magic mountains, oceans and streams,
Prairies and plains and wooded land,
Then paused and thought, "I need someone to stand
On top of the mountains, to conquer the seas,
Explore the plains and climb the trees,
Someone to start out small and grow,
Sturdy, strong like a tree and so,
He created boys, full of spirit and fun,
To explore and conquer, to romp and run,
With dirty faces, bumped up shins,
With courageous hearts and boyish grins."
When He had completed the task He'd begun,
He said, "That's [illegible]"

Oversleeping will never make dreams come true

If you can imagine it,
you can achieve it.
If you can dream it,
you can become it.

If it is to be,
it is up to me

Some Books Have all the Answers.

Of course, these answers may not help you ace your next Algebra test or boost your ACT scores 10 points. They will, however, provide you with lasting solutions to life's problems–long after you've forgotten what an isosceles triangle looks like!

So what book are we talking about? No, it's not your Chemistry book–as much fun as that is. We're talking about the Bible. Read it. It can help you sort out a confusing world. And why not join us? We'll be studying it this Sunday.

KATIE McINTYRE,

THROUGH ALL THE GOOD AND BAD TIMES AND THROUGH ALL OF THE GUYS AND THE TROUBLE, WE HAVE TURNED OUT THE BEST OF FRIENDS. THANKFULLY THE GOOD TIMES OVERCAME THE BAD TIMES. SO FAR, WE'VE GONE THROUGH COWS, SALAMANDERS, MACARONI & CHEESE, C-DAWG, PAPERTOWELS, AND MANY MORE. I CAN'T TELL YOU HOW GREAT IT HAS BEEN HAVING YOU AS MY BEST FRIEND. AND CANDICE, I WISH YOU THE BEST OF TIMES AND MEMORIES WE ALL HAD AND THE ONES TO COME.

LOVE, "BERT" A.C.

KIZZY LYNN,
WELL, IT'S YOUR SR. YEAR! OUR LAST YEAR IN "LITTLE FOLKS" SCHOOL TOGETHER. I'M SO SAD. BUT, TIME WAITS FOR NO ONE. WE WILL BE BEST FRIENDS FOREVER. HAVE FUN IN BATON ROUGE AT SOUTHERN U! WELL, HERE ARE A FEW THINGS I WANT YOU TO TAKE W/ YOU:
CMM!
-THE MEMORIES, THE SCHEMES!
WE MET UNCOMMONLY BUT BECAME BEST FRIENDS DON'T FORGET THAT!
-GYM 1ST HOUR
-MINDEN! BOOOYYY!
-DONNIE, CHRIS, & THE REST OF 'EM!
BYRD!
-THE MEMORIES WE'VE MADE, CHERISH THEM DEEP IN OUR HEARTS!
-BILLY & K.P., THE FIRST TIME WE "LEFT" & WE DIDN'T TELL "THEM"! DARIUS & HIS DADDY! THAT WAS FUN!
-WHATABURGER ON JEWELLA AT "THE POLE"! THAT'S WHAT WE GET!
-THE DISAGREEMENTS. LET'S GROW FROM THEM
-SPENDING THE NIGHT FOR 2-3 WEEKS
-BAYOU CLASSIC! COULDN'T FIND KERRI & GARY!
CAMP:
90' OUR FIRST YEAR. WE DIDN'T GO TO-GETHER, BUT I LEAVE THE "BIG BUS"!
91' FIRST YEAR TOGTHER-
GARY, KERRI, O.J., TEQUILLA, TONY, TENNILLE, PAT ZAVIER. YOU REMEMBER!
92'MET KENYATT, JESSE, O.J.!
LELENKA FELL IN FRONT OF T.T. ALLAIN!
93'MET EPHRAM - JAVIS WAS A BUGABOO!
94' "TROUBLE IN PARADISE" - EPHRAM, PATRINA, BRANDY, PAT - INSTIGATING; TRELL-TIGHT JEANS, O.J. WAS ACTUALLY COOL!
ME & KERRI, THE MEMORIES.
KJ:
KERRI & JONATHAN
WE'VE BEEN THROUGH THE STORMW/ THEM! BUT, WE MADE IT. WE'VE GROWN WITH THEM. FROM MIDDLE MAGNET TO BYRD, TO ....
NEVER GIVE UP ON HIM. LOVE WILL CON-QUER ALL. I'LL KEEP XAVIER, ONLY IF YOU KEEP TULANE. DEAL? THE MOST VIVID MEMO-RIES W/ US HAVE BEEN W/ THEM. LOVE THEM 4-EVER. WHAT MORE TO SAY?

BEST FRIENDS 4-EVER

You were named Julie Christine Gilley which means "youthful spirit in Christ". Always remember that. I knew you were extraordinary the first time I saw you, you put both fists in your mouth at the same time, raised your head and rolled over. You chose me to raise you alone and we made it through braces, bras, boys, tickets, rolled trucks, ski trips, bad times and better times.

Always remember you are loved.

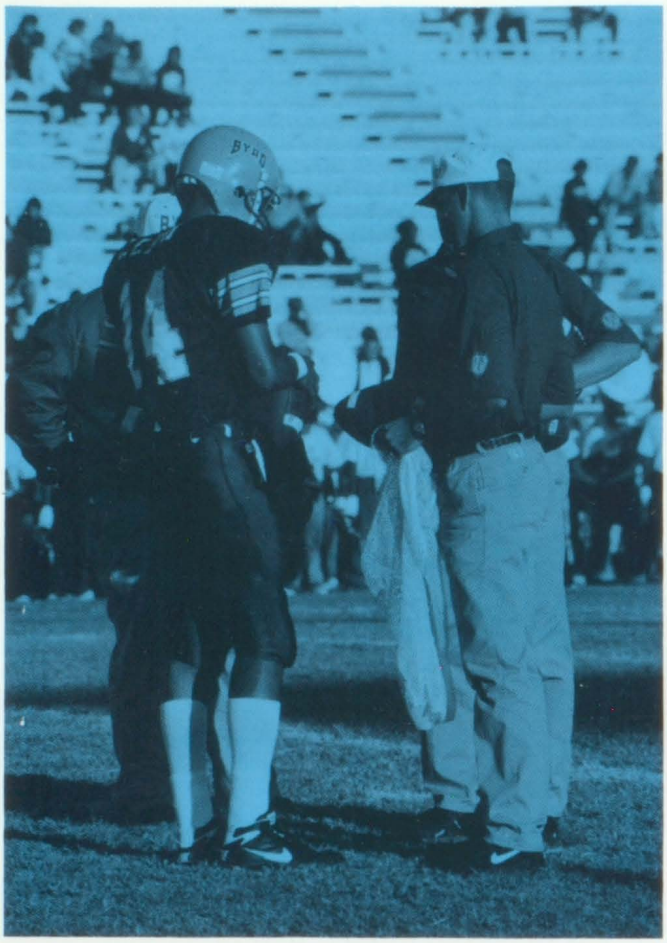
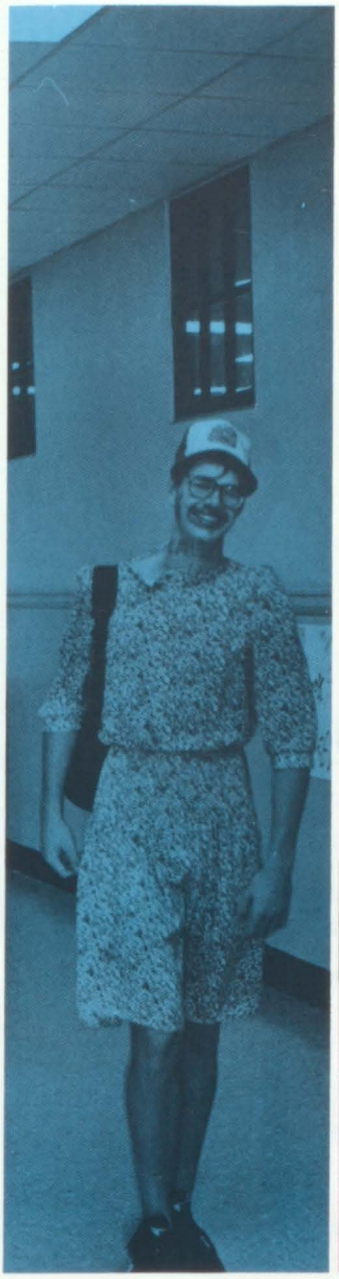
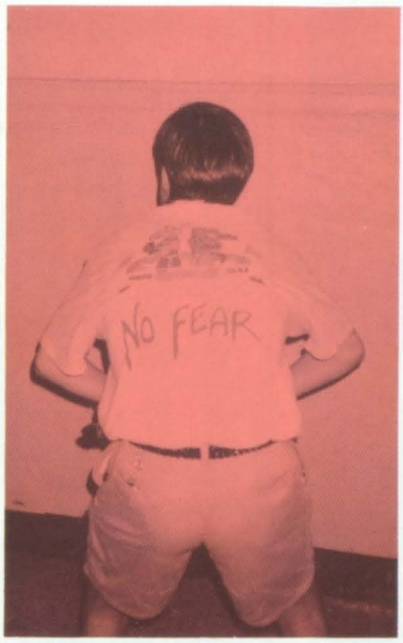
Well...



The End





At the end of the year, Freshmen were a little less lost and a lot less scared, had realized that the Learning Center wasn't really on the fourth floor, and were looking forward to next year, glad to not be Freshmen anymore. The Sophomores had realized that this year had not been much of a step up from being Freshmen, but were looking forward to next year--except for those taking AP American History. Most of the Juniors made it through the year, at least up to Ring Ceremony, when they were finally declared Seniors and could look straight to graduation. After mounds of college applications and annoying Army recruiters, Seniors managed to wing it until graduation (at least those who made it back from Senior trip). For everybody, IT'S BEEN REAL!

Erica-A deeper voice
Kennie-Don't be so bitter; the sun will come out tomorrow!
Regina Cascio-An interesting spread for next year (and no R.O.T.C.)
Regina Cragar-Lasso for Randy
Lindsay-Screen savers
Melissa J.-Pizza soup
Shalane-A golf cart to run errands for Curt
Bridget-Tissues for dealing with Curt
Heather-Your own personal Yellow Pages
Joanna-Another day off
Kelly-A gag book (with pop-ups)
Amanda-A bull-horn
Veneitia-A hall pass to Mr.Moreland's class
Jeremy-Water skiis
Randy-An equestrian saddle and a bit
Nick-A portable phone to call your people on Paul-A Shreddi nookie ball
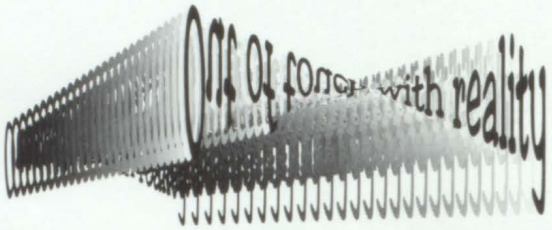
Ginger-Some credit
Craig-A car
Haley-Platform shoes
Lang-Danceline trading cards, Superman Underoos
Melissa W.- A tan line
Allison-Odie slippers and attendance records
Hunter-Water balloons
Candice-You tell us.
Ryan-Some gel for your hair



M: So how many times have you wanted to kill someone this year guys?
C: I stopped counting quite a while ago.
T: Well, I haven't wanted to actually kill anyone yet, just maim them.
C: Well, all in all, it's turned out OK, I guess. At least we still have our health.
M: Not mentally.
T: I think we've done a good job on the yearbook for insane people.
M: And I guess there have been a few good points too.
T: Let's make a Top 10 list of things we'll remember most about Gusher.

10. An exam in yearbook?
9. There's pictures on this layout?
8. Who's got an attitude?
7. The bus has a flat?
6. 3rd deadline-- How do you turn on the computer?
5. These track pictures would be great if the runners had feet.
4. Gee, we sure have a lot of pictures of danceline. Who took these?
3. What does "disk error" mean?
2. We'll fix it on the proofs.
1. "My kids throwing water balloons? Naaah."

Colophon

There were 1100 copies of the 81st edition of the Gusher printed this year at Josten's Publishing Company in Topeka, Kansas. The cover is 517 basin street blue and the quarterbinding is 492 forest green with 1202 krinkle and was designed by Misty Leon and Curtis Oden. The endsheets are smoke gray and were designed by Leon. The paper used is eighty pound glossy enamel with 412 pages. Colortone colors CT-1-10 and spot colors T-347 kelly green were used in Student Life, and spot colors T-199 red and T-287 blue were used in Seniors. The entire yearbook was done on computer. The Opening, Title, Division, and Closing pages were designed by Leon and Oden. The Student Life section was designed by Oden. The Sports section was designed by Leon. Jeremy Neblett designed the Organizations section. Seniors were designed by Leon and People and Faculty sections were designed by Tarsha Jones and Randy Patton. Ads were designed by Lindsay Green; Regina Cragar designed the Index. Veneitia Murray and Lang Wardlaw designed the Sports and Seniors artwork. The dust jacket was designed by Ginger Sanders.

This yearbook would not have been possible without Don Leonard, our inplant consultant, David Baker, our Josten's representative and especially our sponsor, Chelsea Haynes.
